PRESEASON NOTEBOOK

EARNING NOTICE IN PRESEASON POLLS

- In early preseason polls, Tennessee is No. 15 by AP, No. 16 by College Sports Madness and No. 19 by Lindy's Sports Preseason Top 25.
- The Lady Vols were picked second in the SEC Preseason Media Poll and No. 3 in the SEC Preseason Coaches Poll, marking their best positions since 2015-16 and 2016-17, respectively.

SIX RETURNEES WITH STARTING EXPERIENCE

- Tennessee returns six players with starting experience from a year ago, including three who were in the starting lineup at season's end on a squad that finished 17-8 overall and 9-4 in SEC play with a third-place league finish and NCAA Second Round appearance.
- Rae Burrell, a 6-foot-1 senior (16.8 ppg., 4.6 rpg.), was the only Lady Vol last year to start all 25 games.
- Burrell is joined by fellow returning starters in Tamari Key, a 6-6 junior center (8.9 ppg., 5.6 rpg., 2.9 bpg.), and Jordan Walker, a 5-8 graduate point guard (5.4 ppg., 4.5 rpg., 2.3 apg.). Key and Walker started 21 and 13 games, respectively.
- Marta Suárez, a 6-2 sophomore guard/forward (4.1 ppg., 3.6 rpg., 16 mpg.), started 14 games as a rookie. She was averaging 6.4 ppg., 5.6 rpg. and 21.8 mpg. through 13 starts before a lower leg injury limited her ability to practice and play and, ultimately, ended her season early.
- Jordan Horston, a 6-2 junior guard (8.6 ppg., 4.2 apg., 3.9 rpg.) carded 13 starts a year ago and has 35 total under her belt after appearing at the jump circle 22 times as a rookie in 2019-20.
- Keyen Green, a 6-1 graduate forward/center (6.8 ppg., 3.0 rpg.) started the first four games as a graduate transfer from Liberty a year ago before suffering a season-ending injury. She has 95 total career starts.

A NEWCOMER WITH 41 CAREER DI STARTS

- UT also welcomes a top-drawer graduate transfer and awards candidate in 2021 Sun Belt Conference Player of the Year Alexus Dye (16.6 ppg., 12.6 rpg.), a 41-game starter over the past two seasons at Troy.
- Dye started all 28 games for the Trojans and led the NCAA in double-doubles (23) and total rebounds (352) in 2020-21. The extremely-active 6-0 forward averaged 23 points and 11 rebounds in games vs. SEC teams Texas A&M and Mississippi State last season.

SIX OF TOP EIGHT CONTRIBUTORS RETURN

- Tennessee returns six of its top eight scorers and rebounders from last season.
- The Lady Vols welcome back the No. 2 (Burrell/16.8), No. 3 (Key/8.9), No. 4 (Horston/8.6), No. 5 (Green/6.8), No. 7 (Walker/5.4) and No. 8 (Suárez/4.1) scorers by average.
- They also welcome back the No. 3 (Key/5.6), No. 4 (Burrell/4.6), No. 5 (Walker/4.5), No. 6 (Horston/3.9), No. 7 (Suárez/3.6) and No. 8 (Green/3.0) rebounders by average.
- A total of 1,155 of 1,797 points (64.3%) and 592 of 1,139 rebounds (52.0%) return from 2020-21.
- Also, UT returns 115 of 137 blocks (83.9%), 84 of 112 three-pointers (75%), 253 of 366 assists (69.1%), 113 of 165 steals (68.4%), 187 of 293 free throws (63.8%) and 442 of 696 field goals (63.5%).

FOUR AWARD WINNERS ARE BACK

- Tennessee has four players on its team who have earned Southeastern Conference honors during their careers.
- Rae Burrell was named All-SEC Second Team in 2020-21, while Tamari Key was selected to the SEC All-Defensive Team and Marta Suárez was chosen for the SEC All-Freshman Team.
- Jordan Horston was picked for the SEC All-Freshman Team two seasons ago in 2019-20.

NINE LETTERWINNERS & 14 PLAYERS STRONG

- All told, Tennessee has nine total letterwinners returning and welcomes five newcomers, providing the Big Orange with its largest roster since 2014-15 (14 players).
- It's also the largest collection of active players featured at Tennessee since having 14 in 2001-02.
- Sophomore guard/forward Tess Darby (2.3 ppg., 0.6 rpg.,

Rae Burrell averaged more points as a college junior (16.8 ppg.) than she did as a senior at Liberty High School in Las Vegas (14.9 ppg.)

8.0 mpg.), junior center Emily Saunders (0.8 ppg., 1.1 rpg., 4.3 mpg.) and junior guard Jessie Rennie (0.7 ppg., 0.7 rpg., 0.7 apg., 8.0 mpg.) round out list of the returnees.

IMPRESSIVE FRESHMAN CLASS

- The freshman class was rated No. 9 overall/No. 2 SEC by ProspectsNation.com and No. 15 overall/No. 3 SEC by espnW.
- It includes 6-2 guard/forward Sara Puckett (Muscle Shoals, Ala./Muscle Shoals H.S.), the Gatorade Player of the Year in Alabama and recipient of WBCA All-America Honorable Mention and Jersey Mike's Naismith High School All-America Honorable Mention honors. She was ranked No. 28 by ProspectsNation.com and No. 43 by espnW.
- Winning Miss Basketball in Alabama over Puckett was Karoline Striplin (Hartford, Ala./Geneva Co. H.S.), a 6-3 forward who earned WBCA All-America Honorable Mention. She was ranked No. 39 by ProspectsNation.com and No. 45 by espnW.
- Kaiya Wynn, a 6-0 guard (Richmond, Texas/Foster H.S.), was the state's 5A Player of the Year in talent-rich Texas in her first season there after moving from Tennessee. She played in the PassThaBall Who's NXT All-American Game and the TABC and VYPE GHAGBA All-Star Games. She was ranked No. 39 by Blue Star, No. 46 by All-Star Girls Report and No. 62 by espnW.
- Brooklynn Miles, a 5-4 point guard (Frankfort, Ky./Franklin Co. H.S.), was Gatorade State Player of the Year and Miss Basketball in Kentucky. She was ranked No. 75 by All-Star Girls Report and No. 89 by ProspectsNation.com.
- All five newcomers spent the entire summer in Knoxville getting up to speed.

LADY VOL STAFF CHANGES

- The coaching staff has two new faces. To go along with returning assistant Jon Harper, Kellie Harper added veteran aides Samantha Williams and Joy McCorvey to her program.
- Williams, who features impressive career stops at DePaul, Duke and Louisville, came to UT after two seasons as head coach at Eastern Kentucky.
- McCorvey, meanwhile, joined UT after serving the past three years at Florida State and also possessing six years' experience at Michigan and another at St. John's. She served in the role of associate head coach a year ago at FSU, underscoring the valuable experience possessed by the new additions to Harper's staff.
- Williams and McCorvey replace Lacey Goldwire and Jennifer Sullivan. Sullivan was named head coach at Florida Atlantic, while Goldwire is back at Arkansas following a two-year stint at UT.
- Basketball support members who are new this season include Bryan Tatum, director of women's basketball sports performance; Liza Fruendt, director of recruiting operations; and Zion Sanders, graduate assistant. Josh Theis, a former G.A., is now director of video and creative content.

PERSONNEL LOSSES FROM A YEAR AGO

- UT lost a pair of starters in 6-2 forward Rennia Davis (17.3 ppg., 8.8 rpg.) and 6-4 forward/center Kasiyahna Kushkituah (6.8 ppg., 6.0 rpg.). Davis was the No. 9 overall pick of the Minnesota Lynx in the WNBA Draft, while Kushkituah played professionally in Brazil.
- Also departing were senior Jaiden McCoy (3.7 ppg., 2.3 rpg., three games) and freshman Destiny Salary (2.0 ppg., 2.4 rpg., 24 games).
- Kushkituah was a reserve center and moved into the starting lineup at the power forward position when Keyen Green, Marta Suárez and Jaiden McCoy all suffered season-ending injuries.

HARPER ATTACKS YEAR THREE AT UT

- Kellie Harper is in her third season at Tennessee and in her 18th year as a head coach, featuring an overall record of 323-226 and a mark of 38-18 during her time in Knoxville.
- Last season, she became one of only two coaches to guide four different Division I women's programs to the NCAA Tournament. She has done so at Western Carolina, NC State, Missouri State and Tennessee.
- Harper has directed her teams to 13 postseason appearances (six NCAA, 7 WNIT) and would have had No. 14 if the 2020 NCAA Tournament hadn't been canceled.
- She has guided UT to back-to-back third-place SEC finishes, defeating four ranked teams in 2020-21, including the highest ranked foe of her career (#2/3 South Carolina). That triumph was UT's biggest since an 82-75 home win over No. 2/4 Texas on Dec. 10, 2017.
- Tennessee finished No. 14 in the AP Poll and No. 16 in the USA TODAY Coaches Poll in 2020-21, suffering their fewest season losses (8) and fewest SEC setbacks since 2014-15. The inclusion in the final AP Poll was UT's first appearance there since the end of the 2017-18 campaign.

THREE FINAL FOUR TEAMS ON SCHEDULE

- Tennessee's schedule, one its most challenging in several years, features 13 games against teams that were ranked or receiving votes in the final 2021 USA TODAY Coaches Poll, including three of the participants in last year's NCAA Final Four.
- Among those squads were Final Four squads No. 1 Stanford, No. 3 UConn and No. 4 South Carolina, as well as No. 10 Texas A&M, No. 13 Georgia, No. 17 Texas, No. 18 USF, No. 21 Kentucky and No. 23 Arkansas.
- Oklahoma State, Ole Miss and Virginia Tech were in the receiving votes category, and another 2021-22 opponent, UCF, was in the receiving votes category but dropped out in the final poll.

TOUGH ON THE BOARDS UNDER HARPER

- Tennessee has been one of the nation's top rebounding teams under Kellie Harper, carding the fourth (44.97) and fifth-best (45.52) averages per game in Lady Vol history in 2019-20 and 2020-21, respectively.
- In NCAA Division I, the Lady Vols ranked No. 5 in rebound margin (12.8) and No. 6 in rebounds per game (45.52) in 2020-21, with both marks standing second among SEC teams.
- In Harper's first season of 2019-20, UT was No. 5 nationally in rebound margin (10.7) and No. 3 in rebounds per game (45.97), with those numbers again stacking up second in the SEC.

UNSUNG HERO'S SONG IS BEING SUNG

- Rae Burrell inked with Tennessee's 2018 signing class and was the only non-McDonald's All-American in the bunch. It turns out she's the only one still at Tennessee from that quartet (Burrell, Mimi Collins, Zaay Green, Jazmine Massengill) and has become the most accomplished.
- Last season as a junior, Burrell averaged 16.8 ppg. and 4.6 rpg., and she earned All-SEC Second Team honors.
- She shot 45.8 percent on field goals, 40.2 on three-pointers and 82.5 percent from the free-throw line, all easily career bests, and went 16 for 16 at the charity stripe in the final four minutes of games.
- Burrell scored in double figures in 22 of 25 games, fired in 15 or more points 17 times and hit 20+ on seven occasions, leading the team in the first two categories and ranking second in the third.
- The senior has 861 career points and is poised to become the 47th player to eclipse 1,000 for the Lady Vols.

KEY MAKING A NAME FOR HERSELF

- In her first two seasons on Rocky Top, Tamari Key has established herself as one of the greatest shot-blockers in program history.
- She also became one of only four Lady Vols all-time to record triple-doubles, tallying career highs of 23 points and 10 blocks while adding a season-best 10 rebounds vs. Florida on Jan. 31, 2021. The other UT players with triple-doubles are Shelia Collins (1985), Shekinna Stricklen (2010) and Jordan Reynolds (2016).
- A year ago as a sophomore, Key rejected 72 shots and averaged 2.88 blocks per game to rank No. 11 nationally in both categories. She stood third and second in the SEC, respectively, in those areas.
- Her total of 72 blocks ranked eighth in Lady Vol history, while her season average ranked second.
- Key's total of 86 and average of 2.774 in 2019-20 tie her for fifth in a season and No. 3 in season average.
- On UT's career lists, her 2.82 average ranks No. 1 at UT, while her total of 158 in two seasons puts her at No. 8 among all Lady Vols.
- UT was No. 2 nationally in blocks per game (6.9) and No. 2 in total blocks (215) in 2019-20 and No. 14 in each in 2020-21 (5.5/137).
- Key's shooting prowess has her at No. 4 in career field goal percentage (59.2) at UT, and her 62.8 effort last season would rank No. 3 all-time by a Lady Vol if she'd taken enough shots to qualify.

HORSTON DISHING WAY INTO RECORD BOOKS

- In her first two seasons at Tennessee, Jordan Horston has dished out 247 assists, averaging 4.41 per contest during her career and ranking No. 4 all-time among Lady Vols.
- A year ago, Horston dropped 104 dimes and averaged 4.16 per contest to tie for the No. 3 average among SEC players. She was the only sophomore or freshman in the top 10.
- Horston was even better in SEC play last season, dropping 4.7 assists per outing and ranking No. 2 in the league. She was the only sophomore or freshman in the top 15 in that category.

Tamari Key's prowess as a shot blocker and paint protector earned her SEC All-Defensive Team honors as a sophomore.

One of the nation's top recruits in the 2019 class, Jordan Horston earned SEC All-Freshman accolades two seasons ago and appears ready to take a big step forward in 2021-22.

- Her assist average last season (4.16) was the sixth best ever by a Lady Vol sophomore, ranking two spots up from her head coach Kellie (Jolly) Harper's second year number of 4.09.
- From her freshman season through her sophomore year, Horston lowered her turnovers per game average from 4.3 to 2.7.

GRADUATE PATCHES FOR THREE LADY VOLS

- Three Lady Vols already possess undergraduate degrees and are working toward advanced degrees. Each player proudly will wear an SEC graduate patch on her uniform this season.
- Alexus Dye earned an associate's degree at Gulf Coast State College in 2019 and a bachelor's in human services with a minor in psychology from Troy in 2021. She will pursue a master's in agricultural leadership, education and communication at Tennessee.
- Keyen Green graduated from Liberty University in May 2019 with a bachelor's degree in business administration. She completed work on a master's in agricultural leadership, education and communications at UT in May 2021 and is working on a Ph.D. in leadership studies.
- Jordan Walker graduated from Western Michigan in 2020 with a bachelor's degree in political science and a minor in communications. She is pursuing a master's degree in business administration (MBA) at UT with a concentration in entrepreneurship and innovation.

NINE LADY VOLS ON 2021 SEC HONOR ROLL

- The women's basketball program saw nine of its 13 players in 2020-21 earn SEC Academic Honor Roll recognition.
- Winter Sports Academic Honor Roll honorees included Rae Burrell, Rennia Davis, Kasiyahna Kushkituah, Jessie Rennie and Emily Saunders.
- Members of the SEC First-Year Academic Honor Roll included Tess Darby, Keyen Green, Marta Suárez and Jordan Walker.

Spouse: Jon Harper Children: Jackson, Kiley

As Kellie (Jolly) Harper embarks on her third season as the head coach at her alma mater, she has accomplished a feat only one other person has achieved.

Already one of just 11 Division I women's basketball head coaches to lead three different schools to the NCAA Tournament, in 2020-21 Harper took another step and joined Jim Foster as the only skippers to guide four different programs into NCAA postseason play.

Harper, who was on track to accomplish that feat in year one at UT before the COVID-19 pandemic forced the cancellation of the 2020 NCAA Tournament, has led Western Carolina, NC State, Missouri State and now Tennessee to NCAA bids. Foster did so at St. Joseph's, Vanderbilt, Ohio State and Chattanooga during a career lasting from 1978 to 2018.

In 17 complete years as a Division I head coach, Harper has led her teams to a 323-226 record and 13 postseason appearances (6 NCAA/7 WNIT) through the 2020-21 campaign. She was in position for another NCAA berth in 2019-20 before the tournament was canceled. All told, she has guided her squads to 13 top-three league finishes and four conference tourney titles along the way.

The 1999 UT graduate and former women's basketball standout did Foster one better by making her fourth NCAA-qualifying team her alma mater. It came when the Lady Vols finished No. 14/16 nationally in 2020-21 and placed third in the SEC for the second straight year, carding a 17-8 overall record and 9-4 mark in league play after being unranked in preseason polls and picked to finish sixth in the SEC. Along the way, the Big Orange women defeated four ranked teams, including Final Four semifinalist No. 2/3 South Carolina, during a season that saw fewer games played due to the impact of the pandemic.

A native of Sparta, Tenn., Harper was a point guard for the legendary Pat Summitt at UT from 1995-99, playing 132 games and piloting the Lady Vols to NCAA National Championships in 1996, 1997 and 1998. She was part of a senior class that helped the Big Orange forge a 131-17 overall record as well as win two SEC regular season titles (1998, 1999) and three SEC Tournament crowns (1996, 1998, 1999).

Year one back at her alma mater began with a valuable summer trip to Europe and victorious exhibition games in The Netherlands, Belgium and France. The 2019-20 season ended suddenly under surreal circumstances, however, as the COVID-19 global health crisis forced the cancellation of the NCAA Tournament. In between those mileposts, though, there were many accomplishments of which to be proud.

First and foremost, a foundation was built, and there was clear improvement despite an inexperienced roster. A Lady Vol team that started two freshmen most of the way and played the majority of the season with only one returning starter from 2018-19 put together a 21-10 record and finished tied for third in the SEC at 10-6 after being picked seventh. Those numbers were up from a 19-13/7-9 (t8th) result prior to Harper's arrival, and the league placement was UT's highest since finishing first in 2014-15. She also mentored her initial two players to SEC recognition, including All-SEC First Team choice Rennia Davis and SEC All-Freshman honoree Jordan Horston. Davis added All-America honorable mention kudos.

Off the court, eight of 12 players earned SEC Academic Honor Roll recognition. During the 2020 spring semester, those team members combined for a program-best 3.48 GPA.

Harper personally enjoyed the finest start of any season in her career at 7-0 and recorded the most victories in her first season at a school with 21. She picked up her 300th overall career win vs. Alabama and surpassed her 500th contest as a head coach along the way. Her squad, meanwhile, finished second nationally in blocked shots per game (6.9), third in rebounds per game (45.97), third in defensive rebounds per game (31.2) and sixth in field goal percentage defense (33.8).

In year two for Harper at Tennessee, the 2020-21 Lady Vols climbed as high as No. 13 in the AP Poll and No. 15 in the USA TODAY Coaches Poll. They also earned a No. 3 seed in the NCAA Tournament, demonstrating progress on their climb back toward Harper's expectations. Senior Rennia Davis (first team) and junior Rae Burrell (second team) earned All-SEC accolades, while sophomore Tamari Key made the SEC All-Defensive Team and Marta Suárez was named to the SEC All-Freshman Team. Davis picked up All-America honorable mention recognition for the third time in her career, won the Senior CLASS Award and was the No. 9 overall pick in the WNBA Draft. UT also had a program-best nine of 13 players make the SEC Academic Honor Roll.

Tennessee's achievements are more impressive considering Harper lost two starters and a reserve, all posts, to injury during the 2020-21 campaign, yet her squad kept finding ways to win against one of the nation's toughest schedules.

Only the third Lady Vol head coach in the NCAA era of women's basketball, Harper took the reins at Tennessee after six years of leading the Missouri State Lady Bears, capped by the 2018-19 season's impressive march to the Missouri Valley Conference Tournament title and magical run to the NCAA Sweet 16.

Harper guided Missouri State to NCAA appearances in 2015-16 and 2018-19 with WNIT berths on three other occasions. At previous schools, she also led North Carolina State to the NCAA Tournament in 2009-10 (plus two WNIT appearances) and guided Western Carolina to NCAA berths in 2004-05 and 2008-09 (plus two trips to the WNIT).

In 26 full seasons as a Division I head coach, assistant coach or player, Harper has made 21 postseason appearances with a combined 571-279 record, 14 NCAA Tournament appearances and seven WNIT bids.

She recorded a 118-79 won-lost record at Missouri State, claiming Missouri Valley Conference Tournament crowns in 2016 and 2019 and notching regular-season runner-up finishes in 2015-16, 2017-18 and 2018-19. After her first team at MSU finished 14-17/6-12 MVC (t6th), she never placed lower than third in the league standings or missed the postseason. Three of her last four editions there surpassed the 20-win plateau, including the 2015-16 squad that forged MSU's first NCAA appearance in a decade.

The 2018-19 MSU squad improved measurably as the season progressed, resiliently overcoming a 1-7 start to post the program's best overall record (25-10) since 2004-05 and its top league mark (16-2) since 2003-04 with a 24-3 run over the final 27 contests. The Lady Bears finished No. 24 in the final 2019 USA Today Sports Coaches Poll, which was their first national ranking in 15 years. Harper was named the Missouri Valley Coach of the Year and also was chosen as the 2019 Kay Yow Coach of the Year, which goes to the Division I women's head coach who embodies a winning spirit while displaying great character, on and off the court.

Her final Lady Bears team developed into her best one with a late season spree that included victories over No. 21 Drake, No. 24 DePaul and No. 13 Iowa State and a nine-point loss to sixth-ranked Stanford in the Sweet 16. Harper's 2018-19 squad featured only one senior and included 11 freshmen or sophomores on the 14-player roster.

Prior to her arrival at Missouri State, Harper became just the third women's basketball coach in North Carolina State history in 2009 and directed the Wolfpack to three postseason appearances and a 70-64 record during her four-year stint at the helm, including the 2010 NCAA Tournament. NC State joined Tobacco Road rivals Duke and North Carolina as the only Atlantic Coast Conference teams to score wins over the league's other 11 teams during that span and earned six top-25 victories in four seasons.

Before her tenure in Raleigh, Harper piloted Western Carolina to a 97-65 record and four postseason berths in five seasons, including a 70-31 mark her final three years in Cullowhee. The Catamounts captured the first two Southern Conference (SoCon) Tournament titles in school history while seven student-athletes captured all-conference honors during her tenure.

She earned 2007 SoCon Coach of the Year accolades and placed her squads in the WBCA Academic Top 25 on three occasions, including a fifth-place finish in 2007-08.

Prior her first head coaching job, Harper spent three seasons as an assistant at Chattanooga, helping the Mocs to three consecutive Southern Conference championships, three NCAA appearances and a combined 78-15 record under head coach

Wes Moore. She tutored four all-conference guards while at Chattanooga, including the 2004 league player of the year.

In advance of her time in Chattanooga, Harper spent two seasons at Auburn, the first as an administrative assistant before being promoted to assistant coach under Joe Ciampi for the 2000-01 campaign.

As a college player, Harper was part of a women's basketball dynasty at Tennessee. As a junior, she guided the Lady Vols to a 39-0 record and their third-straight national championship, averaging 7.6 points and 3.8 assists for the season and scoring a career-high 20 points in the national title game against Louisiana Tech. She went 4-of-5 from beyond the arc in that contest and was named to the 1998 All-Final Four Team.

Harper set an NCAA championship game record with 11 assists and dished out 20 helpers in two games for All-Final Four honors in 1997 after returning from a knee injury midway through her sophomore season. That year, the National Strength and Conditioning Association named her its Strength and Conditioning Female Student-Athlete of the Year.

For her Tennessee career, Harper scored 894 points and had 452 assists, leaving UT on the school's career top 10 lists for assists, assist average, 3-point attempts and 3-point percentage. She still ranks seventh in career assists and is 10th in 3-point percentage (.364, 99-272).

Harper was drafted by the Cleveland Rockers in the fourth round of the 1999 WNBA draft and earned her degree in mathematics that same year. She was a three-time SEC Academic Honor Roll member and earned both All-SEC Coaches Second Team and honorable mention All-America honors as a senior. She also was named to the SEC Community Service Team as a senior.

She played for her father (the late Kenneth Jolly) at White County High School in Sparta, Tenn., and was a five-time All-American during her AAU playing career. She was inducted into the UT Athletics Hall of Fame in 2009 and White County High Hall of Fame in 2012. On Dec. 24, 2019, the basketball hardwood at the new Findlay Elementary School in Sparta was dedicated as "Kellie's Court."

Harper is married to Jon Harper, an assistant coach on her staffs at Western Carolina, NC State, Missouri State and now Tennessee. The Harpers welcomed their first child, son Jackson, in November 2013, and had a daughter, Kiley, in June 2018.

SAMANTHA WILLIAMS

ASSISTANT COACH/RECRUITING COORDINATOR

FIRST YEAR AT TENNESSEE/21ST YEAR IN COACHING
AUBURN '96

One of the nation's top coaches and elite recruiters, Samantha Williams is in her first season at Tennessee and in her 21st season in the college coaching ranks. Head coach Kellie Harper announced the addition of Williams to the Lady Vol staff on April 17, 2021.

Williams, who came to Rocky Top after two seasons impressively addressing a major rebuilding job as head coach at Eastern Kentucky University, is highly-regarded for her work with backcourt players and for attracting top players to join nationally-prominent programs, just as she did as an assistant at Louisville (2011-19) and Duke (2007-11) before being chosen at EKU.

At Eastern, Williams inherited a program that was 2-27 overall and 0-18 in the Ohio Valley Conference the year before she arrived, and she led the Colonels to 20 victories over the past two years. In her first season, Williams directed one of the biggest turnarounds in Division I basketball, as EKU won 11 games in 2019-20, nine more than the year before. It was the third-best turnaround in the nation and the largest win improvement by any first-year head coach.

The Colonels finished 11-18, 5-13 in the OVC, in 2019-20 and were 9-15, 8-12 in the OVC, during 2020-21's COVID-impacted season. Williams' final unit at EKU demonstrated continued growth and competitiveness despite a schedule that featured three ranked opponents in Louisville, Indiana and Northwestern, and a roster of 13 players, laden with seven freshmen she and her staff had recruited.

While serving as assistant head coach to Jeff Walz in Louisville from 2011-19, Williams helped guide the Cardinals to eight consecutive NCAA appearances. During her time there, Williams assisted U of L in reaching the Final Four twice, including an appearance in the 2013 title game, making four trips to the Elite 8 and advancing to the Sweet 16 six times. Louisville compiled a 236-55 record and six top-10 finishes in the national polls during her tenure.

In 2018-19, U of L was 32-4, earned a No. 1 seed in the NCAA Tournament, won a share of the Atlantic Coast Conference regular season championship for the second straight season, was ranked fifth in the nation and played in the Elite Eight.

Williams coached four WNBA Draft picks at Louisville. She also sought and signed the nation's top-ranked recruiting class in 2015, the No. 6 ranked class in 2016 and the fourth ranked class in 2017. Between 2014 and 2017, Williams and the Louisville staff welcomed nine McDonald's All-Americans to their program.

Assisting the backcourt players, Williams helped Louisville chart five straight years with a top-40 ranking in shooting percentage. The Cardinals ranked seventh in 2017-18 at 48.2 percent.

Prior to her time at Louisville, Williams was an assistant coach and recruiting coordinator at Duke on Joanne P. McCallie's staff from 2007-11. She helped the Blue Devils capture two ACC regular season championships, two ACC Tournament titles and make two appearances in the NCAA Tournament Elite Eight.

Williams was instrumental in Duke compiling three top-five recruiting classes, including the No. 1 class in the nation in 2009-10. She worked primarily with the team's perimeter players, developing a pair of All-Americans who were picked in the first two rounds of the WNBA Draft.

While working alongside Doug Bruno at DePaul as an assistant and recruiting coordinator from 2004-07, Williams helped the Blue Demons through the most successful period in school history, including three-consecutive NCAA Tournament appearances and the program's first NCAA Sweet 16 berth in 2006. The program achieved a 72-25 record (.742) during her time in Chicago.

Prior to her stint at DePaul, the 1996 Auburn graduate returned to her alma mater and spent the 2003-04 campaign as an assistant on the Plains working alongside her college coach Joe Ciampi in his final season. The Tigers posted a 22-9 record and advanced to the second round of the NCAA Tournament, with Williams helping mentor a pair of All-SEC (coaches and AP) players that year.

THE WILLIAMS FILE

Born: Sept. 24, 1973

Education:
DuPont Manual High School (Louisville, Ky.)
B.S., Auburn, '96

Playing Career:
Auburn ('92-'96): Four-year starter, captain as junior and senior, U.S. Jr. National Team bronze medalist at R. William Jones Cup, ABL pro player with San Jose Lasers (1996-97)

Williams began her collegiate coaching career as an assistant at St. Louis during the 2001-02 season. In 2002-03 she served as an assistant coach at Columbus State University, helping the Cougars to a 28-4 record, a Peach Belt Conference regular season championship and a trip to the NCAA Tournament.

Born in Luverne, Ala., and spending her high school years in Louisville, Kentucky, Williams was a four-year starter on the court at Auburn from 1992-96, serving as co-captain as a junior and a senior. She led Auburn to three NCAA Tournament appearances, including two Sweet 16 trips and an Elite 8 berth. Williams set the program record for career three-point field goals (161), and she finished her career with 1,106 points, 495 rebounds and 323 assists.

While at Auburn, Williams played for the U.S. Junior National Team that won the bronze medal at the R. William Jones Cup in Taipei, Taiwan.

After her collegiate career, Williams played one season of professional basketball in the American Basketball League with the San Jose Lasers (1996-97).

Williams was a first-team Parade, and Street and Smith All-American, in addition to a USA Today Super 25 honoree, while playing basketball at DuPont Manual High School in Louisville.

JON HARPER

ASSISTANT COACH

THIRD YEAR AT TENNESSEE/21ST YEAR AS AN ASSISTANT
AUBURN '99

Jon Harper is in year three at Tennessee and season 21 as an assistant coach, including his 18th campaign as an assistant to spouse Kellie Harper after he joined the Lady Vol staff on April 15, 2019.

During Harper's two seasons on Rocky Top, UT has forged a combined 38-18 overall mark and 19-10 record in SEC play, notching a pair of third-place league finishes and advancing to the SEC Tournament semifinals in 2021 for the first time since 2016. UT defeated four ranked opponents in 2020-21, including No. 2/3 South Carolina, and earned a No. 3 seed in the NCAA Tournament. The Lady Vols finished 17-8 overall and 9-4 in SEC games, ending the year ranked No. 14 in the AP Poll and 16th in the USA TODAY Coaches Poll.

UT has developed players who also have earned recognition for their efforts. Rennia Davis earned All-SEC First Team and All-America honorable mention from AP, USBWA and WBCA the past two seasons. Rae Burrell picked up All-SEC Second Team accolades in 2021, while Jordan Horston (2020) and Marta Suárez (2021) made the SEC All-Freshman Team, and Tamari Key became UT's first member of the SEC All-Defensive Team since 2012 with her recognition in 2021.

The first recruiting class signed by the current staff, which was amazingly wrapped up during the midst of the pandemic in 2020, produced 2020-21 starters in true freshman forward Marta Suárez, graduate transfer post Keyen Green from Liberty and graduate transfer point guard Jordan Walker from Western Michigan. The four-player signing group in 2021 has been rated No. 9 by ProspectsNation.com and No. 15 by HoopGurlz/espnW.

Tennessee's pursuit of excellence does not all take place on the court. The program, which has an all-time 100-percent graduation rate, put eight on the SEC Academic Honor Roll in 2020 and had a program-record nine in 2021.

In six seasons at Missouri State, his previous stop, Harper mentored players who earned a total of 15 All-Missouri Valley Conference selections, including two-time first-team picks in Kenzie Williams and Liza Fruendt, 2016 MVC Player of the Year and Defensive Player of the Year Tyonna Snow, 2018 first-team selection Alexa Willard and 2019 first-team choice Danielle Gitzen.

The Lady Bears accumulated 118 wins, five top-three MVC finishes and five postseason berths with Harper on staff, including a 2016 NCAA Tournament appearance after a 24-10 record and MVC Tournament championship and a 2019 NCAA Tournament Sweet 16 finish with a 25-10 record and MVC tourney title.

While at North Carolina State from 2009-13, Harper tutored four different players to a combination of All-Atlantic Coast Conference, All-ACC Freshman, all-tournament honors and a league Freshman of the Year award. Harper helped a team that was predicted to finish ninth in the ACC to a fifth-place finish and NCAA Tournament berth in 2010, as well as a pair of WNIT appearances his final two seasons there.

Prior to NC State, Harper spent five years as an assistant coach at Western Carolina with Kellie, and before that three seasons at Chattanooga, before heading to WCU with Kellie for the 2004-05 campaign.

During his time at Western Carolina, Harper worked with the backcourt players and helped produce five all-conference selections and the Southern Conference's Defensive Player of the Year in 2008. The Catamounts advanced to the postseason four of his five years on staff, including a pair of NCAA Tournament berths.

Harper got the coaching bug while serving as a practice player and then manager at Auburn for three seasons from 1996-99, and he worked his way up to numerous administrative responsibilities with the team.

While he was at Auburn, the Lady Tigers compiled a 58-29 record that included the 1997 SEC Tournament Championship and a pair of NCAA Tournament berths in 1997 and 1999.

Harper joined the Auburn team as a practice player and then manager, starting in 1996-97, and worked up to head manager in 1998-99. That season, he was charged with increasing responsibilities that included overseeing the male practice players that scrimmaged the Lady Tigers. He eventually served an internship with the coaching staff.

Harper earned his bachelor's degree in health promotion/sports management in March 1999 and in May of that year married the former Kellie Jolly. After receiving his degree, Harper taught physical education and was an assistant football coach at Lee-Scott Academy in Auburn. He then moved into private business before joining the basketball coaching ranks on the Chattanooga staff.

The Harpers welcomed their first child, son Jackson, in November 2013, and had a daughter, Kiley, in June 2018.

JOY McCORVEY

ASSISTANT COACH

FIRST YEAR AT TENNESSEE/11TH YEAR AS AN ASSISTANT
ST. JOHN'S '10

A rising star in the profession, Joy McCorvey is in her first year at Tennessee and in her 11th season in the college coaching ranks. Her résumé features nine seasons of 20+ wins. In every campaign except 2020, when COVID-19 forced a halt to competition, those teams went on to postseason play.

McCorvey came to the Lady Vol program after spending the past three seasons at Florida State on Sue Semrau's staff. When Semrau took leave for the 2020-21 campaign to care for her ailing mother, McCorvey was elevated to associate head coach.

At FSU, McCorvey played a key role in both player development and recruiting for the Seminoles. In 2020-21, she was instrumental in the rapid development of Morgan Jones, personally coaching and helping mold the 6-foot-2 guard into one of the best players in the ACC. Jones averaged 12.8 points, 6.3 rebounds, shot 45.4 percent from the floor and tied for the team lead with 23 steals in a career year where she took an enormous step, earning All-ACC First Team honors, ACC All-Defensive Team accolades and WBCA All-America Honorable Mention acclaim.

McCorvey also made direct contributions in 2019-20. Her efforts were key in the rise of All-America forward Kiah Gillespie, who finished a tremendous two-year run with FSU by averaging 15.6 points, 8.7 rebounds and shooting 45.1 percent from the floor. The development of freshman center River Baldwin also was evident in 2019-20, as she won ACC Rookie of the Week twice.

With McCorvey handling the team's recruiting efforts and low-post play, Florida State made large strides in both areas under her watch. The Seminoles' 2019 signing class consisted of five-star players Baldwin and Sammie Puisis as well as top-20 post player London Clarkson. The 2021 group included four-star prospects in point guard O'Mariah Gordon and forwards Makayla Timpson and Mariana Valenzuela.

Gillespie and Valencia Myers enjoyed standout seasons in 2018-19 under the guidance of McCorvey. Gillespie earned WBCA All-America honors and grabbed a spot on the All-ACC Team. Myers, in her first season, made the All-ACC Freshmen Team and emerged as one of the nation's most feared shot blockers with 54 rejections.

McCorvey played a big role in helping coach a Seminole squad that had to replace its entire starting five in 2018-19 to a 24-9 overall record and a 10-6 mark in the ACC. Despite entering the year with a majority of new faces and depleted depth due to injuries, FSU was able to make its 14th NCAA Tournament appearance in the last 15 seasons.

Prior to her stint in Tallahassee, McCorvey helped elevate the Michigan women's basketball program during her six seasons in Ann Arbor, assisting her college head coach Kim Barnes Arico in that endeavor. The Wolverines made six postseason appearances during that time, including the capturing of the 2017 WNIT title.

One of her responsibilities during her time at Michigan was the development of the post players, helping pave the way for a second-round NCAA Tournament appearance for the Wolverines in 2017-18. Michigan led the Big Ten that season in rebound margin at +8.5 per game, a statistic in which Florida State also excelled.

A special 2016-17 season in which Michigan set its program mark with 28 wins included helping former post player Cyesha Goree receive her second consecutive All-Big Ten Second Team honor. McCorvey's established résumé also includes coaching five different players to eight All-Big Ten honors.

A standout player at St. John's from 2006-10, McCorvey was hired at her alma mater for the 2011-12 season and spent a year on Barnes Arico's staff there prior to making the move to Michigan.

McCorvey worked primarily with the post players and helped guide the Red Storm to a 24-10 overall record and a second-place finish in the final BIG EAST Conference standings with a 13-3 league record. The Red Storm, which upset UConn on Feb. 19, 2012, 57-56, and ended the Huskies' 99-game home winning streak, made its third straight NCAA berth and advanced to the program's first Sweet 16 appearance.

Before entering the coaching ranks, McCorvey made a name for herself as one of the Red Storm's finest leaders, both on and off the court, during her four years as a student-athlete. She was instrumental in lifting St. John's into the national spotlight, leading the team to three postseason runs. As a senior in 2009-10, McCorvey was part of one of Barnes Arico's most successful teams, as the Red Storm finished with a 25-7 overall record and advanced to the Second Round of the 2010 NCAA Tournament.

A captain at St. John's, she was a three-time Big East All-Academic Team selection (2007-10), a top 30 candidate for the 2010 Lowe's® Senior CLASS Award, a member of St. John's University's prestigious President's Society and was the 2008 recipient of the St. John's University Marianne Noonan Memorial. She earned a bachelor's in childhood education from St. John's in 2010.

The native of Brewton, Alabama, and graduate of T.R. Miller High School, is just one of four St. John's players to amass more than 700 points and 700 rebounds.

CATHERINE GREENE

DIRECTOR OF BASKETBALL OPERATIONS

THIRD YEAR AT TENNESSEE
NORTH CAROLINA '08

Catherine Greene is in her third season as director of basketball operations for the Lady Vol program, joining the staff on May 31, 2019.

She arrived on Rocky Top after serving from 2017-19 as the director of student-athlete enrichment for the University of North Carolina women's basketball program. She was responsible for a variety of tasks within the program, including community engagement, community outreach, social media oversight, academics, marketing liaison, team building and career development in preparing student-athletes for life beyond basketball.

Greene is active within the Women's Basketball Coaches Association (WBCA), specifically organizing the director of operations sessions at the 2016 & 2017 conventions, and was a presenter in both 2014 & 2016.

She is also an active member in Women Leaders in College Sports (formerly NACWAA). Greene attended the Women's Leadership Symposium in 2014 and the Institute for Administrative Advancement in 2016.

Previously, Greene spent five seasons as a member of the Georgia Tech women's basketball program, the last four years as the director of women's basketball operations. Greene oversaw all aspects of the program's day-to-day operations as well as the Yellow Jackets' team travel, promotional and fundraising efforts, community service initiatives and community relations.

Greene took on leadership roles within the Georgia Tech Athletic Association as a member of the department's culture committee and senior staff.

She joined the Tech staff for the 2012-13 season as associate director of basketball operations after spending the previous two and a half years working full-time in event operations at North Carolina.

During her time at UNC, Greene served as director or co-director of more than 10 NCAA or ACC postseason championship events. She also worked as the game day manager for the Tar Heels' men's and women's soccer, field hockey, women's basketball, men's and women's lacrosse and baseball teams.

Greene graduated from North Carolina in 2008 with Bachelor of Arts degrees in sociology and from the School of Journalism and Mass Communication with a public relations concentration. She earned a Master of Arts in exercise and sport science with a sport administration specialization in 2010.

Greene, who hails from Gastonia, N.C., served as a manager for the Tar Heels' women's basketball team and was the head manager for three years. During that time, the Tar Heels won four ACC Championships and advanced to the 2006 and 2007 Final Fours. As a graduate student, Greene was a graduate student assistant for the women's team for one season before serving as the graduate intern for the Dean E. Smith Center.

LIZA FRUENDT

DIRECTOR OF RECRUITING OPERATIONS

FIRST YEAR AT TENNESSEE
MISSOURI STATE '18

In her first season at Tennessee in 2021-22 is Liza Fruendt, who will serve as director of recruiting operations on the staff of her college head coach, Kellie Harper.

Fruendt comes to Rocky Top after spending the last year as a senior associate consultant for Cerner Corporation. Prior to that, she served two seasons as a graduate assistant with the women's basketball program at the University of Missouri-Kansas City. While with the Roos, she became versed in video production and scouting technology, consulted with staff on various aspects of recruiting, implemented social media strategy and also assisted with other day-to-day duties.

A standout on teams coached by Harper while she was at Missouri State, Fruendt excelled both on and off the court as a Lady Bear. She was named to the Missouri Valley Conference All-Freshman Team (2015), All-MVC First Team (2017, 2018) and MVC Scholar-Athlete First Team (2017, 2018).

Fruendt scored 1,656 career points, good for seventh on MSU's all-time list. The Batavia, Illinois, native also finished her career in the top 10 all-time in field goals and three-pointers. She is one of five Lady Bears to score 1,500 points and record 400 rebounds and 200 three-pointers. During her junior year, Fruendt scored 46 points on March 2, 2017, at No 22 Drake, the fifth-best total in school history behind only Jackie Stiles, and fourth-highest mark in NCAA Division I in 2016-17.

Fruendt is a 2018 graduate of Missouri State with a bachelor's degree in business administration and earned a master's in business administration in 2020 from Kansas City. She has a brother, Nick, who played at Northwestern University and a sister, Sara, who played at the University of Dubuque. All three Fruendt siblings attended Batavia High School, where Liza scored a school-record 1,921 points.

HEATHER ERVIN

DIRECTOR OF PLAYER RELATIONS & ADMINISTRATION

SIXTH YEAR ON STAFF/20TH YEAR AT TENNESSEE
TROY '97

Heather Ervin is in her sixth season as a member of the UT women's basketball staff, and in her third season as the director of player relations and administration.

She made a return to college athletics after serving as the program administrator at the UT Center for Information and Communication Studies in the College of Communication from March 2015 to July 2016.

Prior to that, Ervin worked in athletic administration at UT for 13 years, from 2001-14. She was promoted in 2009 to assistant director of football operations, as the only female in the Southeastern Conference to hold that position. Ervin has a wealth of knowledge in the sports industry not only as a former student-athlete but as a coach and administrator as well.

A member of the WBCA and Women Leaders in College Sports, Ervin's responsibilities include providing mentorship and serving as the academic liaison for the Lady Vols. Additionally, she is involved with facility projects and campus housing as well as providing marketing insight.

Previous responsibilities have included assisting with all aspects of day-to-day recruiting operations, updating the recruiting boards and assisting with official and unofficial visits. She also was responsible for managing pre- and post-signing paperwork as well as organizing prospect evaluations and managing the coaches' recruiting travel.

Ervin's responsibilities in her previous role in athletics were to manage the head football coach's daily schedule while also providing administrative support to the director of football operations and the senior associate athletics director for football administration. Ervin also was responsible for arranging summer employment opportunities for student-athletes and working closely with the Thornton Center in monitoring student-athletes' class attendance.

In addition, she served as chief liaison for all player family event functions as well as managing a website designed for players' families. Ervin also was substantially involved with official and unofficial on-campus recruiting visits.

The Sweetwater, Tenn., native holds both a bachelor's degree in health and human services and a master's degree in foundations of education with an emphasis in sports management from Troy University, where she played basketball and later served as a graduate assistant basketball coach for two years.

Prior to that, she played two seasons at Hiwassee College in nearby Madisonville, Tenn. While there, Ervin helped the Tigers to a combined 57-10 record and two trips to the NJCAA national tournament.

During her playing days at Sweetwater High School, the former Heather Lenoir was a multi-sport athlete in basketball, softball and track and field. She set 12 track records and still owns nine of those today.

Ervin and her husband, Harry, reside in Maryville and have two daughters: Jasmine (18) and Jada (14).

JOSH THEIS

DIRECTOR OF VIDEO & CREATIVE CONTENT

THIRD YEAR AT TENNESSEE/FIRST YEAR IN CURRENT ROLE
XAVIER (OH) '19

Josh Theis is in his third season with the Lady Vol program but in his initial year in a full-time capacity, accepting a role in May of 2021 and serving as director of video and creative content.

Theis, who served as a graduate manager with the Lady Vols from 2019-21, worked alongside the recruiting coordinator and coaching staff to create graphics and videos for use in recruiting and social media. He will now take on a leadership role in that area as well as in the realm of team video.

In addition to creating and developing recruiting content, he will assist in cultivating image and branding for Tennessee women's basketball, its student-athletes and coaches.

The Cincinnati, Ohio, native received his undergraduate degree in graphic design in 2019 from Xavier University. He spent four years with the Xavier men's basketball team as a student program assistant, working with a squad that made an NCAA Elite Eight appearance in 2017 and won the BIG EAST regular season championship in 2018. He earned a master's degree in sports management from the University of Tennessee in May 2021.

BRYAN TATUM

DIRECTOR OF WBB SPORTS PERFORMANCE

FIRST YEAR AT TENNESSEE
WEST LIBERTY '05

Bryan Tatum is in his first year with the Tennessee women's basketball program, coming aboard Kellie Harper's staff as the director of basketball sports performance on June 11, 2021.

Tatum spent the past seven years as an assistant athletic performance coach at Auburn, working with the Tiger football team. He and Harper have worked together previously at two stops along her coaching path. He was on her staff from 2008-10 at Western Carolina and provided his expertise at NC State from 2011-13.

Joining the Auburn football program in 2014, Tatum possesses 15 years of collegiate coaching experience with a mindset of growth and development meshed with a slight-edge philosophy. That viewpoint, which holds that "consistently repeated daily actions, plus time, equal unconquerable results," comes from the book "The Slight Edge" by Jeff Olson.

Tatum arrived at Auburn from NC State, where he was an assistant strength and conditioning coach for three years from 2011-14, working with women's basketball, wrestling, men's and women's golf, and rifle.

Prior to his time in Raleigh, he was the assistant strength and conditioning coordinator at Western Carolina (2008-2010), assisting with football and coordinating women's basketball, women's soccer, softball, volleyball, women's tennis, men's and women's cross country, track and field and cheerleading.

Tatum spent two years as a graduate assistant strength and conditioning coordinator at Western Kentucky (2006-2008), assisting with football while coordinating men's and women's soccer. He completed a master's degree in exercise physiology from WKU in 2008.

He played football at West Liberty (W. Va.) State College and earned his bachelor's degree in exercise physiology with a minor in physical therapy in 2005. A team captain as a junior and senior, he was part of the 2000 West Virginia Intercollegiate Athletic Conference champions. In 2002, he was an All-WVIAC selection at defensive back.

Following graduation, Tatum completed an internship at Notre Dame before returning to his alma mater as a strength and conditioning coach while also serving as an assistant football and co-head track and field coach.

Tatum holds a number of professional certifications, including RSCC, CSCS, USAW, USATF, ISSC, SAQ, FMS, CES, MAT, RPR-2, FRCMS and TPI. He is married to the former Alison Poe of Barboursville, West Virginia, and they have four children: Jaxson, Jett, Hensley and Jude.

CASI DAILEY

ASSOC. DIRECTOR OF SPORTS MEDICINE

SECOND YEAR ON STAFF/FIFTH OVERALL YEAR AT TENNESSEE
HOPE '08

Casi Dailey is in her second season at the University of Tennessee as an associate director of sports medicine and oversees the medical care for the Lady Vol basketball team.

Dailey, who had a previous stint at UT from 2008 to 2011 as a graduate assistant and intern, returned to Knoxville from North Carolina State University, where she was employed from 2012-20. In her first season in Raleigh, she worked alongside Kellie and Jon Harper as part of the Wolfpack basketball staff.

During her eight years at NC State, Dailey worked primarily with a women's basketball program that claimed the 2020 ACC Tournament and posted back-to-back NCAA Sweet 16 appearances in 2018 and 2019. She also assisted the softball team and served as the treasurer for the ACC Sports Medicine Association from 2018-20.

Dailey received her bachelor's degree in athletic training in 2008 from Hope College in Holland, Mich., and became a certified athletic trainer. She then attended UT, where she earned a master's in sport management in 2010, with her master's project entitled "An ATC's Guide to Eating Disorders in Female Collegiate Athletics."

As a graduate assistant at Tennessee, Dailey worked with the 2009 NCAA champion Lady Vol track & field team as well as the women's golf and women's tennis programs. After earning her master's from Rocky Top, Dailey stayed an additional year as an intern athletic trainer.

Dailey has completed all three of the classes offered by the Kinesio Tape Association International. She is BFR certified through Owens Recovery Science. She also has completed the first module of Graston courses. In 2018, she became an Advisory Council member for the College Athletic Trainers Society. She also is a member of the NATA.

ZION SANDERS

GRADUATE ASSISTANT

FIRST YEAR AT TENNESSEE
IOWA '21

In her first season at Tennessee is Zion Sanders, who will serve as a graduate assistant on Kellie Harper's staff in 2021-22. She is a beneficiary of the Steve & Kaye Maynard Women's Basketball Graduate Assistant Scholarship Fund.

Sanders came to Knoxville from Iowa City, Iowa, where she was a four-year letterwinner in women's basketball for the University of Iowa. A participant in the WBCA's "So You Want To Be A Coach" program, she served as a team captain on Lisa Bluder's 2020-21 squad and earned a degree in psychology in 2021.

Playing in 63 games during her career, Sanders helped Iowa to three NCAA Tournament appearances. It would have been four if not for the cancellation of the 2020 postseason due to the COVID-19 health pandemic.

A native of Evansville, Ind., Sanders graduated from Central High School, where she was a two-time all-state and all-city selection in hoops. She comes from a very athletic family, with her mom (Ulanda), dad (Vincent) and sister (Zuriel) playing collegiately at Georgia, South Carolina State and Texas Tech, respectively. Her brother (Zebrie) played football at Florida State and was drafted by the NFL's Buffalo Bills.

ANGIE BOYD KECK

SR. ASSOCIATE A.D./SR. WOMAN ADMINISTRATOR

27TH YEAR AT TENNESSEE
TENNESSEE '94

Senior Associate Athletics Director Angie Boyd Keck works closely with SEC and NCAA staff as UT's Senior Woman Administrator and also serves as the sport administrator for women's basketball, men's and women's golf and volleyball.

Among her duties, she monitors and directs sports programs in all aspects of operations, budget planning, resource allocation and scheduling. She approves and monitors practice, competitive schedules and NCAA time management legislation as well as advising the director of athletics on all matters concerning assigned sports programs.

Additionally, she manages and facilitates administrative situations associated with those sports, conducts evaluations of assigned coaches and oversees the general conduct of the program, including player/coach relationships, event management, travel conditions and criteria, competitiveness and student-athlete behavior and conduct.

She also shoulders responsibilities related to camp/clinic administration and finances. Keck assists with facility renovation and construction designs, fundraising for new facilities and renovations, and she also provides input for marketing plans and promotions for assigned sports.

Immediately prior to assuming her current post, she served as an associate AD–most recently for Business & Internal Affairs–from 2008-19. She took on the role of SWA in the summer of 2019.

In the fall of 2019, Keck began a four-year term on the NCAA Division I Women's Volleyball Committee. She also has served on UT's exempt staff council, the Work Culture Improvement Team and is a member of Women's Leaders in College Sports.

Keck began her career in intercollegiate administration in 1994-95, when she was the assistant women's golf coach with the Lady Vols. Prior to her coaching stint, she was a member of the inaugural Tennessee women's golf team in 1992. Keck (then Angie Boyd) captained the 1993-94 squad to a 13th-place NCAA finish in 1994. She was named to the SEC Academic Honor Roll in both her years as a player and earned a spot in the Lady Vols Hall of Fame (now the University of Tennessee Athletic Hall of Fame) in the Fall of 2005.

A 1994 graduate of Tennessee, Keck earned her bachelor's degree in Public Administration. In 1997, she received her master's in Sport Administration from UT.

Keck and her husband, Kelly, reside in Dandridge, Tennessee. They have a son, Josh, and a daughter, Sidney.

DR. DONALD BRUCE

FACULTY ATHLETICS REPRESENTATIVE

23RD YEAR AT TENNESSEE
DREW UNIVERSITY '94

Donald Bruce is the Douglas and Brenda Horne Professor of Business in the Center for Business and Economic Research (CBER) and the Department of Economics at UT Knoxville.

He joined the UTK faculty in 1999 after receiving his M.A. and Ph.D. in Economics from Syracuse and his B.A. with honors in Economics from Drew University.

As a CBER economist, Dr. Bruce regularly provides objective, non-partisan policy research and evaluation under contracts with an array of government agencies at the federal and state levels. His recent work in CBER has included an ongoing evaluation of Tennessee's welfare program, Families First, for the Tennessee Department of Human Services, an analysis of teacher supply and demand in Tennessee for the Governor's Office of Education Policy, and a forecast of expenditures on Tennessee Education Lottery Scholarships for the Tennessee Higher Education Commission.

In addition to his CBER research, Dr. Bruce studies the economic and behavioral effects of tax policies on such things as small business activity and owner-occupied housing. His work has been presented and published in a variety of academic journals, edited volumes, and professional meetings. He has testified before Congress on the topic of Internet taxation, and he presented his work on taxes and small business activity before the President's Advisory Panel on Federal Tax Reform in 2005.

Dr. Bruce regularly teaches graduate and undergraduate courses on the economics of taxation and the economics of health and health care. He has recently served as the Director of Graduate Studies in Economics and the Director of the Undergraduate Major in Public Administration. Before becoming Faculty Athletics Representative, Dr. Bruce served for two years as chair of the Athletics Board's Fiscal Integrity and Long-Range Planning Committee. He has also served as chair of the UTK Faculty Senate's Budget and Planning Committee. Dr. Bruce is an active member of the National Tax Association, the International Institute of Public Finance, and the American, Southern, and Western Economic Associations. His community service has included numerous economic and policy presentations for state and local organizations, and he currently serves as Chairman of the Board of Innovative Education Partnership, the non-profit governing body of the Clayton-Bradley STEM Academy in Blount County.

Dr. Bruce lives in Walland, Tenn, with his wife Jennifer, a mathematics teacher at Clayton-Bradley, and their daughter, Annie.

 Dr. Matt Harris is serving as Tennessee's acting Faculty Athletics Representative in 2020-21 while Dr. Don Bruce is on sabbatical.*

DR. DONDE PLOWMAN

UT KNOXVILLE CHANCELLOR

THIRD YEAR AS CHANCELLOR AT TENNESSEE
SMU, '74

Donde Plowman has served since 2019 as chancellor of the University of Tennessee, Knoxville, the state's flagship land-grant research university. The campus includes the UT Institute for Agriculture and the UT Space Institute.

Plowman oversees a campus budget of $1.3 billion as well as 31,701 students, 1,626 faculty members and 5,732 staff members. The campus includes 11 colleges offering more than 900 degree programs and a physical plant consisting of 910 acres and 294 buildings.

Plowman is recognized as a transformational leader in higher education and is known for building effective high-energy teams that deliver meaningful results. Before returning to UT as chancellor, she held leadership roles at UT and at the University of Nebraska–Lincoln, guiding the development of innovative programs that expanded enrollment, budget, reputation, and philanthropy. She is recognized for building collaborative cultures that drive strategic change and outstanding performance.

The COVID-19 pandemic hit just seven months after Plowman became chancellor, and her focus shifted to leading the campus through a major disruption. UT opened for the return of students in fall 2020 and successfully delivered programs that kept students safe and on track for graduation. The campus was recognized by Campus Magazine as one of the top-10 universities in the country for its COVID-19 response, and Plowman was named among the Knoxville News Sentinel's Healthcare Heroes for leading through the pandemic with clear and innovative communication.

In her first two years as chancellor, she has led the university in increasing first-year enrollment by more than five percent each year—at a time when the national average is a decline of 16 percent—as well as the development of a new strategic vision, a new branding campaign, the launch of the UT–Oak Ridge Innovation Institute and a new partnership with Oak Ridge National Laboratory for growing research collaborations.

Her role as chancellor includes oversight of Tennessee Athletics, a $130 million operation where she has provided decisive and timely leadership. In 2020, she was selected by her peers in the Southeastern Conference to represent the SEC as a member of the NCAA Presidential Forum.

DR. DANIEL J. WHITE

VICE CHANCELLOR/DIRECTOR OF ATHLETICS

SECOND YEAR AT TENNESSEE
NOTRE DAME '02

Danny White's innovative and forward-thinking approach to the rapidly evolving landscape of intercollegiate athletics primed University of Tennessee Chancellor Donde Plowman to name him Vice Chancellor/Director of Athletics on Jan. 21, 2021.

Boasting a literal lifetime of experience in the industry, White, 41, oversaw a period of unprecedented competitive, academic and service excellence at the UCF from 2015-21. Prior to that, White served as the AD at Buffalo from 2012-15.

"Danny White is an innovative leader in college athletics with a strong track record in recruiting and developing leaders," Plowman said. "He brings the combination of winning attitude, competitive drive and dedication to integrity and academics that we are looking for."

White's departmental successes have earned him numerous awards—a Sports Business Journal 40 Under 40 honoree in multiple years, a spot on the Orlando Business Journal 40 Under 40 list, multiple selections as one of the 50 Most Powerful People in Orlando by Orlando Magazine and he was a finalist for the 2018 SBJ Athletics Director of the Year award.

A native of New Orleans, White was named a NACDA Athletics Director of the Year in the spring of 2019. In 2018, SBJ named him one of the six most influential people in sports business, while Orlando Magazine tabbed him as the area's most powerful person in sports. In 2020, Stadium rated White No. 4 nationally on its list of athletics directors based on the combined success of his coaching hires in football and men's basketball.

Six days after he was named AD at Tennessee, White announced the hiring of Josh Heupel as the Volunteers' 27th head football coach. Heupel had spent the previous three years working alongside White as head coach at UCF, where he compiled an impressive 28-8 (20-5 AAC) record.

From a competitive standpoint, White's first semester at Tennessee—the spring of 2021—was extraordinary. The combined 470.5 NACDA Learfield IMG College Directors' Cup points collected by Tennessee teams was UT's highest spring points total in the 28-year history of the Directors' Cup.

That spring success was highlighted by the baseball team qualifying for the College World Series and men's tennis winning the SEC Tournament, advancing to the semifinals of the NCAA Championships and earning a No. 4 year-end national ranking.

Prior to White's transition to Knoxville, UCF was the only NCAA Football Bowl Subdivision program that saw each of its sports produce winning records (among the 10 Knights programs with win-loss records) in 2017-18, 2018-19 and the COVID-shortened 2019-20 athletic year.

AN INNOVATIVE EDGE

White has proven adept at cultivating game-changing gift commitments made to athletics. Less than five months into his AD tenure at Tennessee, he oversaw the launch of the My All Campaign, a $500 million comprehensive fundraising initiative.

In fiscal year 2020, UCF produced record numbers of gifts received and overall commitments. The $35.5 million in 2020 commitments was more than four times what UCF raised just four years earlier.

Under White's leadership, UCF established a unique relationship with Walt Disney World Resort that provided annual access to Disney for all Knights' student-athletes. White also developed plans for McNamara Cove, an aquatic recovery facility, lazy river and pool adjacent to Spectrum Stadium that will double as a year-round hospitality venue.

UCF secured football host-site privileges for an ESPN College GameDay broadcast—an honor traditionally reserved for football's fraternity of powerhouse programs—in 2018, and 247Sports rated Knights' home games fourth nationally in terms of home stadium experiences.

Other highlights of White's UCF tenure included the athletics department bringing its multimedia rights and corporate partnerships in-house and an extended and improved apparel and shoe agreement with Nike. He also secured naming-rights deals for both the UCF football field and basketball court. The Knights in 2019 (for the first time) sold out their allotment of football season tickets at Spectrum Stadium, creating a waiting list and prompting potential stadium expansion plans.

"Danny's leadership, vision and record of sustained achievement will no doubt effectively guide the future of the University of Tennessee athletics program," Southeastern Conference Commissioner Greg Sankey said.

RISING TO THE AD CHAIR

A former college basketball student-athlete at Towson and Notre Dame, White quickly ascended in the ranks of college athletics leadership. Prior to his first athletics director opportunity at Buffalo, he was senior associate athletics director at Ole Miss from 2009-12. He previously served two years as associate athletics director for development at Fresno State (2007-09) and one as assistant athletics director for development at Northern Illinois (2006-07).

Before pivoting to athletics administration, White spent one year as the director of basketball operations and another year as an assistant coach with the Ohio University men's basketball program.

White graduated from Notre Dame in 2002 with a bachelor's degree in business administration. He earned master's degrees in both business administration and sports administration from Ohio University and completed a doctorate degree in higher education from Ole Miss in 2016.

White comes from a family deeply involved in intercollegiate athletics. His father, Kevin, was the longtime vice president and director of athletics at Duke (and previously held that same role at Notre Dame, Arizona State, Tulane, Maine and Loras College). His brother, Michael, is the head men's basketball coach at the Florida. His brother, Brian, is the vice president and director of athletics at Florida Atlantic. His sister, Mariah, is the assistant athletics director for administration at SMU.

"At every stop along the way, Danny has built, improved and creatively positioned athletics departments for academic and competitive excellence," NCAA Executive Vice President for Regulatory Affairs Stan Wilcox said. "His keen understanding of the importance of diversity and inclusion was instilled in him at an early age by his parents. Leadership is important. Success is built upon knowledge, vision and a relentless work ethic. Danny's record is a testament to the importance of these foundational leadership qualities."

Danny and his wife, Shawn, have four children: Aidan, Molly, Caitlin and James.

CAREER HONORS

- Sun Belt Player of the Year (2020-21)
- All-Sun Belt First Team (2020-21)
- All-Sun Belt Second Team (2019-20)
- 4x Sun Belt Player of the Week (2/24/20, 12/22/20, 1/18/21, 2/1/21)

2021-22 (AT TENNESSEE)

- Dye is the fifth incoming graduate transfer in Lady Vol history and the third committing to UT during the Kellie Harper era.
- The most recent players to do so are Keyen Green (Liberty) and Jordan Walker (Western Michigan), who will play alongside Dye on the 2021-22 squad.
- Dye was the third player from Alabama to join this year's UT roster, joining freshmen Sara Puckett from Muscle Shoals (Muscle Shoals H.S.) and Karoline Striplin from Hartford (Geneva County H.S.).

CAREER AT TROY

- Dye finished her career at Troy with averages of 13.3 points and 11.1 rebounds in two seasons.
- She tallied 32 double-doubles during her time there, including 30 in her last 40 games.
- Started 41 of 57 contests, including all 28 in 2020-21, accumulating 757 points and 630 rebounds over two campaigns.
- Connected on 48 percent of her shots (328-684) from the field and 63.1 percent from the free-throw line, improving her charity-stripe average from 53.6 in 2019-20 to 73.7 in 2020-21.
- She helped the Trojans to a 22-6 overall mark and 15-2 league record in 2020-21, winning the Sun Belt East and capturing the league's tourney title on their way to the NCAA Tournament.
- Team was 25-4/16-2 in 2019-20 before the pandemic brought the season to an end just before the league tournament.

2020-21 (AT TROY)

- Became Troy's first-ever Sun Belt Player of the Year and earned All-Sun Belt Conference First Team and Sun Belt Tournament MVP accolades.
- Started all 28 contests and led the team with 16.6 ppg. and 12.6 rpg. while shooting a team-best 49.5 percent from the field and 73.7 from the free-throw line.
- Led the NCAA in double-doubles (23) and total rebounds (352), and she was seventh in rebounds per game (12.6) and 16th in field goals made (204).

- Averaged 7.3 ppg., 4.7 rpg. and 2.8 bpg. while starting 29 of 31 contests in her rookie season.
- Recorded 86 blocked shots to tie Candace Parker for the fifth-most in a season in UT history and the second-most ever by a Lady Vol freshman.
- Her contribution helped UT tally 215 blocks in 2019-20, a total that ranked second nationally and fourth all-time in school history.
- Finished No. 1 in the SEC in blocked shots (86) and blocks per game (2.77) and ranked 11th and 13th in the NCAA in those categories, respectively.
- Scored in double figures in eight games and pulled down 10 or more rebounds on three occasions.
- Led all Lady Vol regulars with a 56.1 field goal percentage, including 56.6 percent vs. SEC foes.
- Became just the eighth Lady Vol to record a double-double in her debut, notching 11 points and 12 rebounds at ETSU.
- Only the sixth Lady Vol ever to record 10+ rebounds in her first game, with only one other (Tiffani Johnson, 17) having ever recorded more than her 12.
- Scored a career-high 17 points in 18 minutes of action at home vs. Ole Miss while adding seven rebounds and two steals.
- Registered a (then) career-high 16 points on 8-of-11 shooting vs. Missouri in her SEC debut and racked up three swats and three boards.
- Blocked nine shots at #1/2 South Carolina to set a single-game UT freshman record and rank second among all Lady Vols behind only Kelley Cain (12).
- Swatted seven shots for the fifth-best single-game UT total ever, while adding five points and six rebounds against UK in the SEC Tourney Quarterfinals.
- Played 23 minutes in UT's win over #15/14 Notre Dame, posting 11 points, five rebounds and three blocks in her second career start.
- Scored 13 points, blocked four shots and had two steals in the Lady Vols' home victory over Georgia.
- Went a perfect five of five from the floor to tie her (then) career high of 11 points while grabbing seven boards at Portland State.

2020-21 REVIEW

2020-21 POSTSEASON NOTEBOOK

LADY VOLS' RISE CONTINUED IN 2020-21

- The Lady Vols fashioned a 17-8 overall record and 9-4 mark in SEC play, good for a third-place result for the second year in a row.
- It marked Tennessee's fewest overall losses and fewest conference setbacks since 2014-15 and gave the program its highest back-to-back league finishes since taking second and first in 2013-14 and 2014-15, respectively.
- The Big Orange made it to the semifinal round of the SEC Tournament for the first time since 2016, falling to eventual champion South Carolina.
- UT wound up No. 13 in the final AP Poll of the year and No. 16 in the USA Today Coaches Poll.
- The Big Orange posted four victories over ranked teams (No. 2/3 South Carolina, No. 12/12 Kentucky, No. 13/13 Arkansas, No. 15/15 Indiana), marking the most in a season since 2017-18 when it had seven.
- UT also suffered setbacks to six squads ranked at the time it played them: No. 3/5 UConn (67-61), No. 6/5 Texas A&M (80-70), No. 7/7 South Carolina (67-52), No. 16/14 Michigan (70-55), No. 20/18 Kentucky (71-56) and No. 22/23 Georgia (57-55), with Rennia Davis missing the UK game due to medical reasons, Keyen Green missing all of those games and Marta Suárez being hampered severely during the losses with Kentucky, Texas A&M, Georgia and South Carolina and and out vs. Michigan.
- Tennessee's other two losses were to teams who ended up being ranked but weren't at the time: No. 10/13 Georgia (67-66) and No. 17/24 West Virginia (79-73 OT).
- Tennessee finished at No. 16 in the NCAA NET Rankings, sitting as the fourth-highest SEC team behind South Carolina (5), Texas A&M (13) and Georgia (15).
- UT went 8-9 vs. top-50 NET teams. It also had wins over LSU and Florida squads that were in the top 64 for all but the last ranking period.
- The Lady Vols had wins over NET No. 5 South Carolina, No. 9 Indiana, No. 24 Arkansas, No. 26 Kentucky, No. 36 Alabama, No. 39 Ole Miss (twice) and No. 47 Missouri among the top 50.
- UT had four close losses, including to No. 2 UConn (by six), No. 16 Georgia (twice by a combined total of three points) and No. 24 West Virginia (by six in overtime). UT also fell to No. 4 South Carolina in the SEC Tournament and to No. 18 Kentucky on Feb. 11 without the services of Rennia Davis due to medical reasons.

REMAINING PERFECT IN NCAA BIDS

- The Lady Vols made their 39th consecutive NCAA Tournament, continuing as the only school to appear in every Division I tourney.
- Tennessee earned a No. 3 seed in the River Walk Region, marking the program's fifth time as a No. 3 seed in the tournament.
- UT is now 126-31 in NCAA Tournament play, ranking first in games played (157) and victories (126) and second in winning percentage (.803).
- The Lady Vols defeated No. 14 seed Middle Tennessee, 87-62, in the NCAA First Round in Austin, Texas, on March 21 and fell, 70-55, to No. 6 seed Michigan in San Antonio on March 23.
- The entire tournament was held in the San Antonio area, as the NCAA created a bubble-like atmosphere to keep teams healthy while the world was in the grips of the COVID-19 pandemic.

HARPER REMAKE CONTINUES

- It's not ideal to try and remake a program during the midst of a pandemic, but Kellie Harper has continued to keep Tennessee on an upward path.
- Season two saw the program defeat four ranked teams after beating only one in 2019-20.
- In leading Tennessee to a postseason berth, the second-year Lady Vol skipper became only the second basketball coach to guide four different programs into NCAA Division I Women's Tournament play.
- She is the first to do so at her alma mater and would have done so sooner had the 2020 tournament not been canceled due to the spread of COVID-19.
- Harper has led Western Carolina (2005, 2009), NC State (2010), Missouri State (2016, 2019) and her alma mater, Tennessee (2021), to the Big Dance.
- She joins Jim Foster, who guided St. Joseph's, Vanderbilt, Ohio State and Chattanooga to NCAA bids.
- It marked the 13th postseason appearance of Harper's head coaching career, including her sixth in the NCAA Tournament.
- Tennessee finished third in the SEC for the second straight season after being picked sixth by the media and seventh by the coaches in 2019-20 and sixth by each in 2020-21.

TESTING THEIR GRIT

- A young Tennessee lineup learned to play with grit, and the fight from players became quite evident.
- UT came from behind, held on during runs or overcame injuries, foul trouble or poor shooting games to win.
- Kellie Harper's program is 9-4 in games decided by five points or fewer since she arrived, including 4-2 in 2020-21 with one-point wins over LSU and Ole Miss, five-point wins over Missouri and Ole Miss (SEC Tournament) and both a one-point loss and two-point setback to Georgia.
- The 2020-21 Lady Vols trailed in 19 games and came back to win 11 of them. They also made late charges in the games they lost before coming up short.

A KNACK FOR BUZZER-BEATERS

- Rennia Davis hit 15 career buckets during her UT career with the clock winding down.
- She hit two game winners. Davis lifted Tennessee past Alabama last season and Auburn (SEC Tournament) as a freshman with last-second shots.
- She also put points on the board at the end of the first half four times during her career, including once in each of her four seasons as a Lady Vol. The latest was a three-pointer at the end of the first half vs. Ole Miss in the 2021 SEC Tournament.
- Also clutch at the end of other quarters, Davis scored in the closing seconds of the third quarter seven times and at the end of the first stanza twice.
- Jordan Horston has had a few herself, including a 3/4-court three at the end of the first quarter vs. Ole Miss in the 2021 SEC Tournament, and a game-winning runner at Auburn in the 2020 regular-season finale.

STRONG IN THE PAINT, ON BOARDS

- In 2020-21, Tennessee proved to be a strong scoring team inside and one that worked diligently to get second chance points as well.
- The Lady Vols won the points in the paint battle 21 times, lost it twice and tied with two other teams.
- UT outworked its foes in second-chance points in 20 games, while losing that battle five times.
- The Big Orange ranked No. 5 nationally and No. 2 in the SEC in rebound margin at 12.8.
- Tennessee finished sixth nationally in rebounds per game (45.52) and second in the SEC.
- The squad was No. 18 nationally and No. 2 in the SEC in offensive rebounds per game (15.5).

MAKE 'EM MAKE TOUGH SHOTS

- Tennessee proved once again to be difficult to shoot well against.
- The Lady Vols ranked No. 28 in the country and No. 1 in the SEC in field goal percentage defense in 2020-21, limiting opponents to only 36.3 percent accuracy.
- UT ranked No. 6 in the nation and No. 2 in the SEC in 2019-20 in field goal percentage defense at 33.8.

SEASON HONORS

- Rennia Davis received WBCA All-America Honorable Mention accolades for the third year in a row and the same honors from the USBWA and Associated Press for the second time in her career.
- Davis won the Senior CLASS Award, becoming the first Lady Vol to do so. The award, chosen by a nationwide vote of Division I women's basketball coaches, national basketball media and fans, is given annually to the most outstanding student-athlete in Division I women's basketball.
- The Tennessee Sports Writers Association chose her as its Women's College Basketball Player of the Year
- Davis also was a finalist for the Cheryl Miller Award, given to the nation's best small forward.
- The SEC Coaches Awards came out on March 2, and Rennia Davis was All-SEC First Team (her third time on the All-SEC team/second time on first team), Rae Burrell was All-SEC Second Team, Tamari Key made the All-Defensive Team and Marta Suárez was named to the All-Freshman Team.
- Kellie Harper was on the Werner Ladder Naismith Women's Coach of the Year late season list.
- Davis also advanced to the John R. Wooden Award Late Season Top 20, the Jersey Mike's Women's Naismith Trophy Midseason Team and the Wade Trophy Midseason Watch List.
- Davis was named the SEC and College Sports Madness SEC Player of the Week on Dec. 21 and 23, respectively. She also collected SEC Player of the Week kudos on Feb. 23.
- The entire Lady Vol squad was recognized when the SEC Community Service Team was announced for their continued work in the Knoxville area, which included virtual volunteer opportunities.
- Tennessee was chosen as SEC Team of the Week on Jan. 25 after UT dropped a narrow decision to UConn and defeated No. 12/12 Kentucky.
- Tamari Key picked up her first-ever SEC weekly honor on Feb. 2, being named SEC Co-Player of the Week along with Chelsea Dungee of Arkansas.
- Marta Suárez was named the SEC Freshman of the Week on Jan. 26.

SNAPSHOT OF RENNIA DAVIS

- Rennia Davis averaged 17.3 points and 8.8 rebounds per game to pace Tennessee in both categories in 2020-21 as a senior.
- She shot 48.0 percent from the field and 85.3 percent at the free-throw line.
- Even better in SEC play, Davis put up 20.0 ppg. and 9.0 rpg. while shooting 52.3 percent from the floor and 85.2 at the charity stripe.
- Her worksheet also included 10 double-doubles and 10 games of 20 or more points.
- From a career standpoint, Davis concluded her UT tenure fourth all-time among Lady Vols in double-doubles with 39, trailing only Chamique Holdsclaw (57), Mercedes Russell (46) and Candace Parker (45).
- She was fifth in career 20-point scoring games with 23.
- Davis wound up ninth in scoring (1,815) and points per game (15.4), 10th in rebounds (947) and sixth in rebounds per game at 8.03 rpg.
- Additionally, she finished sixth in free-throw percentage (.816), eighth in field goals attempted (1,477) and ninth in field goals made (696).
- Davis joined Holdsclaw, Parker and Tamika Catchings as the only Lady Vols to currently rank in the UT career top 10 in points, points per game, rebounds and rebounds per game.

LYNX PICK DAVIS, KASI PLAYS OVERSEAS

- Rennia Davis became the 43rd Tennessee women's basketball player, and the first of the Kellie Harper era, to be taken in a WNBA Draft, with the 6-foot-2 guard/forward going to the Minnesota Lynx with the No. 9 pick of the first round.
- Davis became the 18th Lady Vol to be chosen during the first round. UT's numbers include two players (Dena Head and Daedra Charles) who were first-round selections in the 1997 WNBA Elite Draft and another (Diamond DeShields) who played overseas in Turkey before being chosen in the 2018 WNBA College draft.
- Davis' selection nudged Tennessee back in front of UConn (40) for most alums taken exclusively in the college draft with 41. UT is second in first-round picks in the college draft with 16, trailing only UConn's total of 26. No SEC school comes close to sending as many players on to the next level.
- Davis, who is the highest Lady Vol selection since Diamond DeShields went at No. 3 to the Chicago Sky in 2018, is the first Lady Vol ever to be chosen at No. 9 and the fifth UT player to be drafted by the Lynx. The others were Tonya Edwards (1st Rd., 7th, 1999), Tasha Butts (2nd Rd., 20th, 2004), Nicky Anosike (2nd Rd., 16th, 2008) and Bashaara Graves (2nd, 22nd, 2016).
- Senior Kasiyahna Kushkituah, a reserve center who started the last 11 games of the season at power forward, earned pro contracts in Brazil and Portugal.

THREE NEWCOMERS BECOME STARTERS

- A trio of newcomers Kellie Harper recruited all became starters last season in year one.
- Freshman wing Marta Suarez started from day one until an injury ended her season.
- Graduate transfer forward Keyen Green started the first four games before an injury ended her year.
- Another graduate transfer, point guard Jordan Walker started the first four and 13 total.

KNOXVILLE, Tenn. -- The Lady Vols opened the 2020-21 season with an impressive 87-47 win over Western Kentucky in Thompson-Boling Arena.

Junior guard/forward Rae Burrell led Tennessee with 18 points and a career-high seven assists. Four other Lady Vols found their way into double digits with redshirt junior guard Jordan Walker adding 13, freshman guard/forward Marta Suárez scoring 11, and senior forward Rennia Davis and freshman guard Destiny Salary each pitching in 10. Davis also tallied 11 rebounds to record her 30th career double-double.

WKU was paced by Ally Collett who finished the day with 16 points and three rebounds. Meral Abdelgawad was the second-leading scorer with 13 points and nine rebounds.

Tennessee started the game with a balanced attack, with seven Lady Vols contributing to UT's 17 first-quarter points. Davis scored Tennessee's initial points of the season, hitting a layup in the opening seconds. She followed it up with a second layup a couple minutes later to fuel a 7-4 Lady Vol lead by the media timeout. Immediately following the break, Jordan Horston snagged a steal and found Suárez in transition to put Tennessee up 9-4 with 5:48 remaining in the half.

The Big Orange built their lead to 15-7 before Collett answered with a 3-pointer to close the gap to 15-10 at the 2:38 mark. Horston fired in two free throws for Tennessee, but Myriah Haywood countered with a three, cutting the Hilltoppers' deficit to 17-13 by the end of the period.

Both teams started the second quarter in a shooting slump, playing more than two minutes before Davis put in a layup off a Burrell assist. Burrell followed it up on the next possession with a 3-pointer, and Walker added a fast-break layup to extend UT's lead to 24-13 with 6:35 remaining in the half. A Walker trey and a Suárez layup extended Tennessee's run to 12-0 bridging the first and second stanzas before Haywood knocked down a jumper, moving the score to 29-15 with 4:36 on the clock. WKU countered with a 5-0 run of its own, but Burrell and Salary each responded with 3-pointers for UT, and the Lady Vols headed into halftime up 38-20.

Collett opened the scoring in the second half, knocking down a trey for WKU. The teams traded buckets in the opening minutes until Walker scored on back-to-back possessions to push UT's lead to 20 at the 6:36 mark. Tennessee maintained its 20-point advantage through the media timeout and launched into a 10-0 run coming out of the break, fueled largely by six-straight points in the paint from Kasiyahna Kushkituah. A Fatou Pouye 3-pointer ended the run and cut the Lady Vols' lead to 27 at 63-36, but Salary scored on back-to-back possessions, including a buzzer-beater three to send UT into the final stanza up 68-36.

Tennessee continued to build its lead in the fourth quarter with eight Lady Vols combining to score 19 points while holding the Hilltoppers to just 11, giving Tennessee a 40-point win to open the season.

KNOXVILLE, Tenn. -- The Lady Vols held off a scrappy ETSU team, taking a 67-50 victory in Thompson-Boling Arena.

Tennessee (2-0) was led in scoring by Rae Burrell, who finished with 20 points on 7-of-11 shooting. Rennia Davis and Jordan Horston were also in double figures with 15 and 12, respectively.

Jakhyia Davis was the high scorer for the Buccaneers (1-1), finishing with 11 points and six rebounds.

Marta Suárez scored the first points of the game on a driving layup, and Davis followed it up with a jumper to give the Lady Vols a quick 4-0 lead. ETSU rallied back, tying it up at 9-9 with three minutes remaining in the quarter off an old-fashioned 3-point play by E'Lease Stafford. Tennessee responded by closing out the half with a 9-2 run to lead 18-11 going into the second period.

Keyen Green knocked down a layup to extend UT's lead to nine before Mykia Dowdell answered with a trey on the other end to put the score at 20-14 just a minute into the quarter. The teams traded baskets until Green knocked down another layup to kick off a 10-2 run spanning two and a half minutes that gave UT a 15-point lead with four minutes remaining in the half. The Lady Vols led by as many as 16, but the Buccaneers closed out the half on an 8-2 run to cut the deficit to 10 at the half, 38-28.

The Lady Vols came out hot in the second half with Davis nailing a jumper just seven seconds in to kick off a 10-point run, moving the score to 48-28 just over three minutes in and forcing the Buccaneers to call a timeout. Following the break, ETSU outscored UT 9-2 to scrap back within 13 by the 3:03 mark. Davis and Horston combined for five points in the last minute and a half to build Tennessee's lead to 55-38 entering the final stanza.

Davis converted on a 3-point play to stretch UT's lead back to 20 to start the fourth. Jakhyia Davis answered with a three for the Buccaneers before Burrell and Green scored on back-to-back possessions to give Tennessee its largest lead of the game at 21. ETSU pulled within 16 with just over five minutes left in the game before UT once again extended its lead to 21. The Buccaneers closed out the contest with four straight points to bring the final score to 67-50.

MORGANTOWN, W.Va. -- Junior Rae Burrell and sophomore Jordan Horston combined for 17 fourth-quarter points, but it wasn't enough to give UT the win as the Lady Vols suffered their first loss of the season, falling to WVU on the road in overtime, 79-73.

Burrell was Tennessee's (2-1) high scorer with 18 points, nine of which came in the fourth quarter and included a 7-of-8 effort at the free-throw line. Horston and Keyen Green were also in double figures, notching 13 and 12, respectively.

West Virginia (4-0) was led by Kysre Gondrezick with 27 points and five assists. Madisen Smith also had a good outing, tallying 16 points and six assists.

The Lady Vols got off to a slow start, with WVU jumping out to a 3-0 advantage before Marta Suárez converted on a layup to put UT on the board just under two minutes into the game. The Mountaineers built their lead to 10-4 before Burrell scored on back-to-back possessions to make the score 10-9 by the media timeout. Tennessee trailed by six with just over a minute left in the quarter, but Kasiyahna Kushkituah scored on back-to-back plays, including a put-back at the buzzer, to send UT into the second period down 17-15.

Burrell gave UT its first lead of the game at 22-20 just under two minutes into the second period. Green hit a jumper to extend UT's run to 9-0 and give the Big Orange a four-point lead with seven minutes remaining in the half. The Mountaineers tied it back up at 26 at the 4:05 mark off a Kari Niblack layup, but Rennia Davis answered on the other end to put Tennessee back out front. Gondrezick gave West Virginia a spark with 3:09 to go, scoring on a fast break and converting on an old fashioned three-point play to reclaim the lead and set off a 9-4 run that put West Virginia ahead 35-32 at the half.

Green hit the first bucket of the second half to pull UT within one, but Gondrezick answered with a layup, and West Virginia went on to lead by six points three minutes into the third quarter. Tennessee rallied back with Suárez and Horston knocking down jumpers to pull the Lady Vols within two at 40-42 by the 5:17 mark. UT hit a scoring slump following the media timeout, and the Mountaineers built their lead to seven with three minutes to go in the quarter. Green converted on a three-point play to break the West Virginia scoring run, and Burrell followed it up with a fast break layup to pull the Lady Vols within two at 47-45 with 1:54 on the clock. West Virginia rallied back, building its lead back up to six and taking a 51-46 lead into the final stanza.

Tamari Key was first to strike in the fourth, hitting a layup to pull UT within four. Esmery Martinez answered with a layup of her own on the other end before Horston and Burrell combined to bring the Lady Vols within one point with eight minutes to play at 53-52. The Mountaineers jumped back out by five, but Green hit two free throws and Burrell put in a fast break layup to close the gap to one at 61-60 with 5:22 left in regulation. Following the media timeout, Horston banked in a shot to give UT the lead. She followed it up a minute later with a layup and scored again at the 1:13 mark to give Tennessee its largest lead of the game at 66-61. Smith answered with a trey on the other end, and Kirsten Deans added a layup and drew a foul but failed to convert on the free throw, giving UT the ball back with 12 seconds remaining and the score tied at 66. However, neither team was able to score in the closing seconds, sending the game into overtime.

Green reclaimed the lead for the Lady Vols with a short jumper 40 seconds into extra time, but Gondrezick responded with a jumper of her own on the other end, setting off a 7-0 WVU run that put the hosts up 73-68 with 1:43 left to play. Suárez and Davis each added baskets in the closing seconds, but it wasn't enough to overcome the deficit as Tennessee fell 79-73.

KNOXVILLE, Tenn. -- A career day from junior Rae Burrell, who finished with 26 points and seven assists, fueled a 90-53 Lady Vols' win over Furman in Thompson-Boling Arena.

Tennessee (3-1) shot a sizzling 54.8 percent from the floor, including an impressive 58.3 percent from behind the arc. Redshirt junior Jordan Walker was also in double digits for the Lady Vols with 14 points and three rebounds.

Furman (1-3) was led by Tierra Hodges, who had 17 points and seven rebounds. Tate Rodgers and Sydney James each pitched in 11.

Jordan Walker started out hot, knocking down a 3-pointer to score the first points of the game and give Tennessee a lead it never relinquished. Rennia Davis, Burrell, Marta Suárez, Tamari Key & Jordan Horston also got in on the scoring early, propelling UT to a 20-6 lead by the media break. Coming out of the timeout the Lady Vols picked up where they left off with Key scoring back-to-back layups to extend Tennessee's streak of unanswered points to 12 before Jarya Outten scored for Furman, sparking an 8-0 run by the Paladins to close out the quarter with a UT lead of 24-14.

Furman continued its streak, starting the second period with a Celena Taborn layup, but Destiny Salary moved UT's lead back to double digits on the following possession with a layup. Burrell heated up just over three minutes into the quarter, hitting a 3-pointer, assisting a Walker layup and managing a steal and a score on subsequent possessions, boosting UT's lead to 39-20 by the 5:43 mark. Burrell would hit two more treys and a jumper before the end of the half, helping fuel a halftime score of 52-33.

The Paladins came out swinging in the second half with Walters and Hodges combining for five quick points while holding the Lady Vols scoreless for nearly two minutes. Horston broke the slump, driving through the lane to hit a layup, and Jessie Rennie followed it up with a layup of her own to put the score at 56-40 by the 7:11 mark. But Hodges continued to find success offensively, scoring 10 straight Furman points to whittle the deficit to 11 with 5:36 left in the quarter. Davis hit a layup with 5:31 on the clock, setting off a 12-1 UT run capped off by two more Burrell treys that put the Lady Vols up 69-47 with under a minute to play in the quarter. Sydney James converted on two free throws for the Paladins in the final seconds to send the game into the final stanza with Tennessee up by 20.

The teams traded 3-pointers to start the fourth, but that would be the last field goal Furman would hit, as Tennessee launched into an 18-0 run with five different Lady Vols contributing to close out the game and take a 90-53 victory.

BLOOMINGTON, Ind. -- Senior wing Rennia Davis turned in her 31st career double-double to fuel an upset over No. 15 Indiana in Simon Skjodt Assembly Hall, 66-58.

Davis scored 19 points and grabbed a career-high 15 rebounds to lead Tennessee (4-1) in both categories. Junior Rae Burrell was close behind with 18 points, and sophomore Jordan Horston also had a good showing, tallying 13 points, six rebounds and six assists.

Indiana (2-2), the preseason favorite to win the Big Ten, was led by Ali Patberg with 16 points and Jaelynn Penn, who recorded a double-double with 14 points and 10 rebounds. IU's leading scorers, Mackenzie Holmes (6) and Grace Berger (9), were held to a combined 15 points. They had entered the contest averaging 18.3 ppg. and 17.0 ppg., respectively.

Davis was first to strike for Tennessee, tying the score at 2-all a minute and a half into the contest. Marta Suárez and Burrell got in on the action as well, extending Tennessee's lead to 8-4 by the media break. Aleksa Gulbe knocked down a quick jumper coming out of the timeout, but Horston and Davis each hit layups to put UT back up by six with under three minutes left in the quarter. Patberg converted on an old-fashioned 3-point play to pull Indiana within three with just over a minute remaining, but Jordan Walker closed out the period with five quick points to push the advantage to 17-9.

The Hoosiers came out strong in the second quarter, scoring four quick points to pull within four a minute in. Tennessee struggled to score on its first few possessions of the quarter until Horston gave the Lady Vols a boost at the 6:31 mark, snagging a steal and then getting the rebound and the put-back at the other end. Davis followed it up with a layup on the next possession to stretch UT's lead back to eight at 21-13. Kiandra Browne responded by converting on a 3-point play on the other end, but Burrell set off a 6-0 Tennessee run that gave UT a double-digit lead with 4:24 left in the half. The teams traded buckets to close out the quarter, with Horston pouring in five-straight points for Tennessee to give the Lady Vols a 34-24 halftime lead.

The Hoosiers chipped away at Tennessee's lead at the free-throw line in the opening minute of the second half, pulling within seven before Kasiyahna Kushkituah put in a layup and Davis followed it up with a trey, sparking an 11-2 Tennessee run that was capped by back-to-back threes from Burrell that put UT up 45-29 just over two minutes into the third quarter. After that, the Lady Vols hit a bit of a scoring slump. They went without a field goal for over five minutes while Indiana poured in 10 points to pull within nine. Burrell responded, however, hitting a turnaround jumper with 2:16 left in the period to boost the lead back to 11. IU kept its foot on the gas to close out the quarter, outscoring UT 8-2 to trail by just six points entering the final stanza.

Indiana continued to build momentum to start the fourth quarter, pulling within two off back-to-back fast-break layups by Penn. Davis answered with a layup for UT, but Holmes and Patberg combined for three points to pull the Hoosiers within one at 54-53 with just under seven minutes to play. That's where the score would stay for more than three and a half minutes as neither team could find success offensively.

Davis broke the drought with a jumper at the 3:19 mark and followed it up with a layup on the next possession to put UT up 58-53 with 2:19 to play. The Hoosiers would cut the deficit to three off a Grace Berger layup, but that's as close as they'd get, as Davis and Burrell each came up with clutch buckets, and Horston converted on free throws to give UT the win on the road, 66-58.

KNOXVILLE, Tenn. -- The Lady Vols picked up their fourth home win of the season, toppling UNCG in Thompson-Boling Arena, 66-40.

Tennessee (5-1) was led by senior Kasiyahna Kushkituah who finished with a season-high 13 points and four rebounds. Scoring and minutes were evenly spread amongst the Lady Vols with all 11 active players contributing at least two points to the victory and seven contributing five or more points. Every UT player saw at least 13 minutes of playing time, with the reserves netting valuable experience with the SEC schedule approaching.

UNCG (1-7) was led by Tori Powell who logged 16 points and four rebounds. Lily Izundu and Excellanxt Greer each pitched in six points.

Tennessee wasted no time getting on the board, winning the tip and going up 2-0 off a Rennia Davis layup just seven seconds into the competition. Davis followed it up with five more points before the media timeout, putting the Lady Vols up 7-3 with 4:35 remaining in the quarter. Immediately following the break, Destiny Salary came up with a steal that resulted in a Kushkituah layup in transition, setting off seven unanswered points before Izundu hit a jumper in the closing seconds of the quarter to make the score to 14-5, UT.

Tennessee spread the ball around in the opening minutes of the second period with Burrell, Tamari Key & Marta Suárez all hitting buckets to build UT's lead to 20-7 three minutes in. Rhianna Council answered with a trey on the other end to put the Spartans in double digits. The teams traded baskets through the middle of the quarter until Davis, Tess Darby and Salary combined to fuel an 8-2 run that put UT up by 15 with 54 second left in the half. CeCe Crudup managed a 3-pointer just before the buzzer, pulling UNCG within 12 at 31-19 at the break.

Jordan Horston kicked things off in the second half with a steal and a score, but Powell answered on the next possession with a trey for the Spartans. The Lady Vols built their lead up to 17 by the 5:46 mark off points from Suárez and Burrell. The Spartans rallied back with a Greer three with just over four minutes left in the period, but the Lady Vols closed out the quarter with an 8-2 run to lead 49-29 entering the final stanza.

The Spartans heated up from behind the arc, hitting three treys in the fourth quarter, but Tennessee closed out the game with an 11-0 run spanning the final 3:48 of the game to win 66-40.

KNOXVILLE, Tenn. -- Senior Rennia Davis turned in a double-double with 19 points and 11 rebounds to lead Tennessee to a 77-52 win over Lipscomb in Thompson-Boling Arena.

Junior Rae Burrell finished with 10 points to join Davis in double figures for Tennessee (6-1), and senior Kasiyahna Kushkituah and sophomore Tamari Key each added nine. Every active player for the Lady Vols finished with at least two points.

Lipscomb (3-3) was led by senior Taylor Clark who had 14 points and four rebounds.

The game got off to a rocky start, as both teams struggled with turnovers in the opening minute and a half before Key hit a short jumper to get Tennessee on the board at the 8:18 mark. Dorie Harrison answered with a bucket of her own on the other end, but Davis countered with six quick points for UT, fueling an 8-0 UT run that put the Lady Vols up 10-2 with 6:14 left in the quarter. The Lady Bisons rallied back, cutting the deficit to four a minute and a half later, but Tennessee closed out the period with a 12-1 run, capped off by a Jordan Horston trey at the buzzer, to lead 26-11 heading into the second quarter.

Both teams fell into a bit of a scoring slump in the second frame with each squad managing just four points apiece over seven minutes of play, maintaining the 15-point spread until Tess Darby hit a 10-foot jumper with 2:22 left in the half and Emily Saunders followed it up with a bucket under the basket to stretch the lead to 34-15 with just over a minute remaining. Lipscomb scrapped back within four off a Casey Collier free throw and 3-pointer, but Davis hit two free throws in the final seconds to push the halftime score to 36-19.

The Lady Bisons opened up the second half with a 3-pointer by Taylor Clark, but Marta Suárez responded with a trey of her own on the next possession, spurring an 11-0 Tennessee run that put the Lady Vols up 47-22 by the 6:07 mark. Lipscomb responded with an 11-4 spurt of its own, pulling within 18 with 2:36 left in the quarter, but the Lady Vols closed out the period with six straight points to take a 60-36 lead into the final stanza.

Tennessee extended its run in the fourth, scoring nine unanswered points to stretch the run to 15-0 and build a 69-36 lead with 7:30 left to play. The Lady Bisons heated up from behind the arc in the closing minutes, pouring in 18 points to Tennessee's eight and pulling within 25 points for a final score of 77-52 .

KNOXVILLE, Tenn. -- Tennessee opened SEC play with a victory over No. 13/13 Arkansas at home, winning 88-73 via an impressive 53.6 shooting percentage.

Senior Rennia Davis and junior Rae Burrell paced UT (7-1, 1-0 SEC), each turning in 26 points. Davis recorded her 33rd career double-double with an all-around effort, adding 11 rebounds, five assists and two steals to go along with her season-high point total. Senior Kasiyahna Kushkituah and sophomore Jordan Horston were also in double digits, chipping in 11 each.

UA (10-3, 1-2 SEC) was led by Chelsea Dungee who finished with 30 points and seven rebounds.

Marta Suarez put Tennessee on the board first with a layup in the first 30 seconds, but Arkansas wasted no time catching up with Daniels pouring in five straight points and Ramirez topping it off with a layup to put the Razorback up 7-2 just over two minutes into the game. Burrell heated up two minutes later, scoring on back-to-back possessions to pull UT within one at 9-8 by the media break. Dungee hit a layup immediately following the break to stretch UA's lead to three, but Davis followed it up with a layup of her own, setting off an 8-0 run to put UT up by five with just over a minute left in the quarter. Arkansas closed out the period with five straight points to trail by just one, heading into the second at 18-17.

Both sides came out of the break hot, with each team scoring on its first three possessions. Arkansas hit three straight treys while Tennessee countered with seven points of its own before forcing two stops that Davis and Burrell punctuated with buckets on the other end, putting the Lady Vols up 29-26 by the 7:26 mark. Burrell converted on a jumper just before the media timeout, and Kushkituah followed it up after the break, fueling an 8-0 run that put the Lady Vols up 37-30 with 3:23 remaining in the half. UA rallied back with five straight points from Dungee and Ramirez, but Burrell responded by knocking down a contested trey, and Davis followed it up with a layup on the next possession to put UT back up by seven with a halftime score of 42-35.

Tennessee carried its momentum through to the second half as Burrell and Tamari Key combined for the first five points of the period, stretching UT's lead to 12 by the 8:11 mark. Dungee converted on a three-point play and followed it up with a trey on the next possession to single-handedly fuel a 6-2 Arkansas run that made the score 49-41 with seven minutes remaining in the quarter. The teams then traded buckets until Jordan Walker knocked down a trey with just over four minutes remaining. Davis followed it up with a fast-break layup, and Horston capped it off with a block that resulted in three points on the other end, moving the score to 60-44 less than a minute later. Slocum countered with a trey for the Razorbacks, but Kushkituah hit a layup and Burrell came up with the steal and the score on the next possession to stretch the margin to 17. UA rallied back within 12 with one minute to go, but Burrell and Davis closed out the quarter with a combined six points while holding the Razorbacks to three to send the game into the final stanza with a score of 70-55.

Arkansas kicked off the fourth with five quick points by Slocum and Taylah Thomas, but Davis hit a layup to set off a 6-0 run that put the Lady Vols back up by 16 with 6:27 to play. UT would build its lead to as many as 20 before Arkansas rallied back with a 7-0 run to pull within 13 with just under two minutes to go. Tennessee, however, closed things out with a comfortable advantage, winning 88-73.

BATON ROUGE, La. -- The Lady Vols held off a scrappy LSU squad in a back-and-forth affair on the road, winning 64-63 in the Pete Maravich Assembly Center.

Junior Rae Burrell led Tennessee (8-1, 2-0 SEC), finishing with 18 points and three rebounds. Sophomore Tamari Key turned in a season-high 12 points and six rebounds, and sophomore Jordan Horston also found her way into double figures with 11 points.

LSU (4-6, 2-2 SEC) was paced by senior Khayla Pointer who logged 25 points and five assists. Tiara Young was the next highest scorer for the Tigers with 11 points and three rebounds.

Tennessee came out of the gate hot, jumping out to a 4-0 lead off a Key put-back and a steal and score by Horston in the opening minute. Pointer responded with four quick points for LSU, and the Tigers matched UT bucket for bucket through the next four minutes as the teams went into the media timeout with the score tied at 10. Following the break, Pointer gave LSU its first lead of the game with a 3-pointer, and Young followed it up with a layup to put the score at 15-10 by the 4:30 mark. UT closed the gap to one point in the closing minutes of the quarter, scoring primarily from the free-throw line, but a layup by Young at the buzzer gave LSU a 19-16 lead heading into the second quarter.

The Tigers stretched their lead back to five with an Ajae Petty layup on their first possession of the second period, but Jordan Walker answered with a trey on the other end for UT to cut it to two. The two-point deficit would hold until Pointer and Rakell Spencer combined for four-straight points to put LSU up 29-23 four minutes in. The Lady Vols continued to chip away, reclaiming the lead at 31-30 off a Davis jumper at the 1:33 mark. Young hit a pair of free throws to go back up by one, but Davis closed out the half with a layup to send UT into the locker room with a one-point advantage at 33-32.

In the second half, Key once again opened the scoring for UT, hitting a layup 20 seconds into the third period. Burrell followed it up with a layup off a Suárez steal, stretching UT's lead to 37-32 by the 9:19 mark. The Tigers bounced back with a 5-0 run to tie the score at 37-all with 6:52 to play in the quarter. Kasiyahna Kushkituah hit a pair of free throws to put Tennessee up by two, but Pointer responded with a free throw and a layup to put LSU up 40-39 at the media timeout. Faustine Aifuwa added a layup before Burrell responded with five-straight points to put UT up 46-44 at the 3:14 mark. Pointer answered with back-to-back layups to provide the game's eighth lead change, but Burrell closed out the period with a trey to send UT in the final stanza ahead 47-46.

Horston opened the fourth quarter with an old-fashioned three-point play, but Pointer and Awa Trasi combined to tie it up at 52-all with 6:36 left in the game. Tennessee launched into a 6-0 run, fueled by Kushkituah and Burrell, to lead 60-54 with 3:19 remaining. The Tigers whittled the deficit to two before Key hit a layup to put UT's lead back at four, but Pointer also hit a layup on the other end to keep LSU within striking distance. Horston again stretched UT's lead to four, but Young scored on a 3-point play to put the score at 64-63 with only 28 seconds to play. LSU managed to get up a shot just before the buzzer, but the attempt was no good, and Horston came up with the rebound as time expired to move UT to 2-0 in SEC play.

KNOXVILLE, Tenn. -- Despite shooting a solid 49 percent from the floor, No. 23/24 Tennessee dropped its first SEC contest, falling 67-66 to Georgia in Thompson-Boling Arena.

The Lady Vols led by as many as 17, but the Lady Bulldogs exploded for 29 points in the third quarter, claiming a lead they never relinquished.

UT (8-2, 2-1 SEC) was led by senior Rennia Davis with 15 points and four rebounds. Sophomores Tamari Key and Jordan Horston were also in double figures with 14 and 11 points, respectively.

Gabby Connally and Que Morrison were the top scorers for UGA (11-1, 3-1 SEC) with 17 each, and Mikayla Coombs chipped in 11.

Tennessee wasted no time getting on the board, with Rae Burrell finding Davis off the tip for a fast-break layup just four seconds into the game. Burrell followed it up with a jumper of her own before Georgia responded with a put-back by Maya Caldwell to make the score 4-2 a minute and a half in. Key converted on a jumper on the next possession before Connally knocked down a trey to pull the Lady Bulldogs within one, but the Lady Vols responded with a 7-2 run to lead 13-7 at the media break. UGA rallied back after the timeout, pulling within two before Horston managed the steal and the score and Burrell followed it up with a three to put UT ahead by 20-13 with 1:26 left in the quarter. Georgia scored four quick fast-break points, but UT closed out the quarter with a Key layup and a Horston trey at the buzzer to take a 25-17 lead into the second.

Tennessee stretched its lead to double digits off a pair of Key layups in the opening minutes of the second period. It then hit a bit of a shooting slump, however, as Georgia pulled back within six before Horston hit a layup just before the media break to push the score to 31-23. Burrell knocked down a layup following the timeout, adding to what would become a 9-0 run that put the Lady Vols up by 15 with 3:04 left in the half. Maori Davenport broke the drought for UGA, but Horston once again converted at the buzzer to lift the halftime score to 40-25.

Key scored the first points of the third quarter with a layup 11 seconds in, but the Lady Bulldogs slowly scrapped their way back, pulling within six by the media timeout off back-to-back threes by Morrison. Horston knocked down a 10-foot jumper following the timeout, but UT was plagued by turnovers and UGA went on to score nine-straight points, punctuated by treys from Connally and Morrison on subsequent possessions. Those buckets gave the Lady Bulldogs their first lead of the game at 50-49 with 47 seconds left in the period. UGA closed out the quarter with four more points, stretching the run to 13-0 and taking a 54-49 lead into the final stanza.

Georgia added to its lead with a Coombs layup before Key broke the slump with a layup, and then Jordan Walker followed it up with another on the next possession to cut the deficit to 56-53 with 6:32 to play. The teams traded buckets before Connally hit a trey and Morrison added a layup to stretch UGA's lead to eight with just under five to go. UT twice climbed back within three off points by Kasiyahna Kushkituah before Davis cut it to one with 29 seconds left in the game. With 13 seconds on the clock, UT forced a 5-second violation on a Georgia inbounds play, but a tied ball on the other end gave the Lady Bulldogs the ball back. UT had a lob attempt in the paint off an inbound pass with under three seconds remaining, but UGA disrupted the play and held on for a 67-66 victory.

TUSCALOOSA, Ala. -- Senior Rennia Davis poured in 21 points to lead the No. 23/24 Lady Vols to a commanding 82-56 victory over Alabama in Coleman Coliseum.

Davis added 10 rebounds to her 21 points to record her 34th career double-double. Junior Rae Burrell and sophomores Tamari Key and Jordan Horston were also in double figures for Tennessee (9-2, 3-1 SEC), finishing with 17, 15 and 14 points, respectively.

UT, which won its second straight over the Crimson Tide, improved to 51-7 in the all-time series and 17-2 in games at Coleman Coliseum.

Jordan Lewis paced Alabama (11-2, 4-2 SEC) with 22 points, and Jasmine Walker turned in a double-double with 17 points and 12 rebounds.

Both teams came out firing from long range, tying the score at 3-all just over a minute into play. Lewis and Walker combined to give Alabama an 8-5 lead by the 6:37 mark, but Burrell knocked down a jumper to kick off a 6-0 run that gave UT its first lead of the game at 11-8 a minute later. Alabama answered with a 6-0 run of its own, reclaiming the lead at 13-11 off a Walker layup with 3:41 remaining in the quarter. The Crimson Tide would maintain a lead into the closing seconds, but Horston fired in a trey to tie the score at 16-all at the end of the first.

Horston picked up where she left off in the second, putting the Lady Vols on top by driving across the lane and hitting a reverse layup. That was the second bucket of what would become a 19-0 run fueled by Horston, Key and Burrell that put Tennessee up 32-16 just over halfway through the period. Ariyah Copeland ended the drought for UA with a layup, but Davis and Burrell kept the pressure on, combining for six quick points to give UT a 19-point lead with 2:39 left in the half. Alabama would cut the deficit to 15, but Horston closed out the quarter with a trey and a buzzer-beating jumper to make the halftime score 42-23.

The Crimson Tide came out hot in the second half, whittling UT's lead down to 14 just over a minute into the quarter, but Davis and Burrell responded with back-to-back treys to give the Lady Vols a 48-28 lead by the 7:41 mark. The teams largely traded baskets through the middle of the quarter with Davis scoring eight-straight points for UT to put the score at 60-39 with 2:52 left in the period. UA narrowed the gap to 17 points off a Megan Abrams jumper a minute later, but UT outscored Alabama 10-4 in the closing minutes, punctuated by a Jordan Walker 3-pointer at the buzzer, to give Tennessee a 70-47 lead heading into the final stanza.

Burrell opened the fourth with a layup to stretch the Lady Vols' lead to 25. Walker responded with a layup for UA and followed up a Davis layup up with four more points to pull the Crimson Tide within 23 by the media timeout at 7:41-51. Following the break, Tess Darby and Marta Suárez hit back-to-back threes to expand UT's lead to 29 points with just over three minutes to play. Alabama closed out the game with a 5-2 run to make the final score 82-56, giving UT its most points against the Tide since 2012 and first total over 65 since 2016.

KNOXVILLE, Tenn. -- The No. 25/RV Lady Vols took a four-point lead into the final quarter but couldn't hold on, falling 67-61 to No. 3/5 UConn in Thompson-Boling Arena in front of a crowd of 3,553.

Tennessee (9-3, 3-1 SEC) was led by junior Rae Burrell who had 18 points and eight rebounds. Senior Rennia Davis narrowly missed a double-double with 11 points and nine rebounds, and sophomore Tamari Key and freshman Marta Suárez each turned in 10 points.

Christyn Williams led UConn (9-0, 7-0 Big East) with 20 points, and Evina Westbrook and Aubrey Griffin managed 15 and 10, respectively.

Tamari Key got Tennessee on the board first with a put-back just over a minute into play, while UConn came out cold and missed its first four shots before Olivia Nelson-Ododa hit a layup at the 7:27 mark. Burrell answered with a trey on the next possession, but Williams countered with one of her own to tie the score at 5-all with 6:29 left in the quarter. Paige Bueckers gave the Huskies their first lead of the game with a pair of free throws 30 seconds later. Key tied it back up with 4:22 on the clock, and the teams proceeded to trade buckets until Burrell and Kasiyahna Kushkituah scored on back-to-back plays while holding UConn to a free throw to go up 16-13 with 1:22 left in the quarter. Each team hit a free throw in the closing minute, and Williams converted on a jumper at the buzzer to send the game into the second period with UT up 17-16.

Williams opened the second with a quick jumper to put the Huskies up by one, but UT bounced back with a 5-2 run to lead by three points two and a half minutes in. The Huskies answered with an 8-0 run of their own to go ahead 26-23 before Burrell broke the drought with a 12-foot jumper on the next possession, putting the score at 28-25 at the media timeout. Following the timeout Marta Suárez came up with the steal and the score to cut the deficit to one with 3:31 left in the half, and she tied it up with a trey a minute later at 30-all. UConn added a point with a Westbrook free throw, but UT reclaimed the lead off a Key jumper on the next trip down the court and stretched it to four with a Destiny Salary 3-pointer by the 1:12 mark. A Westbrook trey 10 seconds later made the score 35-34, where it would remain until halftime.

UConn struck first in the second half, scoring on a Griffin layup before Jordan Horston countered with a jumper on the other end. UConn went up by two by the 7:39 mark, but Suárez and Burrell combined for four quick points that put the Lady Vols back on top at 41-39 a minute later. The lead would change hands two more times before the media break, but four-straight points by Davis following the break put the Big Orange up 45-42 with 4:16 left in the quarter. Williams cut it to one with a fast-break layup, and then both teams hit a scoring slump before Jordan Walker knocked down a three to push the score to 48-44 with 1:09 on the clock. UT would carry a four-point lead through the end of the quarter, entering the final stanza up 49-45.

The Huskies opened the fourth with a 7-1 run, reclaiming the lead at 52-50 with 7:53 left in the game, but Davis tied it with a jumper on the next possession. Back-to-back threes by Westbrook fueled a 9-0 run that gave UConn a 61-52 advantage by the media break, but Suárez hit a long-range three after the timeout to pull the score to 61-55 with 4:26 to play. The Lady Vols scored six unanswered to creep within two with 55 seconds to go, but Bueckers hit a three as the shot clock wound down to put the Huskies back up by five with 25 seconds left, and with Tennessee forced to foul, UConn converted on free throws to secure the victory.

KNOXVILLE, Tenn. -- The No. 25 Lady Vols rolled to a commanding victory over No. 12 Kentucky, winning 70-53 in Thompson-Boling Arena. The win was UT's third victory over a top-15 team this season, its highest number of wins over ranked opponents since the 2017-18 season.

Tennessee (10-3, 4-1 SEC) was led in scoring by sophomore Tamari Key, who posted a career-high 19 points on 8-of-10 shooting. Senior Rennia Davis turned in a double-double with 15 points and a career-high 20 rebounds. Junior Rae Burrell and senior Kasiyahna Kushkituah were also in double digits with 13 and 11, respectively.

Chasity Patterson was the high scorer for Kentucky (11-4, 4-3 SEC) with 15 points, and Rhyne Howard was close behind with 14, though UT's stifling defense relegated the 2020 SEC Player of the Year into a 3-for-16 shooting day from the field.

Kentucky jumped out to an early 3-1 lead off a KeKe McKinney trey less than a minute in, but Marta Suárez tied it up with a quick jumper off the rebound on the other end, setting off an 11-0 run that put the Lady Vols up 12-3 by the media timeout. Following the break Howard hit a long-range 3-pointer to end the drought for the Wildcats, and Robyn Benton hit a 10-footer on the next possession to cut the UK deficit to four. The four-point gap held until Jordan Walker hit a pair of free throws in the final minute to extend Tennessee's lead to six and send the game into the second period with the scoreboard reading 18-12.

The Lady Vols came out shooting cold from the floor in the second, failing to convert on their first six possessions while Kentucky tied it up at 18-all by the 5:32 mark. Burrell broke the slump for UT, converting on a trey 15 seconds later to make the score 21-18 at the media break. Following the timeout, Suárez and Burrell both added layups, stretching the lead to seven before Olivia Owens and Patterson combined to pull Kentucky within three with 1:09 left in the half. Burrell would add two more points before the final buzzer, making the halftime score 27-22 in favor of the Big Orange.

Horston found Key alone in the paint for UT's first bucket of the second half, and Key followed it up with two more baskets over the next two possessions, putting the Lady Vols up by 11 just under two minutes in. Howard hit one of a pair of free throws for Kentucky, but the Lady Vols kept the pressure on, holding UK without a field goal for four and a half minutes while Davis and Key combined for five points to stretch the lead to 38-23 before Patterson converted on a trey to put the score at 38-26 at the media break. Both teams came out of the timeout hot, each scoring on their next two possessions to move the score to 43-31 by the 3:24 mark, but UT held Kentucky scoreless for the rest of the quarter while scoring eight unanswered points to take a 49-31 lead into the final stanza.

The Lady Vols kept the pressure on, opening the fourth with a 9-1 run to lead by 26 points with 5:53 left to play. The teams traded baskets through the 3:39 mark, with Tennessee leading by 25 points after Key's final bucket of the game. UT's reserves got some action in the closing minutes, and the Wildcats closed out the game with a 10-4 run to bring the final margin to 17, 70-53.

KNOXVILLE, Tenn. -- The No. 20/22 Lady Vols held off an upset-minded Ole Miss team earning a 68-67 win in Thompson-Boling Arena.

Senior Rennia Davis led Tennessee (11-3, 5-1 SEC) with 21 points and seven rebounds, and junior Rae Burrell logged 17 points and three rebounds. Sophomore Jordan Horston was also in double figures, managing 13 points and three assists.

Donnetta Johnson was the high scorer for Ole Miss (7-6, 1-6 SEC) with 19 points, and Shakira Austin and Snudda Collins were close behind with 16 and 13, respectively.

Johnson scored on a fast-break layup a minute and a half in, and Collins followed it up with another on Ole Miss' next possession. Tamari Key got UT on the board with a layup at the 7:45 mark before four points from Austin stretched the Rebels' lead to six. It was a margin they would maintain until the final two minutes, when they held the Lady Vols scoreless for two possessions while putting in three points to lead 15-6 with 1:47 left in the quarter. Jordan Walker countered with a long-range jumper on the other end to cut it to seven, but Collins responded with a trey of her own to send the Rebels into the second period with an 18-8 lead.

UM opened the second frame with a 5-2 run to lead 23-10 two and a half minutes in, but Horston cut the deficit to eight points less than 30 seconds later. Mimi Reid answered with a 3-pointer, but Burrell knocked down a layup and Horston found Davis on the break to pull UT within seven at 26-19 just before the media timeout. Tennessee kept up the pace coming out of the break, holding the Rebels scoreless through three possessions while whittling the deficit down to two on the offensive end. Ole Miss would stretch its lead back to seven a minute and a half later, but UT closed out the half with four-straight points from Burrell and Davis to pull the halftime deficit to three at 33-30.

The teams swapped buckets in the opening minutes of the second half until Davis converted on an old-fashioned three-point play to tie the score at 41-all with 3:32 left in the quarter. She gave UT its first lead of the game on the following possession, but Ole Miss reclaimed it 30 seconds later off a 3-point play by Madison Scott. Davis again scored for UT to tie things up at 45, and Destiny Salary stretched the advantage to four by the end of the quarter with an assist to Key and a put-back.

Johnson opened the fourth quarter by scoring four straight points for Ole Miss to tie it up at 49-all, but Burrell knocked down a trey two and a half minutes in to give UT a three-point edge, a margin that would hold through the final media timeout. Following the break, Salary drove through the paint and knocked down a layup to stretch UT's lead to five, but the Rebels continued to hang around as Collins nailed a trey on the next possession and Johnson followed it up with a jumper to knot the score at 56 with just under five minutes left in the game. There would be three lead changes before Walker and Horston each hit a pair of free throws to put the Lady Vols up 64-61 with 58 seconds to play. A traveling violation on the other end gave the Big Orange the ball back, and Davis scored on a layup to extend the lead to five with 16 seconds on the clock. Reid converted on a three-point play in the closing seconds, but Burrell hit both of her free throws on the other end to give UT a four-point cushion with five seconds remaining. Johnson's 3-pointer at the buzzer cut the deficit to one, with the Lady Vols escaping with a 68-67 nail-biter.

KNOXVILLE, Tenn. -- Sophomore Tamari Key turned in a triple-double to lead No. 20/22 Tennessee to a 79-65 win over Florida in Thompson-Boling Arena.

Key totaled 23 points, 10 rebounds and 10 blocks, setting career highs in both points and blocks. It marks just the fourth triple-double in Lady Vol history, and the first since Jordan Reynolds notched one against UNCW on Dec. 29, 2016. Junior Rae Burrell also eclipsed the 20-point scoring mark for Tennessee (12-3, 6-1 SEC) with 21, while senior Rennia Davis finished with 14.

Florida (9-8, 2-7 SEC) was led by Kiara Smith and Lavender Briggs who each had 23. Smith added 10 rebounds to her point total to record a double-double.

Key came out hot, notching four points and a block in the first minute to give UT an early 4-2 lead. Florida bounced back and took the lead off a Smith free throw a minute and a half in and stretched it to seven points off back-to-back treys by Briggs before Burrell answered with a jumper to make the score 11-6 at the 6:52 mark. Burrell hit a pair of free throws to cut the deficit to three before the media break and picked up where she left off afterward, knocking down a 10-foot jumper on Tennessee's first possession following the timeout. Briggs and Smith combined to build Florida's lead back up to five with 1:51 left in the quarter, but Key and Jordan Walker combined to cut it to two with the Lady Vols trailing 21-19 at the end of the first.

Smith scored on a fast break at the outset of the second, but UT tied it up at 23-all two minutes into the period and reclaimed the lead 30 seconds later off a Horston jumper. Kasiyahna Kushkituah stretched the Lady Vols' advantage to four points before Smith ended the drought for UF, making the score 27-25 at the media timeout. Briggs tied it up after the media break, but Kushkituah answered with a bucket on the next play, setting off a 7-0 run that put the Big Orange up 34-27 with just under two minutes left in the half. Tennessee would maintain a seven-point lead through the end of the half, taking a 38-31 advantage into halftime.

Davis got things started in the second half, scoring on a turnaround jumper 45 seconds in. The teams traded baskets through the opening minutes until Burrell set off a 6-0 run that put UT up by 13 at the 6:35 mark. Smith cut it to single digits with a pair of free throws for the Gators three minutes later, but Davis hit two free throws to stretch UT's lead back to 11 on the next play, pushing the score to 56-45 with 3:01 left in the period. Briggs responded with a trey, and UF closed out the quarter with a 9-2 run to send the game into the final stanza with the Big Orange leading, 58-54.

Florida kept the pressure on in the fourth, pulling within one point by the 6:45 mark off a Smith fast-break layup, but Davis, Key and Burrell combined for six quick points to put the Lady Vols back up 66-59 by the final media timeout. Key and Burrell added two points each following the break to stretch the run to 10-0 and give UT an 11-point lead with 3:42 to go. Brynn Farrell hit two treys for UF in the closing minutes, but Tennessee poured in nine more points to earn a 79-65 victory.

LEXINGTON, Ky. -- No. 16/19 Tennessee outscored Kentucky 21-9 in the third quarter to erase an 11-point halftime deficit but couldn't hold off a No. 20/18 UK team that went a perfect 5-of-5 from behind the arc in the fourth quarter, falling 71-56 in Rupp Arena.

Junior Rae Burrell was the high scorer for the Lady Vols (12-4, 6-2 SEC), turning in 22 points and six rebounds. Sophomore Jordan Horston pitched in 11 points and three assists, and redshirt-junior Jordan Walker led the team in rebounding with nine boards.

UT played without all-star senior forward Rennia Davis, who did not make the trip to Lexington due to medical reasons.

Chasity Patterson had the hot hand for the Wildcats (14-5, 7-4 SEC) with 21 points, and Jazmine Massengill turned in 11.

Burrell was the first to score, hitting a layup in the opening seconds to set off a back-and-forth affair that would feature three lead changes and a tie before the media timeout, at which point UT was up 6-5. The Wildcats took the lead off a trey by Blair Green following the break, and Olivia Owens stretched their lead to four with a jumper a minute later. Burrell ended the UK run with a layup, but the Wildcats were back up by five less than a minute later. Freshman Destiny Salary narrowed the gap by converting on a three-point play to end the quarter with UT within two at 13-11.

Kentucky opened the second period with a 7-2 run to lead by seven a minute in, but Horston and Burrell combined to cut it to back to two by the 7:36 mark. Tatyana Wyatt knocked down a 3-pointer on the next possession, and Tamari Key responded with a layup before UK embarked on a 12-0 spree spanning three and a half minutes to lead 35-20 with just under two and a half minutes left in the half. Burrell and Tess Darby accounted for six-straight points to cut the deficit to single digits, but Patterson knocked down a jumper for Kentucky to send the home team into the locker at halftime with a 37-26 lead.

Kasiyahna Kushkituah scored just 12 seconds into the second half, and Key followed it up less than a minute later to cut the Wildcats' lead to seven. Rhyne Howard ended the UK drought with a fast-break layup, but Burrell answered with a trey on the other end to make the score 39-33 with 7:48 left in the quarter. Horston added a pair of free throws 30 seconds later, and Burrell and Key each hit layups to stretch UT's run to 9-0 and tie the score at 39-all by the 5:54 mark. Following a Kentucky timeout, Kushkituah hit a pair of free throws to give UT its first lead since midway through the first quarter at 41-39, and on the next possession, Burrell nailed a trey to put UT up by six. Key knocked down the second of a pair of free throws to extend UT's run to 15-0 before Massengill hit a three-pointer to end the UK slump and cut the gap to 45-42 with just under three minutes left in the quarter. Kentucky outscored UT by two in the final minutes of the period, narrowing the Lady Vols' lead to one at 47-46.

The Wildcats reclaimed the lead at the outset of the fourth off a Wyatt jumper, setting off a 7-0 run that spanned almost three minutes and put the Wildcats up 53-47 with 7:07 left in the game. Kushkituah ended the skid with a layup, and Horston added a jumper less than a minute later to cut it to two by the 5:51 mark. The teams traded buckets on the next two possessions, but Patterson and Massengill then combined for five-straight points that gave Kentucky a seven-point advantage with four minutes to go in the game. Horston hit one of a set of free throws to cut it down to six, but that's as close as the Lady Vols would get. The Wildcats were hot from the floor, closing out the game with three-straight 3-pointers to take a 71-56 victory.

COLLEGE STATION, Texas -- No. 16/19 Tennessee pulled within one late in the fourth but couldn't overcome a No. 6/5 Texas A&M team that shot 63 percent from the floor in the final quarter and also hit 17 of 22 free throws in that period, falling 80-70 in Reed Arena.

Senior Rennia Davis led Tennessee (12-5, 6-3 SEC) with 25 points and added four rebounds, marking her fourth game this season and 17th of her career with 20 or more points. Sophomore Tamari Key turned in her second double-double of the season with 10 points and 10 rebounds. Junior Rae Burrell was also in double figures in points with 18 points and five rebounds, while Kasiyahna Kushkituah added 10 boards and eight points.

Destiny Pitts was the high scorer for Texas A&M (19-1, 10-1 SEC) with 18 points, and Jordan Nixon was close behind with 15. Aaliyah Wilson and Kayla Wells turned in 13 points apiece, and Ciera Johnson added 10.

The Aggies got off to a quick start, jumping out to a 6-0 lead before Key got UT on the board with a layup, setting off an 11-0 run contributed to by four different Lady Vols that put Tennessee up five by the 5:00 mark. TAMU was held without a field goal for 6:03 before Wells and Pitts combined for two treys and a jumper in the final two minutes while limiting UT to a layup by Key, sending the game into the second period tied at 15-all.

The Aggies were again the first to score, reclaiming the lead off a layup by McKinzie Green. The teams then traded baskets, tying the score up on three separate occasions in the first two minutes before Wells hit a jumper to set off a 6-0 run that put Texas A&M up 27-21 by the 6:45 mark. Tennessee rallied back, getting the ball in the paint to Key and Kushkituah to pull back within two points just over a minute later. Wilson stretched TAMU's lead back to four before the media timeout, but Davis put in a layup to cut it to two. Burrell and Marta Suárez combined for five points in the final minute of the half, and the Aggies were limited to just a layup, sending the game to the half tied 32-32.

Texas A&M jumped out to a five-point lead in the third off quick buckets by Wilson and Nixon, but a trey by Burrell and a layup by Kushkituah tied it at 37 by the 8:13 mark. Key hit a pair of free throws to again tie it up at 39-all before Burrell added a layup and Suárez hit her second three of the game to give UT the lead at 44-39 with 6:39 left in the quarter. The Lady Vols carried a four-point lead into the media timeout, but the Aggies cut it down to one with just over four minutes to go in the quarter. Davis responded with a driving layup, but then UT went cold from the floor as TAMU closed out the quarter with a 6-1 run to send Tennessee into the final stanza down two at 51-49.

Burrell knocked down a pair of free throws in the first minute of the fourth to tie it up at 51. The teams swapped baskets over the next four possessions before Johnson and Pitts scored on back-to-back plays to put Texas A&M up by four with 7:06 left in the game. Burrell cut it to two on the next play, but Nixon converted on four-straight free throws to stretch the Aggie lead to 63-57 a minute and a half later. Davis bounced back with a trey before Wilson scored on a fast break layup to make the deficit five for UT. Davis and Burrell then added two free throws each, pulling Tennessee within one point with 2:11 to play. Pitts knocked down a trey on the next possession, and Davis answered with a jumper, but a foul behind the arc on the other end gave Pitts three free throws, all of which she hit, to put TAMU up by five at the 1:21 mark and force Tennessee to foul. Davis added two more points for UT, but the Aggies were able to convert on their free throws, taking an 80-70 victory.

KNOXVILLE, Tenn. -- Senior Rennia Davis turned in 24 second-half points, as No. 21/21 Tennessee erased a 12-point halftime deficit to upset No. 2/3 South Carolina in Thompson-Boling Arena, 75-67. The win snapped a 31-game SEC win streak for the Gamecocks and marked UT's first victory over a top-five team since taking an 82-75 win over No. 2/4 Texas, 82-75, in Knoxville on Dec. 10, 2017.

Davis added 12 rebounds to record the 36th double-double of her career. Junior Rae Burrell was also in double figures for Tennessee (13-5, 7-3 SEC) with 19 points, and sophomore Jordan Horston pitched in 12 points and five assists with no turnovers on the night.

South Carolina (17-3, 12-1 SEC) was led by Aliyah Boston, who posted a double-double with 17 points and 16 rebounds. Zia Cooke and Destanni Henderson were the other top scorers, turning in 15 each.

The game was tied up at six apiece at the 5:47 mark, but Burrell responded with a layup on the next trip down the floor to score her eighth-straight point and reclaim the lead for Tennessee. South Carolina again tied it up off a Victaria Saxton layup just before the media break, but Tamari Key scored her first points of the game off a pass inside by Horston to make the score 10-8 with 3:38 left in the first. Henderson scored on back-to-back possessions to give USC its first lead of the game at 12-10 at the 1:51 mark. The teams traded buckets through the end of the quarter with the Gamecocks maintaining their two-point advantage into the final seconds until Horston hit a jumper at the buzzer to tie the score at 16-all.

South Carolina had its lead built back up to four a minute into the second quarter. Buckets by Kasiyahna Kushkituah and Key pulled UT back within two twice before Boston and Henderson combined for five points to put USC up 27-20 with 5:48 remaining in the half. Following the media break, South Carolina stretched its run to 15-1 to lead by 16, 37-21, by the 1:43 mark. Burrell and Kushkituah each added baskets to close out the half with four-straight points, cutting the halftime score to 37-25.

UT cut USC's lead to single digits at 37-29 early on, but the Gamecocks rallied with a 7-0 run capped off by a Henderson trey before Kushkituah turned it around for Tennessee, hitting a layup to set off a 6-0 Lady Vol run and make the score 44-35 by the media break. South Carolina stretched its lead to double digits off a Cooke jumper following the timeout, but Davis and Horston scored seven-straight for UT to narrow the gap to four with 2:48 left in the stanza. Boston converted on two free throws to move the score to 48-42, but a fast-break layup by Destiny Salary and an old-fashioned three-point play by Jordan Walker on the next possession had the Lady Vols within one with just over two minutes left in the third. A minute later UT claimed its first lead of the second half, going up 51-50 off a driving layup by Horston. Tennessee held on to a one-point lead until the final seconds when a jumper by Boston sent the game into the final period with USC up, 54-53.

South Carolina pulled away by four in the opening minutes of the fourth, but Burrell hit a clutch trey with 7:25 left in the game to pull UT back within one, and two minutes later Davis added a three of her own to tie it up at 62-all. Walker gave UT the lead on a layup on the next possession, and Horston and Key each added a free throw to extend the lead to four with just over four minutes to play. Davis increased UT's lead to six before USC whittled it back down to three from the free-throw line. Horston hit a layup at the 1:38 mark, and Davis came up with a rebound on the other end and drew the foul, hitting both free throws to put the game out of reach at 72-65 with under a minute to play. With the Gamecocks forced to foul, UT was able to capitalize on free throws, taking a 75-67 victory.

ATHENS, Ga. -- No. 21/21 Tennessee pulled within one in the final seconds at No. 22/23 Georgia but couldn't overcome a tough day offensively, falling 57-55 in Stegeman Coliseum.

Senior Rennia Davis led Tennessee (13-6, 7-4 SEC) with 22 points and six rebounds. Junior Rae Burrell turned in 10 points and five rebounds, and senior Kasiyahna Kushkituah pulled down 13 rebounds to tie her career high.

Gabby Connally was the high scorer for Georgia (17-4, 9-4 SEC), finishing with 24 points. Que Morrison was also in double figures with 11 points, and Jenna Staiti grabbed 12 boards.

Davis was the first to score, driving to the basket 40 seconds into play. Morrison tied it up 30 seconds later, but both teams struggled offensively in the opening minutes, with the score remaining tied at 2-2 until the 5:15 mark when Staiti hit a layup to make the score 4-2 just before the teams went to the first quarter media timeout. Neither squad scored a field goal until Morrison hit a layup with 2:58 left in the quarter, moving the score to 7-4. Connally and Javyn Nicholson followed it up with buckets to give Georgia a 6-0 run before Davis found her way into the lane for a layup, pulling UT within five points with just over a minute to play in the opening stanza. The Lady Vols closed out the half with four points from the free-throw line to cut the deficit to two, but a jumper from Sarah Barker at the buzzer sent Georgia into the second period up 14-10.

Barker hit a free throw to move the Bulldogs' lead to five in the opening minute of the second, but the Lady Vols rallied back within one by the 7:58 mark off buckets by Davis and Kushkituah. Connally stretched UGA's lead back to four with a trey with 5:55 left in the half, but Tamari Key hit a pair of free throws to make it 18-16 at the media timeout. Following the break, Staiti and Connally combined to fuel a 7-0 run that put Georgia up 25-16 with 2:14 to go. Key knocked down the first of a pair of free throws, but Nicholson hit a layup on the next possession to give the Bulldogs a 10-point lead before Davis scored two points from the free-throw line to cut the halftime deficit to 27-19.

Burrell scored her first points of the game just nine seconds into the second half, sparking a flurry of high-powered offense from both teams that moved the score to 34-25 less than two minutes into the quarter. Burrell struck again at the 7:45 mark, and Key followed it up with a layup 20 seconds later to pull UT within five at 34-29. Georgia went back up seven off two free throws, but Burrell and Jordan Horston each hit jumpers to close the gap to three points with just over five minutes left in the period. Connally answered with a trey on the other end, setting off a 10-3 UGA run that put the Bulldogs up 47-37 with 2:25 to go in the third. Horston cut it to eight by the end of the period, sending the game into the final frame with the Lady Vols trailing 47-39.

Tennessee forced a turnover on Georgia's first possession of the fourth, and Jordan Walker hit a layup on the other end to pull UT within six. Walker struck again on the fast break at the 8:14 mark, and Davis fired in a trey to get UT within one with 7:35 left in the game. Connally responded by hitting her fifth three of the game, but Burrell hit a driving layup a minute later to trim the UGA lead to 50-48.

The teams traded baskets until the 3:38 mark when Coombs and Connally scored on back-to-back possessions to put UGA up 56-50. Davis rallied UT with a clutch trey with 1:32 to go, and Burrell hit two free throws to pull the Lady Vols within one again with 46 seconds left in the game. Connally was fouled on the other end but missed the first of her free throws, giving UT a chance to shoot for the win, but a contested three by Davis at the buzzer came up short, and the Lady Vols fell 57-55.

COLUMBIA, Mo. -- Senior Rennia Davis scored all 26 of her points in the second half, including 20 in the fourth-quarter, leading No. 20/21 Tennessee to a 78-73 win over Missouri at Mizzou Arena.

Junior Rae Burrell was also a factor for UT (14-6, 8-4 SEC), notching 23 points and eight rebounds. Redshirt junior Jordan Walker was UT's top rebounder, pulling down 10 boards on the night.

Missouri (8-10, 4-9 SEC) was led by Haley Troup and Aijha Blackwell with 16 points each. Shannon Dufficy and Shug Dickson were also in double figures with 10 points apiece.

Burrell came out with the hot hand, putting in seven points in the first three minutes to propel the Lady Vols to a 9-2 lead. Troup rallied Mizzou with five-straight points to pull UM back within two points two minutes later, and back-to-back treys by Lauren Hansen and Troup would put the Tigers up by four with 3:36 to go in the first. Tamari Key ended the 11-0 Missouri run with a layup, but Dufficy countered with another MU 3-pointer to put Mizzou up by five. Jordan Horston and Key combined for two buckets to close out the quarter with UT trailing, 18-17.

Hansen hit a three 20 seconds into the second frame to put the Tigers back up by four, but Burrell cut their lead to two with a jumper 20 seconds later. Blackwell followed it up with a trey before Horston set off a 14-2 run that put Tennessee up 31-26 by the 5:48 mark. Troup ended the UM drought with back-to-back baskets, but Burrell hit a 3-pointer to score her 18th point of the first half and put the Lady Vols up 34-30 with 3:21 left in the quarter. Blackwell answered with three to pull UM within one, and Dickson hit a 3-pointer at the buzzer to put the Tigers up 36-34 at halftime.

Blackwell struck first in the second half, stretching Mizzou's lead to four before Burrell knocked down her third trey of the game to pull UT within one 34 seconds in. Hayley Frank and Blackwell teamed up for five points to put UM back on top 37-33 with 7:07 to go in the third, but Burrell and Key scrapped back for UT, making the score 43-41 just over 30 seconds later. The Tigers built their lead back up to six by the 5:26 mark, but a Horston layup set off a 7-2 UT run that saw the Lady Vols creep within one with just over four minutes left in the quarter. The teams traded buckets through the 1:40 mark before Missouri closed out the period with four-straight points to take a 60-55 lead into the fourth.

Davis hit two treys in the opening minutes of the fourth to fuel an 8-0 UT run that gave the Lady Vols their first lead of the second half at 63-60. Frank tied it back up with a 3-pointer on the other end, but back-to-back buckets by Davis put Tennessee on top 67-63 a minute and a half later. Davis grew her fourth-quarter point total to 14 off a pair of free throws, stretching UT's lead to 71-66 with 4:36 to play. Blackwell rallied the Tigers with a layup on the other end, setting off a 5-0 run that tied the game up by the 2:44 mark, but Davis scored seven points in the closing minutes to drive a 9-2 UT run and lead Tennessee to a 78-73 victory in Columbia.

KNOXVILLE, Tenn. -- The No. 20/21 Lady Vols closed out the regular season with a dominant win over Auburn, racing to an 88-54 victory in Thompson-Boling Arena on Senior Day.

With the triumph, Tennessee (15-6, 9-4 SEC) finished third in league play and locked up the No. 3 seed for next week's SEC Tournament. It is UT's highest seeding at the tourney since 2015, when the Big Orange carried a No. 2 tag into the event.

Tennessee was led by senior Rennia Davis, who logged a double-double with 23 points and 11 rebounds in her final game on The Summitt. Fellow senior Kasiyahna Kushkituah also had a big day, turning in a career-high 19 points and added eight rebounds. Classmate Jaiden McCoy also was honored before the game but was unable to play due to injury.

Additionally for UT, sophomore Tamari Key posted a double-double with 10 points and 10 rebounds, and sophomore Jordan Horston narrowly missed a double-double, finishing with 12 points and a career-high-tying nine assists. Junior Rae Burrell was also in double digits, ending the day with 14 points and four assists.

Alaina Rice was the high scorer for Auburn (5-18, 0-15 SEC) with 11 points, and Unique Thompson and Alycia Reese each finished with 10.

Davis got things started for Tennessee, scoring her first points just five seconds into the game. The Lady Vols had success inside early, finding Key and Kushkituah to build the lead to 10-4 by the 5:26 mark. The Tigers rallied back within four at 12-8 a minute later, but UT closed out the quarter with a 5-0 run to start the second with a 17-8 lead.

Davis poured in nine-straight points to open the second quarter, stretching Tennessee's lead to 17 with 6:41 left in the half. Auburn remained without a field goal through the 4:48 mark when Thompson knocked down a long-range two to set off a 12-3 AU run that pulled the Tigers within 10 with a halftime score of 31-21.

A bucket by Honesty Scott-Grayson cut the Auburn deficit to single digits at the outset of the third quarter, but Burrell answered with a trey, and Davis followed it up with a layup on a fast break to put UT up 36-23 just over a minute into the period. Burrell hit from long range again at the 6:34 mark, fueling a 7-2 UT run that put the Lady Vols up 47-30 by the media timeout. They kept the pressure on following the break, outscoring the Tigers 9-7 in the last five minutes of the quarter to take a 56-37 lead into the final stanza.

Kushkituah scored six-straight points to start the fourth quarter, and Horston added a trey to give UT a 28-point lead less than two minutes in. Auburn would cut the lead to 24 off back-to-back threes by Rice and Reese with 3:32 left in the game, but that's as close as they would get as UT closed out the game with a 12-2 run to win 88-54.

GREENVILLE, S.C. -- The No. 14/16 Lady Vols fended off an upset-minded Ole Miss team in the SEC Tournament Quarterfinals in Bon Secours Wellness Arena, winning 77-72 to advance to the semifinals for the first time since 2016.

No. 3 seed Tennessee (16-6) was led by senior Rennia Davis, who turned in a career-high-tying 33 points and added 14 rebounds to record her sixth-straight game with 20+ points and her ninth double-double of the season. Junior Rae Burrell was also in double digits with 18 points and seven rebounds, and sophomore Jordan Horston had a solid outing with 12 points, seven rebounds and five assists.

Top scorers for Ole Miss (11-11), the No. 11 seed that had already ousted sixth-seeded #13/13 Arkansas on Thursday, were Donnetta Johnson with 20 points, Shakira Austin with 14, and Jacorriah Bracey with 13.

Both teams got off to a slow start with the game remaining scoreless through the first minute and a half. Ole Miss was first to score with Austin converting on a pair of free throws to give the Rebels a 2-0 lead. But Tennessee quickly found its footing, with back-to-back treys from Horston and Burrell and a bucket by Davis propelling UT to an 8-4 lead five minutes in. Davis would stretch the lead to six by the 4:33, but Ole Miss scrapped back within one two minutes later at 14-13. The Lady Vols closed out the quarter with a 10-3 run that was capped off by a Horston 3-pointer from behind mid-court at the buzzer, giving Tennessee a 24-16 lead heading into the second.

The Rebels rallied back quickly in the second period, launching into a 13-2 run to reclaim the lead at 29-26 with 4:46 to go in the half. Horston ended the skid for UT with a pair of free throws, and Davis converted on a 3-pointer a minute and a half later to tie the score at 31-all. Ole Miss jumped back ahead by seven points, but a buzzer-beater three by Davis pulled UT within four with a halftime score of 41-37.

The Rebels expanded their lead to six off an Austin jumper a minute into the third quarter, and the teams proceeded to swap buckets until the 6:40 mark when Burrell hit a layup and then followed it up with two free throws on the next possession to pull the Lady Vols within two. Davis added a layup on the fast break 20 seconds later to tie the game up at 47, but Ole Miss rallied with a 10-2 run to close out the period with a 57-49 lead.

Kasiyahna Kushkituah and Burrell combined for eight-straight points to open the fourth, tying it up at 57-all with 8:11 left in the game. Bracey ended the run with a jumper for Ole Miss, but four more points by Burrell and Jordan Walker gave UT its first lead of the second half at 61-59 with just under seven minutes to play. Bracey knocked down a trey as the shot clock wound down to reclaim the lead for the Rebels, but back-to-back buckets by Tamari Key and Davis put UT ahead by three at the media break. After the timeout, Walker followed it up with a 3-pointer, giving the Lady Vols a 68-62 advantage with 4:19 to go. Exactly a minute later Kushkituah came up with the rebound and the put-back to move UT ahead by seven, and Burrell hit a layup on the next possession to stretch the lead to nine. UM didn't go quietly, rallying back within three off a 6-0 run fueled by Johnson and Valerie Nesbitt, but Davis was able to convert on free throws in the final seconds to secure the win for UT, and the Lady Vols advanced to the semifinals with a score of 77-72.

GREENVILLE, S.C. -- No. #14/16 Tennessee, the No. 3 seed, outscored second-seeded #7/7 South Carolina 13-8 in the fourth quarter, but couldn't overcome a 29-point first quarter by the No. 2 seed Gamecocks, falling 67-52 in the semifinals of the SEC Tournament at Bon Secours Wellness Arena.

Redshirt-junior Jordan Walker and sophomore Jordan Horston were the high scorers for UT (16-7), each finishing with 11 points. Senior Rennia Davis and sophomore Tamari Key were the top rebounders for the Big Orange, grabbing six apiece.

South Carolina (21-4) was paced by Zia Cooke, who had a game-high 17 points and four rebounds. Aliyah Boston was close behind, posting a double-double with 15 points and 11 rebounds, and Destanni Henderson put up 13 points.

The game started off as a back-and-forth affair with four different players for each team scoring in the first five minutes to tie the game at 8-all by the 5:37 mark. A Davis 3-pointer gave UT an 11-10 lead a minute later, but South Carolina answered with a 10-run that put the Gamecocks up by nine with 2:49 left in the first. Davis ended the skid for UT with a jumper, but USC finished the opening stanza strong with nine-straight points, taking a 29-13 lead into the second period.

The Gamecocks picked up where they left off in the second, with Henderson draining a three before Horston found her way into the paint for a layup to trim the deficit back to 17 with 7:34 left in the half. Walker then added two free throws, and Key converted on an old-fashioned three-point play to pull the Lady Vols within 12 by the 4:40 mark. Henderson answered with another trey, but Walker and Key again combined for buckets to cut USC's lead to 11 at 35-24. Cooke closed out the half with four-straight points for the Gamecocks while her team held UT to a free throw to give USC a 39-25 lead at the second half.

South Carolina carried its momentum through to the third quarter, opening with a 5-0 run to lead by 19 only a minute and 20 seconds in. Key scored UT's first points of the half, nailing a layup at the 7:22 mark and setting off a 7-2 run that pulled Tennessee within 13 with 5:11 to go in the third. USC responded, though, closing out the quarter with a 13-6 run to enter the fourth up 59-39.

Davis opened the final period with a quick bucket in transition, but Henderson countered with her third trey of the game on the other end to put USC up by 21. Horston and Rae Burrell launched a 6-0 Tennessee run, while South Carolina stalled offensively, going scoreless for more than seven minutes to make the score 62-47 with 2:46 left in the game. But 15 points was as close as Tennessee would get, as South Carolina held on to claim a 67-52 victory and earn a spot in the SEC Championship game vs. Georgia on Sunday.

AUSTIN, Texas -- The No. 3 seed Lady Vols shot a scorching 52 percent from the floor to fend off in-state opponent and No. 14 seed Middle Tennessee in the NCAA First Round, winning 87-62 at the Frank Erwin Center.

Senior Rennia Davis led No. 13/15-ranked Tennessee (17-7) in scoring, posting a double-double with 24 points and 14 rebounds. Junior Rae Burrell was close behind with 22 points, and sophomore Tamari Key and senior Kasiyahna Kushkituah were also in double figures with 13 and 10, respectively. Redshirt junior Jordan Walker narrowly missed a double-double, finishing with nine points and a career-high 14 rebounds.

MT (17-8) was led by sisters Anastasia and Aislynn Hayes, who combined for two-thirds of the Lady Raiders' 62 points. Anastasia Hayes turned in 26, while Aislynn Hayes managed 15.

Tennessee jumped out to a lead early, going up 6-0 off buckets by Davis and Walker, before Anastasia Hayes scored her first points of the game to put Middle Tennessee on the board just over three minutes in. The Blue Raiders pulled within three off an Anastasia Hayes trey on their next possession, but Burrell and Davis combined for four quick points to give the Lady Vols a 12-5 lead at the media break.

Davis knocked down a jumper following the timeout to stretch the lead to nine before the Hayes sisters set off a 9-2 Middle Tennessee run to pull the Blue Raiders within two with just over two minutes left in the first. Davis hit a three to put UT up by five on the next possession, and Tennessee maintained that lead into the final seconds when a layup by Aislynn Hayes to make the score 21-18 Lady Vols at the end of the first.

MT tied it up at 23-all less than a minute into the second period and took the lead 50 seconds later off a trey by Courtney Whitson. Jordan Horston hit a pair of free throws and Walker hit a jumper in the paint to reclaim the lead for UT at 27-26 at the 6:54 mark, but the teams would trade the lead five more times before the end of the half. Burrell hit six-straight points for the Lady Vols to end the quarter, setting the halftime score at 39-all.

Davis scored the first points of the second half with a jumper, and Key followed it up with four points to give UT a six-point lead three minutes in. Anastasia Hayes hit two free throws to stop the UT run, but Burrell and Kushkituah scored on back-to-back plays to build UT's lead up to eight. Deja Cage answered with a 3-pointer to give MT a bit of momentum, but Kushkituah hit a layup on the next trip down the court, setting off a 9-0 spree that propelled the Lady Vols to a 58-44 lead with 2:24 to play in the third. The teams traded buckets through the closing minutes, with UT taking a 13-point lead into the final stanza.

Kesniia Kozlova scored a quick bucket to pull the Blue Raiders within 11 at the start of the fourth, and the teams swapped treys before UT launched into a 14-1 run to go up 79-55 with 4:50 left in the game. Anastasia Hayes hit a pair of layups in the closing minutes, but Tennessee kept its foot on the gas, stretching its lead to 28 off free throws by Davis and Burrell before Aislynn Hayes nailed a trey for the final bucket of the game to close out the scoring and send the Lady Vols on to the NCAA Second Round with an 87-62 victory.

SAN ANTONIO, Texas -- No. 13/15 Tennessee's season came to an end in the second round of the NCAA Women's Basketball Tournament on Tuesday, as the Lady Vols fell to No. 16/14 Michigan in the Alamodome, 70-55.

Senior Rennia Davis was the top scorer for No. 3 seed UT (17-8), finishing with 12 points. Junior Rae Burrell was close behind with 11, and senior Kasiyahna Kushkituah and sophomore Jordan Horston each turned in 10.

No. 6 seed Michigan (16-5) was led by Leigha Brown, who scored a game-high 23 points, and Naz Hillmon, who turned in a double-double with 19 points and 15 rebounds. Hailey Brown was also in double figures for the Wolverines with 14.

Tennessee was first to score, going up 2-0 off a jumper by Davis. UT went on to lead by as many as four before back-to-back buckets by H. Brown and Hillman put UM up 7-6 in what would be the first of seven first-quarter lead changes. Kushkituah and Tamari Key combined for six points to close out the quarter, but the Wolverines managed seven, taking a 14-12 lead into the second.

Hillman opened the scoring in the second, stretching Michigan's lead to four. Horston answered with a jumper, but five-straight points by L. Brown fueled a 5-2 run that put the Wolverines ahead by five at the 6:50 mark. Horston cut it to three by the media break, but UM closed out the half with a 7-1 run to lead 28-19 at the intermission.

Michigan came out hot in the third, launching into a 12-2 run powered by Hillman and L. Brown to lead by 19 just over three minutes into the second half. Tennessee's seniors rallied, scoring six quick points to cut the deficit to 13 a minute later. The teams traded buckets until Horston scored four points on consecutive possessions to cut it to 12, but Michigan stretched it back to 15, leading 50-35 at the end of the period.

Burrell got an easy bucket to start the fourth and went on to score nine-straight points, pulling the Lady Vols within 10 with 5:48 left in the game. Danielle Rauch scored her first points of the game with a trey on the next possession, however, and L. Brown followed it up with a fast-break layup to swing the momentum back toward the Wolverines and give them a 15-point lead with just over four minutes to play. Davis and Kushkituah rallied Tennessee back within 11, and a 3-pointer by Jordan Walker eventually cut it to nine, but Michigan was able to convert at the free-throw line, advancing to the Sweet Sixteen with a 70-55 victory.

LADY VOL HONOREES

There are 72 categories of prominent honors that have been received by Lady Vol basketball players over the years. One-hundred-thirty-four Lady Vols, 68 percent of the all-time roster of 197 players (through those on 2020-21 roster), have received recognition in one of these categories. Fifteen players distinguish themselves by appearing in a double-digit number of categories: Chamique Holdsclaw 37; Candace Parker 32; Tamika Catchings 24; Bridgette Gordon, 20; Glory Johnson and Kara Lawson, 16; Dena Head, 13; Daedra Charles and Nikki McCray, 12; Michelle Marciniak, Semeka Randall and Shekinna Stricklen, 11; Angie Bjorklund, Cierra Burdick and Tanya Haave, 10.

LADY VOL LEGENDS

Tennessee has recognized the careers of six supremely-gifted Lady Vols and a history-shattering coach with the hanging of jersey-banners from the rafters of Thompson-Boling Arena. The most recent individual added to the collection of Lady Vol legends came on Jan. 2, 2014, when a No. 3 banner honoring player Candace Parker was hoisted skyward.

Parker joined players Holly Warlick, Bridgette Gordon, Daedra Charles, Chamique Holdsclaw and Tamika Catchings, and coach Pat Summitt among those honored with a banner hanging in UT's basketball venue.

NO. 22 HOLLY WARLICK

Guard » 1976-80 » Knoxville, Tenn.

The first Tennessee athlete, either male or female, to have her jersey retired was Holly Warlick. Her uniform was retired on Feb. 18, 1980, in a ceremony after Tennessee's 89-72 win over Clemson in Stokely Athletics Center. A play-making wizard for the Lady Vols from 1976-80, Holly earned All-America honors three times. At the time of the ceremony, she held UT records for most assists in a game (14), most steals in a game (9), and most assists in a season (225).

Holly could not hang up her uniform right away. She played six more games after the retirement party. The final time she donned No. 22 was in the AIAW National Championship game when the Lady Vols fell to Old Dominion, 68-53.

During her years at Tennessee, the Lady Vols produced a 118-23 overall record, three trips to the Final Four and a first-ever SEC Tournament title. She later went on to become a member of the 1980 U.S. Olympic Team.

Later serving as the head coach of the Lady Vols from 2012-19, Warlick's No. 22 banner hangs in the rafters above the court in Thompson-Boling Arena.

NO. 30 BRIDGETTE GORDON

Forward » 1985-89 » DeLand, Fla.

Ten years later, the second Lady Vol basketball jersey was retired. Bridgette Gordon returned to Thompson-Boling Arena after a stellar career at Tennessee to see her No. 30 honored during halftime of Tennessee's 76-70 win over Texas on Jan. 17, 1990.

Bridgette led the Lady Vols to a 115-21 record during her four years at UT. She was the driving force behind an NCAA-record four consecutive trips to the Final Four as well as two NCAA and two SEC Championships.

Bridgette was the first freshman ever to lead UT in scoring, and she earned co-SEC Rookie of the Year and All-SEC honors. The next year she led Tennessee to its first NCAA title, earned All-SEC honors again and was named to the All-Final Four team. She copped All-SEC honors and was named MVP of the SEC Tournament as a junior. She also earned her first of two Kodak All-America honors that year.

After earning a gold medal as a member of the 1988 U.S. Olympic basketball team, Bridgette returned to Tennessee for her senior season. She led the Lady Vols to the 1989 NCAA title and was named MVP of the Final Four. She finished her career as the all-time leading scorer in NCAA Tournament history.

Bridgette graduated in 1989 with a B.S. in political science. She was basketball's nominee for the 1989 Honda-Broderick Award, which is symbolic for women's academic and athletic achievement. She later returned to Rocky Top to spend two seasons (2017-19) as an assistant coach for the Lady Vols.

NO. 32 DAEDRA CHARLES

Center » 1988-91 » Detroit, Mich.

When Tennessee hosted the SEC-Big 10 Challenge on Dec. 28, 1991, Daedra Charles became the next Lady Vol to have her jersey retired. Charles returned to Knoxville from Como, Italy, where she was playing professional basketball with former Lady Vol teammate Bridgette Gordon. Charles came to surprise Lady Vol head coach Pat Summitt by announcing the endowment of the Pat Head Summitt Scholarship, presented by Charles, Gordon and another former Lady Vol, Lisa McGill Reagan. Summitt, who was unaware of the endowment, had planned the retirement ceremony as a surprise for Charles.

A two-time Kodak All-American at Tennessee, Daedra was the 1991 SEC Female Athlete of the Year. She became the first player from the SEC to win the Wade Trophy, the highest honor in women's basketball. All this came after leading Tennessee to its third NCAA title in five years.

She finished her career seventh on the UT scoring list (1,495), sixth in rebounding (858) and second in shots blocked (95), despite missing her freshman season as a Prop 48 student. Still, Daedra graduated in four years, earning a bachelor's degree in child and family studies.

NO. 23 CHAMIQUE HOLDSCLAW

Forward » 1995-99 » Astoria, N.Y.

During halftime of the Lady Vols' 92-88 home triumph over archrival Connecticut on Feb. 1, 2001, the collegiate career of arguably the greatest women's player to ever play the game was officially closed when Chamique Holdsclaw became just the fourth Lady Vol to have her jersey retired.

The Naismith Player of the Century and one of only six four-time Kodak All-Americans in the history of women's basketball when her career concluded, Holdsclaw led the Orange and White to a 131-17 overall record and an unprecedented three consecutive national championships from 1996-98, while establishing herself as the program's all-time leader in scoring (3,025 points) and rebounding (1,295).

The NCAA Tournament's most outstanding player in 1997 and 1998, Holdsclaw still holds the record for most points (479 points), and held the mark for most rebounds (198 rebounds), tallied in tournament games until 2008.

The first two-time winner of the Associated Press Player of the Year Award, Holdsclaw garnered 34 individual awards during her career, including 21 player of the year honors from a variety of organizations. In 2006, Holdsclaw was named to the NCAA 25th Anniversary Team. She was previously named to the Kodak 25th Anniversary Team in 1999. She also played on the gold-medal winning 2000 U.S. Olympic Team and was named to the Women's Basketball Hall of Fame in 2018.

LADY VOL LEGENDS (CONTINUED)

NO. 24 TAMIKA CATCHINGS

Forward » 1997-01 » Duncanville, Texas

The fifth Lady Vol jersey to be retired belonged to Tamika Catchings in a halftime ceremony on Dec. 7, 2003, against Louisiana Tech. From the moment she stepped on the court in the number 24 orange and white jersey, we knew from her contagious smile that she was a special person, and from her deadly baseline-to-baseline hustling for all 40 minutes, a truly phenomenal player.

This special six-foot, one-inch forward had the heart of a champion and could play anywhere on the court. Her UT career was shortened during her senior year when she went crashing to the floor with a torn anterior cruciate ligament in game 17 versus Mississippi State.

Her list of awards was staggering, as she captured a slew of them while being tabbed as UT's second four-time Kodak All-American. What she accomplished in the span of her collegiate career is the stuff of legend. She played in 127 games as a Lady Vol. Her assault on the record books is legendary for both scoring (2,113 points) and rebounding (1,004 boards), with both marks ranking her third at UT at the conclusion of her career. She also finished her career second all-time in steals with 311 and blocked shots with 140. And remember, she missed half of her senior season.

Her teammates will tell you how special it was to earn a blue adidas headband after Catchings went out with the injury. Earning one meant they hustled like "Catch" would have. The Eleanor Roosevelt League for the Hard of Hearing honored her in 1998 – as a special role model for youngsters and adults with hearing impairments. Her UT academic counselors will relate stories about Catchings graduating ahead of her class in December 2000. People in the Knoxville community will tell you of the countless hours she put in with youths from all walks of life – from playgrounds to hospitals.

A WNBA All-Star for the Indiana Fever, Catchings added to her collection of accolades in the Summer of 2004 with a gold medal as a member of the USA Women's Basketball Team at the Athens Olympic Games. She also added gold medals at the 2008, 2012 and 2016 Olympiads as well and was enshrined into both the Naismith Memorial Basketball Hall of Fame and Women's Basketball Hall of Fame in 2021 after the COVID-19 health pandemic postponed Class of 2020 ceremonies for a year.

PAT SUMMITT

Head Coach » 1974-2012 » Henrietta, Tenn.

The sixth woman and first non-player to be honored with a banner at Thompson-Boling Arena was Pat Summitt, who coached Tennessee for 38 years and compiled a 1,098-208 career record with the most wins in NCAA women's or men's basketball history at the conclusion of her career. Summitt's banner was hoisted prior to a nationally-televised game vs. Notre Dame on Jan. 28, 2013.

The legendary Summitt directed Tennessee to eight NCAA National Championships, 31-consecutive NCAA Tournament appearances and 18 NCAA Final Fours. At the conference level, she led her squads to 16 SEC regular-season titles and 16 SEC tournament championships, including a tourney title in her final season at the helm in 2012.

During her career, Summitt produced 21 WBCA/Kodak/State Farm All-Americans, 39 All-SEC players, 12 Olympians and 34 WNBA draft picks, including 15 first-round selections. The number she was most proud of, however, was the 100-percent graduation rate for the 122 players who completed their careers and earned degrees at Tennessee under her watch.

Collecting an incredible array of honors during her career, Summitt was named SEC Coach of the Year eight times – 1993, 1995, 1998, 2001, 2003, 2004, 2007 and 2011. She was named the 1987, 1989, 1994, 1998 and 2004 Naismith Women's College Coach of the Year and WBCA/Converse Coach of the Year in 1983 and 1995 and the IKON/WBCA Coach of the Year in 1998.

Summitt belongs to the FIBA International, Naismith Memorial, Women's Basketball, Women's Sports Foundation, UT Athletics Tennessee Sports, Greater Knoxville Sports and National Association for Sports and Physical Education Hall of Fame. Her most esteemed honor, however, came on May 29, 2012, when she received the Presidential Medal of Freedom (presented by President Barack Obama) at the White House.

NO. 3 CANDACE PARKER

Guard/Forward/Center » 2004-08 » Naperville, Ill.

The seventh woman and sixth player to be honored with a jersey retirement ceremony at Thompson-Boling Arena was Candace Parker. The 6-foot-4 Parker's banner was unveiled on Jan. 2, 2014, prior to the Lady Vols' SEC opener vs. LSU.

During her three-year playing career, Parker led the Lady Vols to a pair of NCAA Championships in 2007 and 2008, to an SEC regular-season crown in 2007 and to SEC Tournament titles in 2006 and 2008. Tennessee posted a 101-10 overall record during her time at Rocky Top and a 38-4 mark in SEC play.

Parker started 109 of her 110 career games, scoring the third-most points in school history (2,137) and pulling down the sixth-best rebounding tally at 972 as of her career's end. She still ranks No. 3 in career double-doubles with 45 and stands tied for No. 2 in career rebounding average (8.8) and No. 4 in career scoring average (19.4).

Not the first player to dunk in the college game or even at Tennessee, Parker did make the dunk a more common occurrence in women's basketball. She was the first to dunk in an NCAA game, doing so twice vs. Army on March 19, 2006. She also set UT records for most dunks in a game (2), season (4) and career (7).

Because of her play, she has earned a plethora of awards. Among them, John R. Wooden and USBWA Player of the Year (2007, 2008), NCAA Tournament Most Outstanding Player (2007, 2008), WBCA All-American (2006, 2007, 2008), SEC Female Athlete of the Year (2008), SEC Player of the Year (2007), Coaches First-Team All-SEC (2006, 2007, 2008), CoSIDA Academic All-American (2007, 2008) and CoSIDA Academic All-American of the Year (2008).

After helping Tennessee win the 2008 NCAA title in Tampa, Fla., Parker was chosen as the first pick of that spring's WNBA Draft by the Los Angeles Sparks, earning league MVP and rookie of the year honors. She also played a key role in the U.S. women winning a gold medal at the 2008 and 2012 Summer Olympics and has continued to escalate her stature in both the professional ranks and internationally.

LADY VOLS IN THE PROFESSIONAL RANKS

There have been a limited number of opportunities for women to play basketball in the professional ranks through the years. However, 62 Lady Vols have taken advantage of the opportunity to play past their collegiate days in overseas leagues and in the United States. In 2021, seven #LVFL standouts were regular-season members of teams in the Women's National Basketball Association (WNBA).

LADY VOLS IN THE WNBA DRAFT

The Lady Vol basketball program has produced 62 professional players over the years, including 49 alumnae who went on to play in the WNBA. Of those 49 who continued their careers at the professional level in the WNBA, 43 were selected on Draft day and 18 were picked in the first round.

Tennessee has placed two or more players in the first round of the draft five times. The 2012 draft was the Lady Vols' best yet, as Shekinna Stricklen (2nd, Seattle), Glory Johnson (4th, Tulsa) and Kelley Cain (7th, New York) all went in the first round. Vicki Baugh was taken in the third round (25th overall pick) by Tulsa.

Candace Parker and Alexis Hornbuckle were taken in 2008. The Sparks chose Parker with the first overall pick. Hornbuckle followed closely behind as the Shock picked her up with the fourth selection.

Dena Head and Daedra Charles were selected first and eighth respectively in the 1997 Elite Draft. Lady Vols doubled up again in 1999, with Chamique Holdsclaw going first to the Mystics and Tonya Edwards going seventh to the Lynx. Kara Lawson and Gwen Jackson were taken with back-to-back picks in 2003, with Lawson going fifth to the Shock and Jackson going sixth to the Fever.

HISTORIC TIMELINE FOR LADY VOL BASKETBALL

April 30 (1974) – As a senior at the University of Tennessee-Martin, Pat Summitt is sent a letter asking her to become a physical education teacher and head women's basketball coach at UT. Summitt, then known as Pat Head, received it in the mail and accepted the job at age 22.

Dec. 7 (1974) – Pat Summitt coached the first of her 1,306 games at Tennessee, with her squad dropping a nail-biter to Mercer, 84-83, at Alumni Gym

Jan. 10 (1975) – Pat Summitt picked up her first win as Tennessee's head coach, 69-32, over Middle Tennessee State in front of 53 fans at Alumni Gym.

Nov. 13 (1976) – In her debut game as a Lady Vol, senior Patricia "Trish" Roberts fired in 51 points (and made it a double-double with 20 rebounds) to lead Tennessee to a season-opening 107-53 victory over Kentucky. That single-game scoring total still stands as the school record through the 2019-20 season and matches the UT men's record of 51 held by Tony White.

Feb. 19 (1977) – Senior Patricia "Trish" Roberts pulled down 24 rebounds vs. Anderson to set the Lady Vol record for a single game. That marks still stands through the 2019-20 season.

March 26 (1977) – The Lady Vols defeated Immaculata, 91-71, in Minneapolis to finish 28-5 overall and take third in their initial appearance in the AIAW Championships Tournament.

Jan. 13 (1979) – Pat Summitt earned her 100th career victory in her fourth season as head coach with a 79-66 triumph at NC State.

Feb. 10 (1980) – Fifth-ranked Tennessee won the first-ever SEC Tournament for women's basketball, defeating Ole Miss, 85-71, at Stokely Athletics Center.

Feb. 18 (1980) – The first Tennessee athlete, male or female, to have her jersey retired by the University of Tennessee was Knoxville native Holly Warlick (1976-80), who was honored after the final home regular season game of her career vs. Clemson. Warlick, whose No. 22 now hangs from the rafters of Thompson-Boling Arena, would later serve as an assistant coach and associate head coach for Pat Summitt (1985-2012) and follow her coach, friend and mentor as the Lady Vol skipper from 2012-19.

March 23 (1980) – UT, which finished third in two previous trips to the AIAW Final Four, played in its first AIAW National Championship game, falling to Old Dominion, 68-53, in Mt. Pleasant, Michigan.

March 29 (1981) – The Lady Vols made a return to the title game of the AIAW Final Four, finishing as runner-up for the second year in a row with a 79-59 loss to Louisiana Tech. It marked UT's last appearance in an AIAW postseason event with the first edition of the NCAA Tournament coming in 1982.

Dec. 3 (1982) – Tennessee defeated St. John's, 69-56, at the Coca-Cola Classic in Detroit, giving Pat Summitt career victory number 200.

March 26 (1982) – Tennessee played in the inaugural NCAA Final Four for women, falling, 69-46, to Louisiana Tech in the semifinal round.

Aug. 7 (1984) – Serving as the head coach of the U.S. Olympic Team and assisted by UT aide Nancy Darsch, Pat Summitt guided the American women to their first-ever gold medal with an 85-55 victory over South Korea in Los Angeles. Summitt was carried off the Inglewood Forum floor by her players, including Lady Vols Lea Henry and Cindy Noble.

April 1 (1984) – In their second trip to the NCAA Final Four, the Lady Vols advanced to their first championship game before falling to Southern California at Pauley Pavilion in Los Angeles, 72-61.

Feb. 17 (1985) – The Lady Vols began a streak of 565 consecutive weeks in the Associated Press Top 25, stretching until Feb. 22, 2016. During that 31-year run, the Lady Vols had been ranked No. 1 103 times. They were in the top five for 407 weeks and in the top 10 506 times.

March 3 (1985) – Tennessee beat Auburn, 63-60, in Oxford, Mississippi, to capture the SEC Tournament Championship (UT's second) and provide the Lady Vols with their first-ever season sweep of league hardware after previously claiming their initial regular season title in 1985 as well.

Jan. 4, (1987) – Career victory number 300 came Pat Summitt's way, thanks to an 87-68 home triumph over North Carolina.

March 29 (1987) – Tennessee got 13 points each from sophomores Bridgette Gordon and Sheila Frost as well as freshman Final Four Most Outstanding Player Tonya Edwards to roll past Louisiana Tech, 67-44, in Austin, Texas, and claim the school's first NCAA title in women's basketball in its fourth trip to the NCAA Final Four and eighth overall Final Four trip including AIAW tournaments.

Dec. 3 (1987) – The Lady Vols played their first-ever game in brand-new Thompson-Boling Arena, racing to a 102-59 victory over Stetson. A men's game followed, with the Vols beating Marquette, 82-56.

Dec. 9 (1987) – The Lady Vols set a world record for women's basketball attendance, as a crowd of 24,563 attended a contest between No. 1 Tennessee and No. 2 Texas that the Longhorns won, 97-78.

March 6 (1988) – Senior Dawn Marsh dished out 18 assists to set the Lady Vol single-game record in an 82-76 SEC Tournament semifinal round victory over Georgia in Albany, Ga.

April 2 (1989) – Most Outstanding Player Bridgette Gordon fired in a title game record-tying 27 points and pulled down 10 rebounds, as the Lady Vols beat SEC foe Auburn, 76-60, in Tacoma, Washington, to claim their second NCAA title in three seasons.

Jan. 17 (1990) – Two-time WBCA All-American and 1988 U.S. Olympic gold medalist Bridgette Gordon (1985-89) became the second Lady Vol to be honored with a banner in Thompson-Boling Arena when her No. 30 was raised to the rafters. She would later serve as assistant coach at UT from 2017-19.

Jan. 25 (1990) – A 70-69 road victory at South Carolina gave Pat Summitt her 400th career win.

HISTORIC TIMELINE FOR LADY VOL BASKETBALL

Feb. 2 (1991) – The Lady Vol beat Tennessee Tech, 94-67, at Thompson-Boling Arena to record the first victory in what would become a program-best 69-game home-court winning streak. That spree was the longest in NCAA women's history at the time.

March 31 (1991) – After Virginia eliminated UT from the 1990 NCAA Tournament and prevented the Lady Vols from playing in a Final Four hosted at Thompson-Boling Arena in Knoxville, Tennessee exacted revenge in the 1991 Final Four in New Orleans. Junior Dena Head scored a championship game-record 28 points to help the Big Orange take down guard Dawn Staley and the Cavaliers, 70-67, in the first-ever NCAA Women's Final Four overtime game for the Big Orange's third crown in five seasons.

Dec. 28 (1991) – While Tennessee hosted the SEC-Big 10 Challenge, Daedra Charles (1988-91) returned to Knoxville thinking she'd be joining other teammates in surprising Pat Summitt with a scholarship in the coach's name. Summitt had a surprise, too, retiring the two-time All-American and 1991 Wade Trophy winner's No. 32 jersey and making her the third Lady Vol to be so honored.

Nov. 21 (1993) – Pat Summitt celebrated victory number 500 after the Lady Vols ran past Ohio State, 80-45, at the inaugural State Farm Women's Basketball Hall of Fame Classic in Jackson, Tennessee. OSU was coached by former Summitt assistant Nancy Darsch, who was at UT from 1978-85 and was on Summitt's 1984 Olympic staff.

Jan. 16 (1995) – Pat Summitt agreed to add up-and-coming program UConn to the schedule and played the first game in the series at the Huskies' Gampel Pavilion in Storrs. The second-ranked hosts claimed the first-ever meeting with No. 1 UT, 77-66.

Jan. 14 (1996) – Senior Michelle Marciniak tallied a school-record 11 steals in a 60-45 win at Kentucky.

March 29 (1996) – Tennessee picked up its first victory over UConn in four tries, defeating the Huskies at the 1996 Final Four in Charlotte, 88-83 in overtime, to advance to the title game.

March 31 (1996) – After going without an NCAA title for four seasons, Tennessee reclaimed its throne in Charlotte, N.C., beating UConn in the semifinals and cruising past Georgia in the championship game, 83-65, with senior guard Michelle Marciniak earning Final Four Most Outstanding Player honors.

Nov. 23 (1996) – Career triumph No. 600 for Pat Summitt came vs. Marquette via an 83-68 blowout at the Howard Bank Classic in Burlington, Vermont. Howard Dean (then Vermont governor) was on hand to present a congratulatory cake to Summitt after the game.

March 15 (1997) – With a 91-54 victory over Grambling during the NCAA First Round in Knoxville, the Lady Vols both launched their improbable six-game run to the 1997 NCAA Championship and won the first of what would become a 46-contest string of victories that lasted until No. 5 Purdue upset No. 1 Tennessee, 78-68, in West Lafayette, Ind., on Nov. 15, 1998.

March 30 (1997) – The Lady Vols overcame a 10-loss season and won their first back-to-back NCAA titles, capturing the 1997 trophy with a 68-59 victory over Old Dominion in Cincinnati, thanks to a 24-point title-game effort from Final Four Most Outstanding Player Chamique Holdsclaw and a Final Four-record 20 assists in two games (title-game best 11 vs. ODU) from Kellie Jolly.

Nov. 23 (1997) – UT Martin names its basketball playing surface Pat Summitt Court after its former star.

Jan. 3 (1998) – The Lady Vols set a (then) NCAA record for on-campus attendance at a women's basketball game, drawing 24,597 to watch an 84-69 victory by No. 1 UT over No. 3 UConn.

Feb. 7 (1998) – The first advance sellout in Lady Vol basketball history is announced, and 24,373 are on hand to witness No. 1 UT blow out No. 3 Old Dominion, 85-61.

March 29 (1998) – Tennessee pulled off the first-ever 39-0 season and championship three-peat in NCAA women's basketball history, cruising past Louisiana Tech, 93-75, in Kansas City, Missouri, to claim the program's sixth all-time national title. Tamika Catching (27), Chamique Holdsclaw (25) and Kellie Jolly (20) led the way for the Big Orange, as UT put up a Final Four-record 55 points in the first half to build a 23-point lead at the intermission.

Dec. 5 (1999) – Win number 700 of Pat Summitt's career occurs, as the Lady Vols win at Wisconsin, 85-62, enabling Summitt to join Jody Conradt of Texas as the only women's coaches at the time with 700 career victories.

May 4 (1999) – Four-time All-American Chamique Holdsclaw was taken as the No. 1 pick in the WNBA Draft, going to the Washington Mystics.

June 5 (1999) – Pat Summitt was inducted with the inaugural class into the Women's Basketball Hall of Fame in Knoxville.

Oct. 13 (2000) – Pat Summitt was inducted into the Naismith Memorial Basketball Hall of Fame in Springfield, Massachusetts, gaining entrance the first time she was on the ballot.

Nov. 25 (2000) – Tennessee junior Michelle Snow executed the first dunk by a woman captured on live TV, when she threw one down with both hands and hung on the rim briefly in UT's 111-62 victory over Illinois at the Women's Maui Invitational.

Feb. 1 (2001) – Chamique Holdsclaw (1995-99) became the fourth Lady Vol to have her jersey retired, with her No. 23 jersey being hoisted skyward in Thompson-Boling Arena at halftime of a marquee showdown vs. UConn. Through the 2019-20 season, Holdsclaw remains the all-time scoring (3,025) and rebounding (1,295) leader in UT women's history.

Jan. 5 (2002) – Tennessee and UConn reset the (then) NCAA on-campus attendance bar once again, as 24,611 packed Thompson-Boling Arena to watch the No. 1 Huskies hold off the No. 2 Lady Vols, 86-72.

Jan 17 (2002) – Senior Michelle Snow dunked during an 80-61 win at South Carolina, becoming the first woman to dunk three times in a college career.

March 25 (2002) – Pat Summitt coached her team to the NCAA Final Four for the 13th time, passing UCLA legend John Wooden.

March 29 (2002) – Tennessee and UConn played in front of the largest crowd to ever see an NCAA women's basketball game, with the Huskies taking a 79-56 Final Four semifinal game victory in front of 29,619 at the Alamodome in San Antonio.

HISTORIC TIMELINE FOR LADY VOL BASKETBALL

Jan. 14 (2003) – Pat Summitt racked up career win No. 800 with a 76-57 home victory over DePaul and was celebrated post-game with fireworks, balloons and flowers.

Dec. 7 (2003) – The fifth Lady Vol jersey retirement came in a halftime ceremony during a game vs. Louisiana Tech. Four-time WBCA All-American and four-time U.S. Olympic gold medalist Tamika Catchings (1997-2001) saw her No. 24 join UT's display of legends at Thompson-Boling Arena.

Feb. 29 (2004) – Tennessee closed out the 2003-04 season by beating LSU, 85-62, to go 14-0 in SEC play. In doing so, the Lady Vols claimed their league-record seventh straight SEC regular season trophy. UT had an incredible 95-3 record in conference games during that run, beginning that dominance during the 1997-98 season.

March 4 (2005) – Pat Summitt tied Adolph Rupp of Kentucky for second place in all-time wins by an NCAA women's or men's coach (876), as Tennessee defeated Auburn, 64-54, in the SEC Tournament quarterfinals at Greenville, South Carolina.

March 20 (2005) – Tennessee's 94-43 win over Western Carolina in the first round of the NCAA Tournament at Knoxville allowed Pat Summitt to tie Dean Smith for first on the all-time win list among NCAA men's or women's coaches at 879.

March 22 (2005) – UT defeated Purdue, 75-54, in the NCAA Second Round in Knoxville, pushing Pat Summitt past North Carolina men's coach Dean Smith to become the NCAA's all-time winningest coach with 880 career victories. The UT administration surprised her during a postgame ceremony by announcing the Thompson-Boling Arena court would be named "The Summitt."

Jan. 7 (2006) – The Lady Vols hosted UConn in a No. 1 vs. No. 7 match-up, and Tennessee walked away with an 89-80 victory with a new NCAA record on-campus crowd of 24,653 looking on. That record still stands today.

March 19 (2006) – Redshirt freshman Candace Parker became the first woman to dunk in an NCAA Tournament game and the first to record two dunks in the same game, throwing one down in each half of UT's 102-54 victory over Army in the NCAA First Round at Norfolk, Virginia.

May 22 (2006) – Pat Summitt became the first college women's basketball coach to earn a one-million-dollar salary. The six-year deal was scheduled to increase to 1.125 million in 2006-07 and to 1.5 million in 2011-12.

Nov. 12 (2006) – Redshirt sophomore Candace Parker became the first woman to dunk at Thompson-Boling Arena, firing up the home crowd during a 102-72 runaway over Chattanooga. She went on to become the first woman to tally three slams in a single season.

April 3 (2007) – Picking up its first NCAA title since 1998, the Lady Vols toppled Rutgers, 59-46, in Cleveland, Ohio, for UT's seventh national championship. Redshirt sophomore Candace Parker was named Most Outstanding Player after leading Tennessee with 17 points in the finale.

Feb. 3 (2008) – Candace Parker executed the seventh and final dunk of her career, sending one home in the second half of a 79-51 home romp over Kentucky. Through the 2019-20 season, Parker still possesses the school records for single game (2), season (3) and career (7) dunks.

April 8 (2008) – Tennessee claimed its eighth, and Pat Summitt's final, NCAA National Championship, with redshirt junior Candace Parker repeating as Final Four Most Outstanding Player as the Lady Vols claimed back-to-back titles with a 64-48 victory over Stanford in Tampa, Florida

April 9 (2008) – Three-time All-American Candace Parker was taken as the No. 1 pick in the WNBA Draft, going to the Los Angeles Sparks. The rest of UT's 2008 NCAA Championship team starting five [Alexis Hornbuckle (1st Rd./4th), Shannon Bobbitt (2nd Rd./15th), Nicky Anosike (2nd Rd./16th), Alberta Auguste (3rd Rd./35th)] also was selected in the draft, marking the first occasion and one of only two times that has occurred (Notre Dame, 2019).

April 12 (2008) – Pat Summitt becomes the first women's coach to earn the John R. Wooden Legends in Coaching Lifetime Achievement Award.

Oct. 3 (2008) – Candace Parker became the first-ever winner of WNBA MVP and Rookie of the Year honors in the same season. Her 2008 year also included capturing an NCAA Championship at Tennessee, being taken as the WNBA's No. 1 draft pick and winning a gold medal with the U.S. Olympic Team.

Feb. 5 (2009) – Pat Summitt became the first woman or man to win 1,000 games in NCAA basketball, as Tennessee rolled past Georgia with a 73-43 home victory.

Feb. 22 (2009) – Tennessee's second-longest home-court winning streak began on this day, as the Lady Vols started a 38-game spree with an 82-68 victory over Mississippi State at Thompson-Boling Arena. UT did not lose again on The Summitt until Nov. 27, 2011, in a 76-67 defeat at the hands of No. 1 Baylor.

Dec. 28 (2009) – In the first-ever women's outdoor NCAA Division I basketball game, No. 2 Tennessee held off host Arizona State, 67-63, in front of 16,782 fans on a cool desert night at the home of Major League Baseball's Arizona Diamondbacks, Bank One Ballpark, in Phoenix.

Feb. 22 (2010) – Redshirt sophomore Kelley Cain blocked a UT record 12 shots in a 70-61 home win over LSU. She would go on to card 113 rejections for the season, also a school record.

Dec. 19 (2010) – The Lady Vols beat Stanford in overtime, 82-72, in Knoxville, beginning a program-best 25-game winning streak that would not end until March 28, 2011, with a 73-59 loss to Notre Dame in the Dayton Regional Final.

Aug. 23 (2011) – At the age of 59, Pat Summitt announced that she had been diagnosed with early-onset dementia, Alzheimer's type. Bravely, she continued on as head coach for the 2011-12 season, which would be her last as leader of UT women's hoops.

Sept. 22 (2011) – Tamika Catchings became the second Lady Vol alum to win WNBA MVP honors, earning the award after finishing second in balloting in 2003, 2009 and 2010.

Nov. 27 (2011) – At halftime of a home game vs. Baylor, Pat Summitt and her son, Tyler, announced the formation of the Pat Summitt Foundation.

HISTORIC TIMELINE FOR LADY VOL BASKETBALL

Feb. 26 (2012) – Tennessee is victorious in what many felt would be Pat Summitt's final game on the court that bears her name. Her Lady Vols took care of Florida on senior day, 75-59, with a season-best crowd of 18,563 on hand to run the year's per-game average to 14,414.

March 4 (2012) – In her final conference tourney as head coach, Pat Summitt's Lady Vols captured an emotionally-charged SEC Tournament crown in Nashville, defeating LSU by a 70-58 count for Summitt's 16th SEC postseason trophy. The legendary coach cut down a championship net for the final time.

March 24 (2012) – Sophomore Meighan Simmons scored 22 points, and UT came from 14 points down, as Pat Summitt secured what would be the final victory of her career in an 84-73 triumph over Kansas in the Des Moines Regional Semifinal.

March 26 (2012) – In the Des Moines Regional Final, the Lady Vols fell to eventual national champion Baylor, 77-58, in what turned out to be Pat Summitt's final game as head coach.

April 16 (2012) – Tennessee had three players selected within the top 10 picks of the WNBA Draft, as Shekinna Stricklen went at No. 2 to the Seattle Storm (from Chicago), Glory Johnson went at No. 4 to the Tulsa Shock and Kelley Cain went at No. 7 to the New York Liberty.

April 18 (2012) – Pat Summitt, who had announced a diagnosis of early-onset dementia, Alzheimer's type on Aug. 23, 2011, stepped down as head coach of the Lady Vols, finishing with a career record of 1,098-208 (.840), with eight NCAA championships, a combined 32 SEC crowns (16 regular season/16 tournament) and a 100 percent graduation rate for players who completed their eligibility at UT.

April 19 (2012) – After playing at Tennessee (1976-80) and serving as an assistant and later associate head coach at UT from 1985 to 2012, Holly Warlick was introduced at a gathering at Thompson-Boling Arena as the successor to Pat Summitt, who moved to a role as head coach emeritus.

May 29 (2012) – In a ceremony at the White House, Pat Summitt was presented the Presidential Medal of Freedom by President Barack Obama.

Jan. 28 (2013) – Prior to a game vs. Notre Dame, head coach emeritus Pat Summitt became the sixth person and first non-player associated with the Lady Vol program to be honored with a banner at Thompson-Boling Arena. With great honor and distinction, she led the Lady Vols for 38 seasons from 1974-2012.

Feb. 28 (2013) – Tennessee, under first-year head coach Holly Warlick, defeated Texas A&M, 82-72, on The Summitt to clinch its first SEC regular season title with someone other than Pat Summitt at the helm.

June 19 (2013) – Pat Summitt was inducted into the FIBA Basketball Hall of Fame.

Sept. 19 (2013) – Lady Vol alum Candace Parker wins her second WNBA MVP award, becoming just the fifth player to earn that distinction on more than one occasion.

Nov. 2 (2013) – Pat Summitt was inducted into the University of Tennessee Athletics (then Lady Vol) Hall of Fame.

Nov. 22 (2013) – The Pat Summitt Plaza and Statue (created by renowned sculptor David Adickes of Houston, Texas) were dedicated at the corner of Lake Loudoun Blvd. and Phillip Fulmer Way.

Jan. 2 (2014) – The sixth Lady Vol and seventh woman affiliated with the UT program to have her jersey retired, three-time All-American and two-time Olympic gold medalist Candace Parker (2004-08) saw her No. 3 banner raised to the rafters prior to Tennessee's SEC opener vs. LSU.

March 9 (2014) – The Lady Vols claimed their 17th all-time SEC Tournament title, edging Kentucky, 71-70, in Duluth, Georgia.

March 1 (2015) – Tennessee beat Vanderbilt, 79-49, in the regular-season finale to finish 15-1 in league play and capture its 18th SEC championship.

June 28 (2016) – Pat Summitt, legendary Lady Vol basketball coach, mentor and mother-figure to her players; a revered ambassador for her university and state; a trailblazer for women; and a role model for people all over the world, passed away in Knoxville at the age of 64. She had announced a diagnosis of early-onset dementia, Alzheimer's type, on Aug. 23, 2011.

Aug. 20 (2016) – Tamika Catchings becomes the first Lady Vol alum and one of only five American women to win four Olympic gold medals in basketball, helping the U.S. beat Spain, 101-72, in Rio de Janeiro, Brazil.

March 27 (2019) – After seven seasons at the helm of the Lady Vol program, during which she produced a 172-67 record (.720) with seven NCAA Tournament appearances, two SEC regular titles and an SEC tourney crown, the Holly Warlick era comes to an end after UT finished 19-13 and lost in the first round of the NCAA Tournament.

April 9 (2019) – LVFL (1995-99) and Pat Summitt protégé Kellie Harper (previously at Missouri State) is announced as the third Lady Vol head coach in the history of women's intercollegiate athletics at Tennessee.

Jan. 20 (2020) – Tennessee picked up its 400th all-time SEC regular season win and Kellie Harper won the 300th game of her career, as Rennia Davis hit a long-range, buzzer-beating three-pointer to lift UT past Alabama, 65-63, at Thompson-Boling Arena.

Jan. 23 (2020) – After not meeting since Jan. 6, 2007, Tennessee and UConn renewed their rivalry for a worthwhile cause, playing at the XL Center in Hartford, Connecticut, with proceeds from the game going to the Pat Summitt Foundation and the Naismith Memorial Basketball Hall of Fame. With a home crowd of 13,659 behind them, the Huskies won the contest, 60-45, to halt a three-game UT winning streak in the series.

March 12 (2020) – Due to the coronavirus (COVID-19) global health crisis, the NCAA announced the 2020 NCAA Women's Basketball Tournament and all other collegiate athletic events remaining that spring were canceled.

FACILITIES

THOMPSON-BOLING ARENA

The Thompson-Boling Assembly Center and Arena is one of the largest on-campus arenas in the country and a very tough place for visitors to win. The Lady Vols own a 476-50 (.905) record at the facility through 34 years entering the 2021-22 season.

A mammoth structure located on the banks of the Tennessee River, it was named for B. Ray Thompson and retired UT President Edward J. Boling. The building is 448 feet long and 310 feet wide. It contains more than 411,000 square feet of floor space and more than 17 million cubic feet of space.

Following renovations in 2007, Thompson-Boling Arena has an official seating capacity of 21,678. As part of a $19 million renovation of the arena prior to the 2007-08 season, 32 luxury suites were added to the existing north balcony along with a loge area just below the suites that includes 166 side court seats. A $3 million center-hung scoreboard, new black seats and several concourse refurbishments also were part of the renovation. The distance from the playing floor to the roof is 120 feet, the equivalent of a 12-story building. The structure contains 142,000 square feet of roof area, which is approximately three and one-quarter acres.

The enormous facility houses the Tennessee women's and men's basketball offices. The UT Ticket Office is located on the Phillip Fulmer Way level on the west end of the building. A continuous-ring concourse encircles the building, permitting entrance to eight restrooms, six concession areas and 32 portals that lead to the arena. The playing floor level provides access to the media room and storage areas as well as the very impressive Larry Pratt Basketball Locker Room Complex and the visitor dressing rooms, constructed from 2017 to 2018.

Since the building opened on Dec. 3, 1987 (the Lady Vols beat Stetson, 102-59), UT women's basketball has enjoyed a number of lengthy home winning streaks. On Dec. 28, 2003, Texas snapped a 24-game run that dated back to the 2001-02 season. A previous streak of 26 consecutive wins in the home confines ended on Jan. 5, 2002, with an 86-72 loss to Connecticut. The Lady Vols broke the NCAA homecourt winning streak record with 69 consecutive victories before Connecticut spoiled the streak with a 59-53 win in game number 70 on Jan. 6, 1996. Tennessee claimed 64 straight home SEC victories before third-ranked LSU snapped the streak with a 72-69 victory – its first ever in Knoxville – on Feb. 9, 2006. The Lady Vols took a 36-game home winning streak into the 2011-12 season before Baylor snapped it at 38 on Nov. 27. 2011.

UT won all 18 contests in Knoxville in 2014-15, setting a school and arena record for most home wins in a season and best record in a season. Coupled with winning its last four home games of the 2013-14 season and the first five in 2015-16, UT strung together 27-consecutive victories before falling to Texas on Nov. 29, 2015.

In 1998-99, the Lady Vols played before the largest average home crowd in the history of women's collegiate basketball, as 16,565 spectators per game clicked through the turnstiles. In all, 231,915 fans viewed home games in Knoxville. During the 1997-98 season, Tennessee set several collegiate attendance records. On Jan. 3, 1998, the Lady Vols entertained a new women's collegiate record 24,597 fans for the game with Connecticut. A month later, the first advance sell-out in UT women's basketball history occurred when the Lady Vols were set to meet Old Dominion in Knoxville. For the record, 24,373 fans attended the UT-ODU game.

The all-time attendance mark was reset during the 2001-02 season when 24,611 fans visited the arena for a #1/#2 clash between UT and Connecticut. It was again reset on Jan. 7, 2006, when the Huskies came to Knoxville in front of 24,653 spectators. The women's basketball attendance mark was established at the 2002 NCAA Final Four when 29,619 people filled the Alamodome in San Antonio, Texas, for the championship game.

The Lady Vols started the record-breaking trend in women's collegiate basketball attendance in 1987. That season, the Lady Vols broke the (then) world record for single game attendance at a women's basketball game with 24,563 at the Tennessee versus Texas game on Dec. 9, 1987. Three years later, UT established new NCAA Women's Final Four attendance marks on March 30 and April 1, 1990, with a total paid attendance of 39,490 for the three-game event. The turnstile count of 34,196 (17,601 semis/16,595 finals) also broke all other attendance marks.

In 2013-14, UT led the NCAA in attendance for the 11th-straight season, the 17th time in the last 18 years and 19th time overall. UT was second from 2014-17, fourth in 2017-18 and 2020-21, sixth in 2019-20 and seventh in 2018-19.

- During the last 43 years, more than 10.5 million people have watched the Tennessee Lady Volunteers play basketball. UT crossed the 10 million mark during the 2017-18 season with 9,016 attending a home game vs. Ole Miss.
- It breaks down into 6,070,761 spectators at home viewing the team and 4,472,626 folks watching the team on the road or at a neutral site for a total of 10,543,387.
- Tennessee originally set the world record for most spectators at a women's basketball game with 24,563 in attendance at the Tennessee vs. Texas game on Dec. 9, 1987. UT continues to hold the mark for most fans to attend a women's basketball game at an on-campus facility, with 24,653 against Connecticut on Jan. 7, 2006.

STOKELY ATHLETICS CENTER

Stokely Athletics Center was home to the Lady Volunteer basketball team from 1976-87. The facility, which still housed UT Athletics offices long after its days of hosting games, was closed for good in December 2012 and demolished during the summer of 2014.

The Stokely Arena, which was encircled by a four-lane Tartan indoor track, seated 12,700, while the building housed the former men's and women's athletics department offices. The building was originally called the UT Armory Field House in 1958 and seated just more than 7,000 spectators. Through the generosity of the late William B. Stokely, Jr., further construction was completed and on Dec. 1, 1966, the facility was renamed to honor the Stokely family.

In 1986, Stokely took on a new look as a wood playing surface replaced the old tartan court. The Horner "Pro King" hardwood was painted with the traditional outline of the state of Tennessee in the center of the floor and the familiar end line markings. The court was special-made for the University by the same manufacturer who supplied the basketball court to the Forum for the 1984 Los Angeles Olympic Games.

Stokely Athletics Center was the site of some historic games for the Lady Vols. The first women's contest played in SAC pitted Tennessee versus Kentucky on Nov. 13, 1976. The Lady Vols not only trounced the Lady Kats, 107-53, but UT's Patricia Roberts tossed in a Field House record 51 points. That mark stands as the Lady Vol record to this day.

Along the way, Tennessee hosted the great gold medalist USSR Olympic Team in 1979, the USA All-Star team in 1979 and the first Southeastern Conference Championships in 1980.

The last Lady Vol game in Stokely, before moving to Thompson-Boling Arena, was a 77-61 win over Auburn in the finals of the NCAA Mideast Regionals on March 21, 1987. A week later, the Lady Vols returned to Stokely to celebrate UT's first NCAA basketball title with thousands of fans in attendance.

Although no formal attendance figures were kept prior to 1982, Tennessee most-assuredly was among the nation's elite in fan support.

ALUMNI GYM

Constructed in the 1930's, Alumni Gym was the first real home to the inaugural Lady Vol team in 1974, which was coached by Pat Summitt. The court in the tiny arena (seating 3,000) was the centerpiece of an encircling tri-balcony seating arrangement.

PRATT PAVILION

In October 2006, Tennessee Athletics had a groundbreaking ceremony to officially recognize construction on the Pratt Pavilion, the state-of-the-art basketball practice facility named in UT alumnus Larry F. Pratt's honor for his $5 million lead gift to the basketball programs. The Pratt Pavilion, which opened in the fall of 2007, houses two full-size gymnasiums, one each for the men's and women's basketball teams, as well as space for an athletic training room, weight room, film study room and a recruiting lounge.

Directly connected to Thompson-Boling Arena, Pratt Pavilion has convenient ground level parking. The 70,000-square-foot structure has four short courts within each of the two full-size courts. The facility is equipped with secured practice facilities, spacious locker rooms and recruiting rooms as well. Balconies at the south side of the building overlook the practice courts.

Pratt Pavilion had a total project cost of $16 million, funded entirely through private gifts. Lead donor Pratt's commitment in April 2006, coupled with leadership gifts from other campaign donors, including Jim Haslam, Brenda Lawson and Robbie Nutt, enabled UT to move forward with the project.

This was not Pratt's first donation. In the 1990s he honored his father Floyd by creating an endowed scholarship in his name as a member of the Nathan Dougherty Society. He also was recognized at the Tennessee vs. Georgia football game in 2003 for a $1 million donation to the STEP-UP Campaign. Pratt, an Athens, Tenn., native, currently resides in McLean, Va. He graduated from the University of Tennessee in 1972 from the UT College of Business and serves as president and CEO of First Savings Mortgage Corporation, the largest private mortgage banker in Washington D.C.

THE FEW. THE PROUD. THE NCAA CHAMPIONS.

The few. The proud. The NCAA Champions. During Pat Head Summitt's tenure as head coach (1974-2012), only 161 women were selected to wear the Orange and White of the University of Tennessee Lady Volunteers.

Fifty-eight players of 161 (through the 2011-12 season) earned the distinction of being an "NCAA Champion" during their playing days at the University of Tennessee. That's practically 40 percent! And that is truly remarkable. Additionally, forty percent of the 58 players brought home two or more titles.

A total of 12 coaches helped to bring the eight titles to the Knoxville campus. The common denominator of the eight championships with coach Summitt was (then) associate head coach Holly Warlick. In her first tenure with the Lady Vols, Mickie DeMoss claimed six rings (1987, 1989, 1991, 1996, 1997 and 1998). Former assistants Al Brown (1996, 1997 and 1998) and Nikki Caldwell (2007, 2008) are the only former aides with numerous titles. Current assistant Dean Lockwood picked up his first national titles as a Lady Vol coach in 2007 and 2008. Seven graduate assistant coaches had the opportunity to experience one title each.

NCAA STATS /// MISCELLANEOUS NCAA ACCOMPLISHMENTS

■ Tennessee has played in the most NCAA tourney games (157).

■ UT has the most NCAA Tournament wins (126) and is second in tourney winning percentage (.803).

■ The Lady Vols are the only team to appear in all 39 NCAA Tournaments.

■ Tennessee's 18 Final Four appearances are second to only Connecticut.

■ A total of 95 Lady Vol team members have participated/played in the Final Four.

■ Six Lady Vols have been the tournament's leading scorer on eight occasions -- Mary Ostrowski (1984), Bridgette Gordon (1987, 1989), Dana Johnson (1995), Chamique Holdsclaw (1997, 1998), Tamika Catchings (2000) and Candace Parker (2007).

■ UT's Chamique Holdsclaw is the NCAA's all-time leading tournament scorer (1996-99) with 479 points. She played in 22 tournament games and averaged 21.8 ppg.

■ Seven Lady Vols have been the tournament's leading rebounder -- Mary Ostrowski (1984), Sheila Frost (1987), Daedra Charles (1991), Chamique Holdsclaw (1998), Tamika Catchings (2000), Gwen Jackson (2003) and Candace Parker (2007).

■ Tennessee has twice come from 17 points down to win NCAA Tournament games, doing so most recently on March 28, 2015, vs. Gonzaga in Spokane, Wash. The Lady Vols trailed the Bulldogs, 57-40, with 6:34 to play before rallying to force overtime and prevail, 73-69, after an extra five minutes of play.

■ Prior to that epic comeback vs. Gonzaga, Tennessee trailed Virginia by 17 in Charlottesville, 31-14, with 17:06 remaining before rallying to take a 52-46 victory over the Cavaliers in the Elite Eight on March 25, 1996.

Rae Burrell fired in 22 points in Tennessee's 2021 NCAA opener vs. Middle Tennessee in Austin, Texas, and then added 11 points two days later against Michigan in San Antonio to average 16.5 for the tournament and bring her career average to 11.0 ppg. in three contests.

1987 National Champions

Tennessee may have failed in its first bid at the NCAA national championship in 1984, but the second time was the charm for the Lady Vols. Tennessee thumped Louisiana Tech, which was vying for its second title, 67-44.

"Well, the monkey's off my back," head coach Pat Summitt said. "I do not think I could go without recognizing that it was a tremendous team effort...has been for the last three weeks. This team has played as hard and as smart as I could ask any team to play."

The Lady Vols built a 33-24 halftime edge and never looked back. Seven minutes into the second half, Tennessee had increased its lead to 14, 47-33, and the rest was history as Tennessee took its first NCAA title.

Tennessee attempted 19 more field goals and grabbed 11 more rebounds than the Lady Techsters. A championship-game record crowd of 9,823 watched Tonya Edwards net 13 points and grab seven rebounds en route to most outstanding player honors. Two additional Lady Vols contributed 13 points – Bridgette Gordon and Sheila Frost. Gordon joined Edwards on the All-Championship team, as she also led the Tennessee carom parade, pulling down a game-high 12 rebounds.

1989 National Champions

It was a battle of Southeastern Conference powerhouses – Tennessee versus Auburn for all the marbles.

The Lady Vols looked to regain the national title they earned in 1987. Although they were up against a Lady Tiger team that had made its second straight national championship final, Tennessee took home its second NCAA championship in three years with a 76-60 win.

Playing in her triumphant final game, All-America forward Bridgette Gordon treated the 9,758 spectators to a spectacular 27-point performance, tying a championship-game record. She also collected 11 boards on the way to most outstanding player honors.

Gordon's seven first-half baskets helped the Lady Vols to a 35-27 halftime lead. Auburn was able to stay close, cutting the score to 50-47. But after a timeout, the Lady Vols went on a 13-4 run to put the game out of reach. The keys to the victory were the battle of the boards, where Tennessee outrebounded Auburn 45-30, and the free throw line, where Tennessee shot 20-26, while Auburn was 8-12.

Sheila Frost joined Gordon on the All-Championship team. Playing in her final game at Tennessee, Frost had six points and 12 boards. Also coming up big for the Lady Vols in the final was Dena Head, with 19 points.

1991 National Champions

Vindication was finally Tennessee's in the 1991 NCAA women's final, as the Lady Vols downed a talented Virginia Cavalier club, 70-67, in the first NCAA Final Four overtime title game. Virginia had eliminated Tennessee before it could reach the 1990 Women's Final Four – which just happened to be held in Knoxville. But the Lady Vols took New Orleans and their third NCAA title in five years.

The first half was tight, with Tennessee holding a paper-thin 27-26 advantage at the intermission. But the Lady Vols opened up a small lead in the second half. Small lead; small comfort.

Virginia's Dawn Staley, who was named the most outstanding player, led the Virginia comeback to tie the game at 60 at the end of regulation. But the overtime belonged to Tennessee and Dena Head, who scored a championship record 28 points in the final.

Wade Trophy winner Daedra Charles added 19 points and 12 boards for Tennessee and joined Head on the All-Championship Team. Tennessee's effort was also aided by the play of Lisa Harrison, who poured in eight points and 13 boards.

With the victory, the Lady Volunteers kept their streak of odd-year championships going. Tennessee also won national titles in 1987 and 1989.

1996 National Champions

It seemed only fitting that the Lady Vols would win another NCAA crown in the "Queen City" of Charlotte, N.C. And it was equally fitting that the Lady Vols' fourth NCAA title would come over a fierce SEC rival in the Georgia Lady Bulldogs, 83-65.

After the emotionally draining overtime win versus Connecticut, the skeptics wondered if UT would have enough emotional energy left for the title game. They did...and then some. Although Georgia held a modest three point lead early in the game and led by two with 14:11 to go in the first half, it would be their only lead in the title contest. UT senior Latina Davis put the handcuffs on Player of the Year Saudia Roundtree in the first half as the Lady Vols grabbed an early nine point lead, 28-19 with 7:36 to go in the first half. Georgia recovered to trail by just five at the half, 42-37.

In the first three minutes of the second half, UT took off and never looked back. Abby Conklin's trey (her first of four) with 14:55 left gave UT a 16-point lead, 57-41. Davis upped the ante to a 21 point lead with 2:25 showing, 81-60. The celebrating started early as the Final Four MVP, Michelle Marciniak, and All-Tournament Team members Chamique Holdsclaw and Tiffani Johnson left the game to wildly cheering fans. Davis, who held Roundtree to 17 points below her average, was UT's quiet heroine.

On the night, Holdsclaw and Johnson tallied 16 points to lead UT, while Conklin added 14 points, Pashen Thompson a dozen, and Marciniak 10 in the final game of her career.

1997 National Champions

No team had ever won the NCAA championship coming in with more than six losses. But proving that it's wise to save your best for last, Tennessee took its fifth NCAA championship and second straight title with a 68-59 win over Old Dominion despite entering the tournament with a 23-10 record.

"Of all our runs to a championship, this one is really the most unexpected," said coach Pat Summitt. "It came from a team with tremendous heart and desire."

Tennessee took control quickly at the start of the title game, jumping out to a 20-8 lead. By halftime, the Lady Vols still had a comfortable lead, 34-22.

In the second half, Old Dominion clawed its way back, taking its first lead at 44-43 with 9:06 left in the game. The Lady Monarchs extended the lead to two, 49-47, before Chamique Holdsclaw led the Lady Vols on a 12-2 run to put the game away for Tennessee.

Holdsclaw was a unanimous choice as the most outstanding player, as she poured in 24 points and seven rebounds. Six of her points came during the decisive run at the end of the game. Joining Holdsclaw on the All-Championship team was Kellie Jolly, who only scored five points, but set a championship record with 11 assists in the final game and a Final Four record with 20.

With the win, the Lady Vols earned their fifth national title, played in their seventh championship game and became only the second team to win consecutive championships. (Southern Cal., 1983 and 1984).

1998 National Champions

The 1998 Tennessee Lady Vols will be remembered as history-makers. A perfect 39-0 record and the most wins ever in women's collegiate basketball... an NCAA unprecedented three consecutive titles... and the systematic blowout night-after-night of the opposition.

When the team finally reached the NCAA title game against a dear old rival in Louisiana Tech, the contest started out tight with UT taking an 8-6 lead. Then "the greatest team ever to play the game," according to Louisiana Tech head coach Leon Barmore, exploded out to a 34-11 run over the next seven minutes. The points were coming in bunches to the tune of 63% field goal accuracy as these Lady Vols were on a mission.

By the halftime break, Tennessee led 55-32 and had registered an NCAA record for the most points scored in a half at the Final Four. Leading the way for UT in game 39 were the Three Meeks – MVP Chamique Holdsclaw, Tamika Catchings and Semeka Randall—who collectively tallied 62 points and 25 rebounds in the Lady Vols' 93-75 victory.

Holdsclaw, who scored 25 points and grabbed 10 rebounds, won the top player honors in the final game. She was joined on the All-Tournament Team by Catchings, who recorded 27 points in her first title game, and an honorary "Meek", Kellie Jolly, who added a career-high 20 points.

With the win, the Lady Vols earned their sixth national title, played in their eighth championship game and became the first team to win three consecutive NCAA titles.

2007 National Champions

On April 3, 2007, the Tennessee Lady Vols captured an elusive seventh national title, beating Rutgers to the ball for second and third shots in a 59-46 win to reclaim their customary place above all other programs.

Parker scored 17 points to lead her squad to a 34-3 final record, but the tournament's most outstanding player got plenty of help from Shannon Bobbitt who scored 13 points — nine of them on three treys in a lightning-quick span in the second half — and Nicky Anosike had 16 rebounds for the Lady Vols, who had 24 offensive boards.

After building a 16-point lead and then holding off a late push by Rutgers, the Lady Vols could finally celebrate, dribbling out the final 30 seconds under the Rutgers basket until Tennessee's players, some in tears, danced at midcourt as orange, blue and gold confetti fell from above.

"To win anything you have to be a tight team," Summitt said. "They believed in each other and they all had one goal, to be here in Cleveland and cut down the nets. I'm real, real proud of this team."

A three-pointer by Rutgers ended a 7-0 UT run that brought the Scarlet Knights to 50-42, but Parker made six straight free throws in 37 seconds to make it 56-44 with 1:08 left. As she went down the floor, Parker looked at the bench where senior Sidney Spencer was crying, knowing all the hard work during the offseason would end the best way possible.

The 2007 NCAA tournament ended the same way it has nearly one-third of the time since it started — with Tennessee setting up ladders to cut down the nets.

2008 National Champions

On April 8, 2008, the "under-rated" Tennessee Lady Vols captured their eighth national title, defeating Stanford 64-48. Incredible defensive pressure by UT forced 25 Cardinal turnovers which the Big Orange converted into 26 points.

"They came out with a great mentality to play hard, especially on the defensive end," Pat Summitt said. "On offense, we got more people involved, but it was our defense that got it done."

Tennessee standout Candace Parker, despite playing with a dislocated shoulder, scored 17 points and grabbed nine rebounds to help the Lady Vols capture their second straight championship, but unlike earlier games in the tournament when she had to carry the Lady Vols, her supporting cast came through. Shannon Bobbitt scored 13 points and Nicky Anosike added 12 points, eight rebounds and six steals for the Lady Vols. Freshman Vicki Baugh had eight points before tearing her ACL in the second half.

Bobbitt scored all of her points in the first half as the Lady Vols jumped out to a 37-29 advantage. Trailing by one early, Tennessee used a 13-4 run to take a 17-9 lead midway through the half. Bobbitt hit two three-pointers and made a nifty layup to cap the spurt. The teams traded baskets before two free throws by Bobbitt gave the Lady Vols a 35-25 lead - their biggest of the half.

Parker didn't shoot nearly as many jumpers as usual, instead taking the ball to the basket on an array of moves. She converted one steal in the second half into a pretty layup that gave the Lady Vols a 10-point advantage. She then followed it up with a three-point play on a driving layup. The Cardinal, who had a season low for points, would get no closer than eight the rest of the way. With the game in hand and a minute left, Parker went to the Tennessee bench for the final time, holding up four fingers on each hand to signify the eight titles the Lady Vols have won.

"One is disputable, but two, you can't stumble onto two national championships, so we're pretty good," Parker said.

SPECIAL CONSIDERATION

Senior transfer All-Americans and Olympians Patricia Roberts and Jill Rankin played for the Lady Vols during their senior year only. Though they didn't or haven't become 1,000-point scorers at UT, their career marks are some of the nation's all-time bests.

MEDIA POLICIES

"MASK UP" IN THE ARENA

Due to continuing COVID protocols, media members covering Lady Vol basketball are asked to wear a protective mask in Thompson-Boling Arena while in the media room, press row, photo box and all working areas. Failure to abide could result in reduction of in-person media access.

NO COURT ACCESS

Due to continuing COVID protocols, media may not access the playing area at anytime before or during the game or until the arena has cleared. Failure to abide could result in elimination of access to the court level.

COVERING PRACTICE

Please contact Eric Trainer at the Media Relations Office at least a week in advance to arrange player or coach feature interviews. If you plan to cover an open practice session, please contact the Media Relations Office on a daily basis to check about changes in the schedule.

PLAYER AND COACH INTERVIEWS

Media wishing to interview coaches or players are encouraged to set up interviews in advance with the Media Relations Office. Generally, the best time to conduct an interview is on a designated day with an open portion of practice and pre-practice media opportunity. The Media Relations Office will help with all requests.

MEDIA CREDENTIALS

Media outlets interested in obtaining credentials to cover Lady Vol basketball home games must apply for those online via Sports Systems. To apply, please visit: http://www.sportssystems.com/seccredentials. Applications for single-game credentials should be submitted five days prior to a game. Once you receive your approval letter via email, you will be provided options for credential pick-up.

PHOTOGRAPHER CREDENTIALS

Credentials will be issued only to accredited photographers or those individuals on special assignment. During regular season games, work area includes the floor area at both ends of the court opposite the team benches. Special arrangements for strobes or catwalk access must be made through the Media Relations and Arena Management Offices no later than one week in advance of the game. UT's arena security policy requires that all photographers placing strobes will go through a screening process and must be accompanied by a UT police officer or representative when placing strobes.

THE SEC MEDIA POLICY

By acceptance and use of an SEC media credential, the holder agrees to the following conditions for any and all athletic events hosted by the SEC and its member institutions:

1. The SEC and its member institutions grant a media organization a limited license to use certain gathered information on the media organization's own Internet or online site beginning at the start of an athletic event and up to the conclusion of such event, all subject to the following limitations and conditions:

(a) No more than 10 still photographs may be used for news coverage of the game and other editorial purposes during the event.

(b) Video may only be shown as part of a single, non-archived, online "simulcast" of a television station's regularly-scheduled news program.

(c) While a game is in progress, the use of textual statistical information is time-delayed and limited in amount (e.g., updates pertaining to score, injuries and national, conference or institutional record-breaking performances, a condensed half-time story) so that an organization's Internet or online game coverage does not undercut the authorized and rights-paying fee organization's rights to play-by-play accounts of the game and/or exclusivity as to such rights.

2. Any proposed media use on an Internet or online site of the game information that is more detailed and/or more than described above will require separate written authorization by the SEC and/or its member institutions. However, such written authorization will not permit the use of game information in entertainment contexts and will not authorize game coverage that, due to immediacy or detail, constitutes or approaches a play-by-play account of a game.

3. Should any of these conditions be breached, the SEC and/or its member institutions will issue a written warning for the first violation. If this violation occurs during the last game of the institutions' regularly-scheduled season, the media organization may not be credentialed for the SEC Tournament. A second violation of this policy will result in revocation of credentials to cover future basketball games hosted by the SEC and/or its member institutions.

MEDIA PARKING MEDIA ENTRANCE

Parking space will once again be available in the G-10 garage at the east end of the arena. Media must request parking access along with credential needs via SportsSystems and will need to show I.D. to the attendant in order to proceed into the G-10 garage entrance along Phillip Fulmer Way.

MEDIA ENTRANCE

The media entrance is once again located just west of the G-10 garage, below the east end arena overhang at loading dock level. Please be advised that everyone must proceed through metal detector, have their I.D. to enter Thompson-Boling Arena and is subject to having their bags checked. Please wear a mask once you enter this area.

PRESS ROW

Press row is located in the lower level southeast corner of the arena behind the baseline nearest the G-10 garage. Only accredited media will be allowed in this area. Children and other family members are not permitted on press row.

MEDIA ROOM SERVICES

The media room is on the east end of the arena. Soft drinks (decision about pregame meal TBD) will be offered just outside the media room in a curtained area. Postgame interviews will be conducted in the media room, and the working press has numerous electrical outlets and wireless internet available. Wireless internet also is available courtside. If you choose to install a phone line on press row, please contact UT Telephone Services at (865) 974-3121.

STATISTICAL SERVICES

Services provided include statistics generated from the Genius Sports computer statistics program. Statistics can be accessed via laptop or iPad. Hard copies of halftime stats, final stats and play-by-play highlights at the end of each half also will be available. Coaches' quotes will be available online following the post-game interview sessions.

To access up-to-date stats during a game, visit UTstats.com for a live feed.

POSTGAME INTERVIEWS

A formal post-game press conference will be held by the Lady Vols in the media room following each game. The media will be solicited for player names with five minutes left in the game. Select UT players will come to the media room, followed shortly afterward by head coach Kellie Harper. Risers for television cameras and a distribution box will be available in the back of the area. In 2021-22, the visiting team will continue to hold a Zoom press conference from its own locker room.

RADIO

Requests to broadcast must be made in writing at the earliest possible date to receive permission. Stations are responsible for contacting Glenn Thackston at IMG/Lady Vol Network in Knoxville for use of the phone lines in Thompson-Boling Arena. Mr. Thackston can be reached during business hours at (865) 212-3570. The radio broadcast location is on the floor level at the main scorer's table.

TELEVISION GAMES

Thompson-Boling Arena permits the inside parking of television tractor-trailer units and offers secure parking adjacent to the arena for satellite uplink units. Personnel from Arena Management, including electricians, are available to meet arriving trucks in advance of the game. Please notify the Media Relations Office of your arrival plans for television games.

UTSPORTS.COM

UTSports.com is the official online home for Tennessee Athletics. Here, one can find schedules, results, rosters, player bios and stats. There is unique content including photo galleries of events, behind-the-scenes features, video highlights and features, video interviews with players and coaches, as well as the latest news on every team on campus.

UTSports.com features links to game video being provided by SEC Network+, WatchESPN and other entities. By using the live (Sidearm Stats) stats link, fans can also follow the action online and stay updated on general statistics and trends.

LADY VOL NETWORK

For more than 60 years the Vol Network has served as the main communications link between the University of Tennessee and its fans. Learfield / Vol Network / Lady Vol Network manages the multi-media and marketing rights to University of Tennessee Athletics. Learfield is recognized as the world's premier sports, entertainment and media company. With 50 radio affiliates and statewide coverage, the Vol Network boasts one of the largest collegiate basketball networks in the country. The Kellie Harper Television Show, which begins in early January and runs weekly during basketball season is shown on network television stations across the state in all five major Tennessee television markets.

LADY VOL BASKETBALL PROGRAMMING

The Tennessee Lady Vols first found a home on the radio during the 1977-78 season. At that time, a handful of games were aired with John Ward, former play-by-play guru of UT football and men's basketball, handling the microphone.

The flagship station of the University of Tennessee Lady Vol basketball broadcasts is Sports Radio WNML (990 AM and 99.1 FM) in Knoxville, Tenn. This will mark the 45th year of Lady Vol games on the air. The Lady Vol Network, with affiliates across the state, is the largest women's basketball radio network in the country. For more information about joining the Lady Vol Network, contact Glenn Thackston at Learfield/Vol Network: (865) 212-3570.

Additionally, Lady Vol basketball games will again find a home on the Internet at www.utsports.com, as fans worldwide will be able to access the broadcasts. For more info., visit the Live Audio/Video section under the Fans tab.

Calling the play-by-play action again this season will be 2021 Greater Knoxville Sports Hall of Fame inductee Mickey Dearstone, who is in his 23rd season calling the games full-time. Dearstone took over full-time play-by-play duties from Bob Kesling after the 1998-99 season.

THE KELLIE HARPER SHOW

The Kellie Harper TV Show takes Tennessee fans inside the workings of the winningest program in women's basketball. This entertaining 30-minute television show is hosted by head coach Kellie Harper and the Lady Vol Network's Mickey Dearstone. The show includes game highlights, exclusive behind-the-scenes player and team features as well as a scouting report for the upcoming week in Lady Vol basketball.

The show airs for nine consecutive weeks during basketball season and is shown in Knoxville on WVLT (Saturday, 11:30 a.m.) and WBXX (Sunday, 12:30 p.m.), in Chattanooga on WTVC-TV (Saturday, 12:30 p.m.), in Nashville on WUXP (Saturday, 11:30 a.m.) and in the Tri-Cities on ABC Tri-Cities (Saturday, 12:30 p.m.). All times are local. Stations and times are subject to change. Check local listings for The Kellie Harper TV Show in your area.

Mickey Dearstone is the "Voice of the Lady Vols."

SEC ON THE WEB: For all you need to know about the Southeastern Conference and its member schools, access the SEC Web Page at www.SECSports.com. The site contains team information, scores, conference standings and statistics, awards recipients, history and records, feature stories, television information on conference events, details about tickets to SEC events, SEC merchandise and much, much more.

WEEKLY HONORS: The SEC will name a Player and Freshman of the Week each week throughout the regular season. Each week's selections will be released late Tuesday morning and also will be announced in the league's weekly release. The league women's basketball sports information directors make nominations for the award each week.

SEC HISTORY: The Southeastern Conference was formed Dec. 8-9, 1932, and included 13 schools at the time: Alabama, Auburn, Florida, Georgia, Georgia Tech, Kentucky, LSU, Ole Miss, Mississippi State, Sewanee, Tennessee, Tulane, and Vanderbilt. The league's first president was Frank L. McVey of Kentucky. Due to the continually increasing amount of work administering the league, the office of Commissioner was established by its member institutions in 1940. Former Mississippi governor Martin Conner was named as the first commissioner, a post he held until 1948. Following Conner were Bernie Moore (1948-66), A.M. Coleman (1966-72), Dr. Boyd McWhorter (1972-86), Dr. Harvey Schiller (1986-90), Roy Kramer (1990-2002), and Mike Slive (2002-2015). Greg Sankey is currently Commissioner of the Southeastern Conference and its 14 member institutions.

The first SEC champions were crowned in 1933 in baseball, basketball, football and outdoor track. Cross country, golf, swimming, tennis and indoor track were added later. The SEC began recognizing women's championships during the 1979-80 academic year. The conference office officially took over regulation of women's athletics on Sept. 1, 1984.

The SEC currently regulates nine men's sports and twelve women's sports. Baseball, basketball, football, golf, swimming and diving, tennis and track (indoor, outdoor, and cross country) are currently sanctioned for men. The women's sports are basketball, equestrian, golf, gymnastics, soccer, softball, swimming and diving, tennis, track (indoor, outdoor, and cross country) and volleyball.

SEC WOMEN'S HOOPS BY THE NUMBERS

With nine national championships, 12 runner-up finishes, a nation-leading 39 Final Four appearances and 153 first-team All-America honors, the Southeastern Conference stands firmly as the nation's premier intercollegiate women's basketball conference.

The SEC has posted impressive non-conference records in the last decade. The SEC compiled a 95-25 (.792) non-conference record during the 2020-21 season.

Since the 1990 season, the SEC has compiled a 4446-1345 (.768) record against other conferences. The league has recorded 150+ wins during 13 seasons and has never recorded a non-conference winning percentage below .703.

SEC teams have earned appearances in 29 of 39 NCAA Final Fours, an accomplishment unmatched by any other league. The next closest is the Big East with 23.

Overall, SEC squads have filled 39 of the 156 Final Four berths, including having two Final Four teams in 1988 (Auburn, Tennessee), 1989 (Auburn, Tennessee), 1995 (Georgia, Tennessee), 1996 (Georgia, Tennessee), 1998 (Arkansas, Tennessee), 2004 (LSU, Tennessee), 2005 (LSU, Tennessee), 2007 (LSU, Tennessee), 2008 (LSU, Tennessee), 2017 (Mississippi State, South Carolina).

SEC teams have made 21 appearances in a nation-high 18 NCAA Championship games, winning nine NCAA Championships (Tennessee: 1987, 1989, 1991, 1996, 1997, 1998, 2007, 2008); South Carolina (2017).

The league also had the distinction of providing both national finalists three times in its history in 1996 (Tennessee 83, Georgia 65); 1989 (Tennessee 76, Auburn 60) and 2017 (South Carolina 67, Mississippi State 55).

SEC teams have won 441 NCAA Tournament games against 236 losses (.661) for an average of 11.3 NCAA wins per year. In addition, all 14 current members have made appearances in the NCAA Tournament.

The SEC has led or shared the pack in NCAA tournament bids 25 times in its 39-year history.

SEC WEBSITE

The SEC has an extensive online presence at SECSports.com. The SEC offers a media-only section of the website (SECsportsmedia.com). Media covering the SEC can retrieve information from the conference office as well as the 14 SEC institutions from the media site. A championship credentialing system is also available on the site.

SEC NETWORK

Already the most competitive and visible conference in college sports, the SEC debuted its brand-new television network, in partnership with ESPN, on Aug. 14, 2014. The SEC Network reached more than 90 million homes coast to coast at its inception, making it the largest launch of a cable network ever.

The Southeastern Conference had nine teams earn bids to the 2016 NCAA Division I Women's Basketball Championship. This was the most SEC teams to receive bids to the NCAA tournament in conference history and the second time in NCAA history that one conference has sent nine teams to the tournament. The Big East did so in 2011.

Until 2004, the SEC was the only conference to ever have eight teams receive NCAA bids. The league achieved that feat five times, in 1999, 2002, 2012, 2014 and 2017.

The SEC was also the first league to ever have seven teams invited to the NCAA Tournament and earned this honor a leading 13 times (1986, 1991, 1995, 1996, 1997, 2003, 2004, 2009, 2013, 2014, 2018, 2019, 2021).

The SEC is one of a handful of leagues to have won three national tournament titles with nine NCAA, two WNIT and four NWIT. Along with the nine NCAA championships; Arkansas (1999) and Auburn (2003) captured Women's NIT titles. But the first-ever SEC national title belongs to Georgia, winners of the 1981 NWIT which predates the current WNIT tournament. Vanderbilt (1984), LSU (1985) and Kentucky (1990) also won NWIT titles. As members of their previous conferences Arkansas (1987), South Carolina (1979) and Texas A&M (1995) won the WNIT, while Texas A&M (2011) won the NCAA title prior to joining the SEC.

The SEC has had 73 student-athletes named as a First-Team All-America selection. Those 73 have been named a total of 128 times since the 1982-83 season (first year of SEC sponsorship).

The Southeastern Conference had 23 former student-athletes make 2021 WNBA opening day rosters. The SEC has had a first round pick every year except one (2014).

In this year's WNBA draft, a total of nine SEC women's basketball players were taken. Since the inaugural WNBA draft in 1997, the SEC has had 172 former players drafted for the professional league, including six No. 1 picks.

Five WNBA MVPs (Candace Parker: 2008, 2013; Tamika Catchings: 2011; Sylvia Fowles: 2017; A'ja Wilson: 2020) and six WNBA Tournament MVPs hail from the SEC (Deanna Nolan: 2006; Seimone Augustus: 2011; Tamika Catchings: 2012; Sylvia Fowles: 2015, 2017; Candace Parker: 2016).

SEC schools have produced 45 Team USA Olympians since 1976, with 41 coming since the SEC began sponsoring women's basketball.

MEDIA INFORMATION

The media credential system for the 2022 SEC Tournament will be available online from early January until late February. Go to www.SECsportsmedia.com for the online credentialing system.

For further information concerning media coverage of the 2022 SEC Tournament, please contact the SEC Communications Department.

TOURNAMENT INFORMATION

On Feb. 7, 1980, the first SEC women's basketball tournament began play. It ended four days later with Tennessee defeating Ole Miss for the title. Fast forward 38 years later and the SEC Tournament is still enjoying success and increased popularity.

Beginning with its inception and through 1986, the tournament was held at campus sites. The tournament was then sent to Albany, Ga., which served as the site for six years from 1987-92. The tournament then moved to Chattanooga, Tenn., where it was held from 1993-2000, with the exception of 1998 when the tournament moved to Columbus, Ga.

Since 2001 the tournament has enjoyed many new sites, including Memphis (2001), Nashville (2002, 2004, 2008, 2011, 2012, 2018, 2022), Little Rock, Ark. (2003, 2006, 2009, 2015), Greenville, S.C. (2005, 2017, 2019, 2020, 2021), Duluth, Ga. (2007, 2010, 2013, 2014) and Jacksonville, Fla. (2016).

The winner of the 13-game tournament will receive the league's automatic bid to the NCAA Tournament. The tournament seeds and conference champion will be determined by the 16-game regular-season SEC schedule.
